*For convenient reference, the business of the session has been classified, instead of preserving the daily order. Generally, however, the date of adoption follows each item. All motions, resolutions, and reports appear in the form in which they were finally adopted, amended passages being either explained in brackets or indicated by italics. No "dead" business appears anywhere in this book. Adopted items which did not originate with the committee in whose report they appear, are placed there for the sake of classification. The origin of such is given, if known.

COMMITTEE ON CREDENTIALS OF DELEGATES.

Committee: E. H. Gates, Allen Moon, and A. O. Tait. They reported [Oct. 20] as follows: —

1. Your Committee on Credentials of Delegates would recommend that D. T. Fero receive credentials as a member of this General Conference to represent Montana.

2. Your committee would also be glad to recommend that Brother J. Vuilleumier of the Central European Conference receive credentials, but are prevented from doing so by the General Conference Constitution, which declares, Article III. that "the Executive Committee are authorized to issue credentials to such ministers as are delegates to the Conference."

Brother Vuilleumier not being a minister is thus cut off from receiving credentials. [The Constitution was amended, and both were admitted.]

COMMITTEE ON RESOLUTIONS.

This committee, consisting of E. W. Farnsworth, U. Smith, E. J. Waggoner, J. E. Robinson, and W. S. Hyatt, reported during the session as follows: —

Gratitude to God for Prosperity.

Whereas, A goodly number of delegates are permitted to come together in this twenty-eighth annual session of the General Conference, from many fields of labor, and it becomes us first of all, to render a tribute of praise to God for his favor and loving-kindness manifested toward us; therefore, —

1. Resolved, That we acknowledge, with gratitude of heart, his prospering hand in our work the past year, as manifested in the success which has attended the preached word; in the multiplication of believers; in the strengthening of the ministry in numbers and efficiency; in the wide circulation of our printed literature, especially by means of the canvasser; in the prominence given to the cause of Sabbath reform through the efforts now being made in State legislatures and the national Congress to pass laws which will bring about a fulfillment of Rev. 13: 14-17; in the enlarged work of our tract societies; in the marked interest attending our camp-meetings; in the prosperity of our educational institutions; in the success of our missions, both at home and abroad; and in the enlargement of the field by the organization of two new Conferences. For all these mercies we thank and praise his great and holy name; and we will endeavor to show our thankfulness by renewed consecration to his service. [Oct. 21.]

Mourning and Sympathy.

Whereas, The Lord of the harvest has suffered to fall at his post one of the pioneers in the cause of the third angel's message, and a prominent and efficient laborer, J. H. Waggoner, who died in Basel, Switzerland, April 17, 1889, in the midst of some of his most important labors; therefore, —

2. Resolved, That, while we deplore the loss of our esteemed fellow-laborer, and shall miss the able products of his pen in behalf of the truth, we bow in submission to the divine will which has removed him from us.

3. Resolved, That we tender to his family our sincere sympathy in their sore bereavement. [Oct. 21.]

Whereas, Our beloved brother, J. E. Swift, has fallen in death in the midst of a career of activity and usefulness in the cause of God; therefore, —

4. Resolved, That while we mourn his untimely departure, we recognize the fact that God doth all things well, and that in love and kindness he giveth his beloved sleep.

5. Resolved, That we hereby tender our heart-felt sympathy to the bereaved companion and relatives of our brother; and while human sympathy is powerless, we commend them to Him in whose love there is healing, who doth not afflict willingly nor grieve the children of men, but who causes all things to work together for good to them that love him.

6. Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this Conference, and that a copy of the same be furnished to Sister Swift. [Oct. 25.]

Whereas, Elder A. J. Cudney was selected to visit the brethren in Pitcairn Island, to complete the organization of a church there, and left Honolulu, H. I., on the ship Phoebe Chapman, for that purpose, July 31, 1888; and, —

Whereas, Nothing has been heard from him since that time; therefore, —

7. Resolved, That we hereby express the sense of pain we feel over the suspense arising from this lack of tidings, and the uncertainty that hangs over his fate.

