The Eternal Day.

Awake, ye saints, and raise your eyes,
And raise your voices high;
Awake, and praise that sovereign love
That shows salvation nigh.

Swift on the wings of time it flies;
Each moment brings it near;
Then welcome each declining day,
Welcome each closing year.

Not many years their round shall run,
Not many mornings rise,
Ere all its glories stand revealed
To our admiring eyes.

Ye wheels of nature, speed your course!
Ye mortal powers, decay!
Haste! till the last glad morning rise
That brings eternal day.

A SINGLE step, and again a step,
Until by safe degrees
The milestones passed, we win at last
Home, when the King shall please.
And the strangest thing is often this,
That the briery, tangled spots
Which cumber our feet, should be thick and sweet
With our Lord's forget-me-nots.

A STATISTICAL REVIEW.

THE first Seventh-day Adventist Year Book was issued in 1883. From that time to 1894 a yearly publication was issued, constantly increasing in size with the growth of the denomination.

Since 1894, instead of issuing a Year Book, the denominational statistics and directories of Conferences, organizations, institutions, and laborers have been published in the General Conference Bulletin. It has been thought advisable to issue the directory in year-book form, as being more convenient in use. These directories have become almost a necessity with many, and are a great convenience to all who desire reliable information regarding the features of our work which are covered by the reports.

A brief glance at the main features of our denominational statistics for the past twenty years may be of interest in this connection.

In 1882 (being the first year when denominational statistics were collected and published), there were twenty-six organized Conferences, and six mission fields. All but two of these Conferences were in the United States; these two were Sweden and Denmark. The missions were located as follows: Central Europe, England, the Southern field, Nevada, Norway, and Virginia. Connected with these missions were thirteen laborers, and twenty-seven churches.

Ten years later, in 1892, there were thirty-four organized Conferences, seven of which were outside the United States. Eleven missions were then in operation, in the following-named countries: Central America, West Indies, South America, Russia, Germany, Polynesia, England, Montana, Oklahoma, in the South, and in the Maritime Provinces. In connection with these mission fields were thirty laborers and sixty-two churches.

Another ten years, or 1902, records the organization of seventy-two local Conferences, fourteen Union Conferences, and the establishment of forty-two missions. These were distributed as follows: Local Conferences in North America, forty-nine; outside of North America, twenty-three; Union Conferences in America, eight; in other countries, six; mission fields in America, including Alaska, Hawaii, and Newfoundland, five; missions outside of America, thirty-seven. These were located as follows: Twelve in Europe; four in Africa; three in Asia; two in South America; two in South Africa; and the remainder in Central America, Mexico, West Indies, and the Pacific Islands. Connected with these missions were sixty-seven ordained and licensed ministers and one hundred and thirty-one churches.

The growth seen in this line is about in proportion to the progress the work has made in other lines. The following table will illustrate the development made in the leading features of the work, from which it will be seen that the most rapid growth made is in the establishment of missions. For the time covered by the report, they have increased every five years at an average rate of 80 per cent, or an average of 16 per cent increase for each year. The increase of funds stands next, with an average rate of 71 per cent. The average per cent of gain for all items is 55, or a gain of 11 per cent for each year.

Table Showing Growth of the Seventh-day Adventist Denomination by Five-year Periods, 1882 to 1902.

Year.	Conferences.	Missions.	Ministers.	Licentiates.	Churches.	Members.	Tithe.
1882	26	6	167	134	660	17,169	$ 84,261.00
1887	28	3	213	166	798	23,111	146,936.78
1892	34	11	244	156	1,574	33,778	302,310.19
1897	38	28	407	149	1,102	56,436	363,415.16
1902	72	42	553	323	2,077	73,533	643,747.83

Still greater has been the growth of institutional work. In 1882 there were three educational institutions, two having been established during that year, and one, Battle Creek College, in 1874. Twenty years later there were nine colleges and academies in America, and five in other countries; and of intermediate schools, in America, fourteen; in other countries, five.

While in 1882 there were but two publishing houses in operation, at the present time there are nine offices and branches in the United States, and eleven in other countries. Publications are now issued in thirty-nine languages, in the form of eighty-seven weekly and monthly periodicals, 235 bound books, 180 pamphlets, and 760 tracts. These books, pamphlets, and tracts have a total of 100,000 pages.

In 1882 there were two sanitariums under denominational auspices. At the present time there are thirty-five in the United States, sixteen in other countries, besides a large number of treatment rooms, cafés, city missions, dispensaries, benevolent institutions, etc., in the larger cities of this and other countries.

ONWARD.

Time, thou speedest on but slowly;
Hours, how tardy is your pace!
Ere with Him, the high and holy,
I hold converse face to face.
Here is naught but care and mourning;
Comes a joy, it will not stay;
Fairly shines the sun at dawning,
Night will soon o'ercloud the day.

Onward then! not long I wander
Ere my Saviour comes for me,
And with him abiding yonder,
All his glory I shall see.
O, the music and the singing
Of the hosts redeemed by love!
O, the hallelujahs ringing
Through the halls of light above!

How long, O Lord our Saviour,
 Wilt thou remain away?
 Our hearts are growing weary
 Of thy so long delay.
 O when shall come the moment,
 When, brighter far than morn,
 The sunshine of thy glory
 Shall on thy people dawn?

WE DEPEND UPON THE “Review.”

THE following good words from one of our workers in a foreign field, although not intended for publication, fairly represent how our people feel concerning the Review and its work:—

“I wish to tell you how much we appreciate the good old Review and Herald. It seems to me that no person in or out of this message can read it without being thrilled by the Spirit of truth and power that pervades every line. Why, every one of those first-page illustrations is a gospel sermon, full of eloquence and power. By all means, continue them. Surely, God has blessed the Review staff. Fires, moves, and other bewildering experiences have not been able to displace a number. This is the finger of God.

“Our hearts are thrilled and solemnized as we realize that the headquarters of this message are now established in the most important place on earth. This simply means that the last battle of the great controversy will soon be fought, and final, eternal victory achieved. You may be sure we take the keenest interest in the unfolding of events over there; and we depend upon the Review to keep us reliably posted concerning the world-wide work. May the Lord continue to lead you to his glory, is the earnest prayer and expectation of your fellow servant.”