8. Resolved, That we will use due diligence to secure, if possible, some tidings concerning him after his departure from Honolulu.

9. Resolved, That we tender to his family our sympathy in their afflicting circumstances. [Nov. 5.]

Branch Publishing Offices.

Whereas, The Review and Herald stockholders have voted to establish branch offices in both the northwest and southwest sections of this country; therefore, —

10. Your committee would suggest that the matter of starting a publishing business by Brethren Roberson and Huguley in the Southern States be referred to the Pacific Press and the Review and Herald publishing boards, in connection with the General Conference Committee, to recommend to these brethren such measures as may appear best to them.

Whereas, The General Conference at its last session recommended the establishment by the Review and Herald Office of a branch office in London, to meet the demands of the cause in the British field; and, —

Whereas, The Review and Herald requested the Pacific Press to occupy that field; therefore, —

11. Resolved, That we indorse the action of the Pacific Press in establishing a branch office in London. [Oct. 31.]

The American Sentinel.

Whereas, In the order of God, the American Sentinel has been established to watch the workings of the movement to secure religious legislation, and to give warning of its influence and progress, and of the dangers accompanying it; and, —

Whereas, Testimony No. 33 has spoken directly of "the American Sentinel and its mission," saying, "the Sentinel is like a trumpet giving a certain sound; and all our people should read it carefully, and then send it to some relative or friend, thus putting to the best use the light God has given them;" and, "Let every worker for God comprehend the situation, and place the Sentinel before our churches, explaining its contents, and urging home the facts and warnings it contains;" therefore, —

12. Resolved, That we urge our brethren to give careful attention to this important matter, and accordingly to give the American Sentinel the widest possible circulation that may be given by the means and facilities which are or may be placed in our hands.

Whereas, The rapid growth of the movement in favor of a national Sunday law and religious legislation in general, and the new phases and developments which the work is continually assuming, make it necessary that opposition to it should be conducted as near as possible to the head-quarters of the work, and where information can most readily be furnished to the people; therefore, —

13. Resolved, That we heartily approve the action of the Pacific Press in taking steps to issue the American Sentinel from its New York office. [Oct. 31.]

Canvassing Work.

Whereas, The canvassing work has assumed such magnitude that it is impossible for the general canvassing agent to render the assistance and give the instruction that is needed in all the States; and, —

Whereas, This work has resulted not only in developing workers who have been made useful in other branches of General Conference work, but also in bringing in a large increase of tithe; therefore, —

14. Resolved, That we grant the request of the International Tract Society, to provide for the support of a district canvassing agent in each of the General Conference districts. [Nov. 5.]

International Sabbath-School Association.

Whereas, The work of the International Sabbath-school Association has become so extended as to require the undivided time of some of our most faithful laborers; and, —

Whereas, The General Conference has in the past three years received substantial benefit from it to the amount of $32,537 in pushing its missionary enterprises; therefore, —

15. Resolved, That we grant the International Sabbath-school Association its request for three laborers, in harmony with the resolution upon that point, passed by the said Association at its present session. [Oct. 31.]

Transfer of Battle Creek Church to General Conference.

In view of the fact that the Battle Creek church is composed of persons largely drawn together by our institutions of a general character belonging to the denomination, and in view of the great importance these institutions sustain to the general cause, also the need of more thoroughly organized aid in the Battle Creek church; therefore, —

16. Resolved, That it is the sense of this Conference that a transfer of the church and territory included in the city of Battle Creek to the jurisdiction of the General Conference would be a good plan; and further, we invite the Battle Creek church and the Michigan Conference to take this matter under favorable consideration. [Nov. 5.]

North Dakota.

17. Resolved, That we recommend that steps be taken to organize a Conference in the State of North Dakota as soon as the General Conference Committee may think best.

Vote of Thanks.

18. Resolved, That we express our thanks to the Review and Herald Board for providing commodious and well-furnished office rooms for the Secretary of this Conference, and for the Assistant Secretary and the Treasurer of the General Conference Association.

COMMITTEE ON HOME MISSIONS.

Members of committee: R. M. Kilgore, C. H. Jones, H. Shultz, G. B. Starr, J. B. Goodrich, L. C. Chadwick, D. T. Jones. They reported as follows:—

Book Adapted for Youth.

Whereas, There is an apparent need for a book written in an attractive style, profusely illustrated and handsomely bound, for youth,—

1. We recommend, That the General Conference secure the preparation of such a book at the earliest possible date; and further, we recommend that this book contain as nearly as possible a synopsis of the Bible doctrines especially applicable at this time.

Blanks for City Mission Reports.

We advise that the blanks for City Mission reports be simplified, and that only such items be retained or added as pertain especially to city work; and, further,—

2. We recommend, That Geo. B. Starr, Miss M. L. Huntley, and L. C. Chadwick be a committee to make such changes, and to prepare copy for the printers.

Selecting and Encouraging Intelligent Helpers.

3. We would recommend, That especial attention be given in the various States to seeking out intelligent ladies, and encouraging them to gain an experience in the Bible work, and as secretaries in the missionary work.

Use of Word "Mission."

4. It seems to us that the word mission as connected with our city work, does not properly represent us in the minds of the people; and we recommend that its use be discontinued. [Oct. 27.]

COMMITTEE ON FOREIGN MISSIONS.

The committee appointed to consider this subject,—W. C. White, D. A. Robinson, A. R. Henry, W. C. Sisley, and W. H. Edwards,—presented the following report:—

Your committee on foreign missions find,—

1. That in New Zealand, an efficient preacher is needed in addition to the laborers already in that field.
2. That two additional laborers are greatly needed in Australia.
3. That an able and experienced editor is needed in London, and six more Bible workers and two preachers for the work in Great Britain.
4. That in Germany there is a call for two more preachers; and for Hamburg, four experienced Bible workers, and a ship missionary who can speak German, Danish, and English.
5. That an able corps of canvassers should be sent to France and Italy, as soon as suitable books and tracts are prepared for use in Catholic countries.

6. That there is great necessity for books in the French, Italian, Spanish, Portuguese, Bohemian, and German languages, especially edited for use in Catholic countries, aiming to dispel the darkness of superstition, and to reveal the beauties of God's word; and that special attention should be given to the preparation of works for South America.

7. That more preachers are needed in Sweden, and experienced workers to connect with the publishing house in Christiana.

8. That a Dutch minister is needed in South Africa, also a company of trained health missionaries.

9. That South America offers many promising fields for canvassers who can speak two or more of the following languages; namely, French, Spanish, German, Italian, and English.

10. That the West Indies is a promising field for a minister, a Bible worker, and one or two canvassers.

11. Your committee are quite unable to secure laborers for the great number and the most important of these positions, without taking men from their places whose loss would seem to be an irreparable injury to the work in which they are now engaged.

Education and Training of Laborers.

1. We therefore recommend, That greater efforts be put forth for the education and training of laborers for foreign missions, (a.) by encouraging suitable persons to attend the German, French, and Scandinavian branches of the Ministers' Bible School, in Battle Creek; (b.) by the holding of three or four months' Institutes for the instruction of large classes of Bible workers and colporters, in such places as London, Hamburg, Basel, Christiana, Stockholm, Copenhagen, Cape Town, Melbourne, and other central points.

Sending out Laborers.

2. That the Mission Board be instructed to select at as early a date as possible, suitable persons for the places needing laborers, and to send them into the work as rapidly as the amount of funds in the treasury will warrant.

Translators and Book Editors.

3. That an able corps of translators and book editors be employed to labor under the direction of the Book Committee, to prepare, as soon as consistent with good work, an ample supply of books, pamphlets, and tracts, for use in the Catholic countries above mentioned.

COMMITTEE ON FINANCES.

The committee, consisting of C. Eldridge, A. R. Henry, C. H. Jones, H. Lindsay, A. T. Robinson, and H. Nicola, reported as follows:—

First-Day Offerings.

The Finance Committee, after carefully considering the question of how our foreign missions are to be supported, adopted the following resolutions for presentation to this body:—

Whereas, The plan of first-day offerings for the support of foreign missions is a scriptural one, and therefore cannot be improved upon; and,—

Whereas, All has not been realized from this plan that was hoped for; therefore,—

1. Resolved, That for the purpose of bringing this matter to the attention of all our people each first day of the week the coming year, and thus leading them to form the habit of systematic giving, a series of fifty-two brief Scripture readings, interspersed with items of interest relating to our foreign missions, be prepared by a committee of five, who shall be appointed by the Chair, and that a small pamphlet containing these readings be furnished free to all families who adopt the plan of first-day offerings, with suggestions that these readings be made the topic at the hour of family devotion on each first-day morning.

COMMITTEE ON EDUCATION.

Committee: W. W. Prescott, L. McCoy, D. T. Jones, O. A. Johnson, A. T. Robinson, J. N. Loughborough, L. J. Rousseau. They reported as follows:—

Course of Reading.

It being known to the committee that the General Conference Committee have recommended the preparation of a course of reading for all our people, and have appointed a committee to recommend such a course; and it being further known to them that this committee is not ready to report at this session of the Conference, we recommend:—

1. That said committee be requested to report to the General Conference Committee at as early a date as practicable, and that their report be immediately acted upon, so that if possible the course may begin with Jan. 1, 1890.

Organization of Church Schools.

The Educational Secretary having been requested by the General Conference Committee to suggest a plan for the organization of church schools among our people, and the matter having been called to the attention of this committee by him, we recommend:—

2. That in any case where it may seem to be desirable to establish a church school, the president of the Conference, the senior elder, and the senior deacon of the church be a committee to bring the matter before the church, and to arrange for the election of a permanent school committee.

3. That such schools should not be held in the audience rooms of churches, but in vestries or separate rooms secured for the purpose.

4. That as far as possible, teachers be employed to conduct these schools, who have had the advantages of training in one of our own schools, especially in the study of the Bible.

5. That the expense of maintaining the school should be provided for wholly by the church where the school is held, by tuition and donations from any source expressly for this purpose. [Oct. 31.]

6. Resolved, That this Conference adopt the following plan for the supervision of church schools: that they all be under the general supervision of the Educational Secretary, and that in such Conferences as he may deem it advisable, he may appoint, subject to the approval of the local Conference Committee, some one to assist in the work in that Conference. [Nov. 3.]

Object of the Schools and "Students' Homes."

Whereas, The object to be gained in our Conference and church schools is the moral and spiritual, as well as the intellectual, culture of the student; and,—

Whereas, "Students' Homes"—boarding houses—have been established for the purpose of surrounding them with the moral atmosphere of a Christian home; and,—

Whereas, The plan of "farming out" either schools or boarding halls to those who propose to conduct them for what they can make from them, opens the way for temptation by lowering the standard to please students and secure patronage; therefore,—

7. Resolved, That it is the sense of this Conference, that the original object of the school and "Home" should be constantly kept in view, and the "farming out" plan be discouraged.

Western School.

Decisions and recommendations made by the committee on the Western school, and reported to the Conference by the Committee on Education:—

8. That the proposed school begin in the fall of 1890.

9. That the location of the school be left to the following committee; provided, however, that the school shall not be so located by the committee as to impose the six shares hereafter mentioned, upon any Conference against the protest of the member of the committee from that Conference: J. H. Morrison, W. B. White, R. S. Donnell, L. A. Hoops, E. H. Gates, J. G. Wood, W. S. Hyatt, Allen Moon, L. Dyo Chambers, W. W. Prescott.

13. That the institution be designated as a College, the further name to be selected by the Board of Managers as soon as practicable after it is located.

14. That the grade of work to be done and courses of study provided be such as are found in colleges of the same character.

15. That the amount of money to be raised within this school district for improvements upon the real estate within a period of two years shall not exceed $50,000.

16. That whatever sum is to be raised within this district in addition to donations from those not of our faith, be apportioned in the following manner. The whole sum being divided into thirty-six shares, thirty of these shares shall be assumed as follows:—

Iowa, seven shares; Minnesota, six; Kansas, six and three-fifths; Missouri, two and seven-tenths; Nebraska, three; Dakota, two; Texas, three-fourths of a share; Colorado, one and one-half shares; Arkansas, two-thirds of a share; that the remaining six shares be apportioned as follows:—

If the school is located at such a point within a Conference as to be more than sixty miles from the nearest border of any other Conference, then the Conference within which it is located shall assume these six shares in addition to the number assigned above.

But if the school shall be located within sixty miles of any one Conference joining the one in which it is located, then the membership of that Conference shall be divided by two, and the quotient being taken as the membership of this Conference, the six shares shall be divided proportionately, according to the membership of said two States. But in case it should be located within sixty miles of the line of two or more Conferences, then the Conference having the school, shall assume three of the six shares, and the balance shall be divided between the other two or more Conferences, according to the membership.

17. That the General Conference be requested to provide $20,000 to assist in the erection of "Homes" for this school.

18. That we present this matter to other Conferences outside those named. and ask them to assist liberally in raising the necessary funds for the establishment of this school, especially those Conferences joining this school district. [Nov. 3.]

Bible School for Ministers.

19. Resolved, That this Conference heartily approves of the action taken by the General Conference Committee, in arranging for the Bible School for Ministers, and urges the officials of the various Conferences to encourage the proper persons to attend it.

Education of Laborers.

Whereas, There is an urgent demand for consecrated and educated workers in all departments of this cause; and, —

Whereas, In "Testimony to the Church," No. 33, pp. 108-114, our duty as a people is clearly set forth in the matter of educating workers; and, —

Whereas, There are many persons of ability in our ranks who, with suitable training, might become efficient workers; therefore, —

20. Resolved, That we request the officers and ministers, both in the General and State Conferences, to look up such persons, and encourage them to obtain that training which will fit them to become laborers in the vineyard of the Lord.

Schools in Foreign Languages.

Whereas, There is an urgent demand for educated laborers in the Scandinavian, German, and French languages; therefore, —

21. Resolved, That we approve of the establishment of schools in these languages among us.

22. That we recommend that suitable persons be selected, encouraged, and assisted, if necessary, to obtain an education in such schools, qualifying them to labor in these languages. [Nov. 3.]

Management of Central Bible School.

Inasmuch as the title to the property of the Central Bible School at Chicago is held by the General Conference Association; in order to further the plan of unity in our educational work; we recommend, —

23. That the management of this school be vested in the General Conference, through a Board of Managers of five members, at least two of whom shall be residents of Illinois at the time of their election, and be nominated by the delegates from that Conference, said Managers to be elected at each regular session of the General Conference.

24. That such Board of Managers be elected at the present session of the General Conference.

Sustaining South Lancaster Academy.

Whereas, An educational institution, known as South Lancaster Academy, and located in what is now District No. 1 of the General Conference field; and, —

Whereas, This school is fully equipped, with a competent corps of teachers, and is prepared to do thorough work in its line; therefore, —

25. Resolved, That we recommend to the Conferences located in that field, the importance of sustaining this school by influencing students to attend.

Means for Education of Laborers.

26. We recommend, That one-tenth of all the funds which shall hereafter come into the hands of the General Conference Association through legacies, be used under the direction of the General Conference Committee, in the education of laborers, provided that the amount so used shall not exceed $5,000 per year. [Nov. 5.]

COMMITTEE ON CHURCH ORDER AND GOVERNMENT.

The committee, R. A. Underwood, A. T. Jones, J. B. Goodrich, C. A. Hall, and J. W. Raymond, submitted the following report:—

A Series of Bible Readings.

Realizing the urgent necessity that something should be done more thoroughly to instruct our people generally with the sacredness of the church as the institution of God, and of membership in it, and of the relationship of members one to another; also a better understanding of the duties of the officers of the church, and of the relationship that should exist between the members and the officers, —

1. We recommend, That the Chair appoint a committee of five who shall severally prepare a series of Bible readings on the following points:—

1. The church as the body of Christ, and the proper relation that should exist between the members and the head.

2. The qualifications of church officers, together with their duties, their care for the flock, and proper administration of the ordinances.

3. The relationship of the members to each other, and the duty they owe to those they have placed in official responsibility.

4. Reverence and proper decorum in the house of worship.

These readings to be accompanied by such notes and extracts from the Testimonies as may be suggested by the texts used.

And further, in view of the great importance of this subject, and the necessity that exists for such instruction, —

2. We recommend, That these readings be submitted at as early a date as possible to the Conference Committee, who shall prepare, or have prepared, from the same, a series of Bible readings on the above subjects, for publication in the most convenient form for circulation, at the earliest possible date.

Question Box.

3. And, further, to meet difficult questions that often arise, we recommend that a question box be prepared at this Conference for questions on this subject; and that such questions as said committee think suitable should be included in such readings, with proper answers thereto. [Oct. 28.]

COMMITTEE ON JUDICIARY.

Members of the committee: R. M. Kilgore, E. J. Waggoner, J. O. Corliss, A. R. Henry, E. W. Farnsworth. They reported as follows:—

3. That a sum of money for this purpose, not to exceed $12,000, be raised by donations, and in such other ways as may be devised by the General Conference Committee. [Substituted by Committee on Judiciary, Nov. 5.]

4. That the said missionary vessel be made ready for service early in the year 1890.

5. That a Board of three persons, who have had experience in nautical affairs, be appointed by the General Conference Committee, to superintend the building of said missionary ship, after which they shall act as an advisory committee to the Executive Committee of the General Conference, in the management of the vessel, until their successors are appointed, or their position is otherwise provided for in the Constitution. [Oct. 25.]

Division of Kentucky and Tennessee.

6. Resolved, That we concur in the recommendation of the council held at Nashville, Tenn., that the proposed division of the States of Tennessee and Kentucky is a wise and proper action, and recommend it for adoption. We think that the division line beginning at the northeast corner of Hardin County, Ky., on the Ohio River, taking a southerly direction along the boundaries of Hardin, Hart, and Barren counties, thence along the west base of the Cumberland Mountains to the south boundary line of Tennessee, makes a just division of the territory; and that "Tennessee River Conference" for the western and "Cumberland Mission" for the eastern part of this territory are appropriate names for the same.

7. Resolved, That we recommend that the Committee on Distribution of Labor consider the wants of the Cumberland mission field. [Oct. 27.]

Districting of the United States.

8. In harmony with the recommendation of the President in his opening address, your committee would recommend that the territory covered by the General Conference in this country be divided into six districts, as follows:—

Dist. No. 1, composed of the local Conferences of Maine, Vermont, New England, New York, Atlantic, Pennsylvania, the two Virginias, the Provinces of Quebec, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, and Prince Edward Island; No. 2, composed of the States of Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi, Louisiana, Florida, Alabama, Georgia, and the Carolinas; No. 3, composed of the States of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, and the Province of Ontario; No. 4, composed of the States of Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska, the Dakotas, with Manitoba and the British possessions lying north of these States; No. 5, composed of the Conferences of Missouri, Kansas, Colorado, Texas, Arkansas, and the Indian Territory; No. 6, composed of the Conferences of Upper Columbia, North Pacific, California, the State of Montana, and that part of the British possessions lying north of this division. [Oct. 27.]

COMMITTEE ON CONSOLIDATION OF PUBLISHING INTERESTS.

The persons appointed on this committee were C. Eldridge, C. H. Jones, A. R. Henry, J. N. Loughborough, A. T. Robinson, J. H. Morrison, L. C. Chadwick, E. H. Gates, and A. O. Tait, to act conjointly with the members of the General Conference Committee. The joint committee reported as follows:—

Your committee appointed to take into consideration the publishing interests of the denomination, have carefully considered this subject; and in order to meet the increasing demand of our work, and to avoid all sectional feeling and personal interests (which are now liable to arise from the present plan of conducting our business, by having separate organizations), and also to unify the work and secure the hearty co-operation of all, would respectfully recommend:—

1. That steps be taken at once to form a corporation for the purpose of taking entire control of all our publishing interests, and thus bring the work under one general management.

2. That the officers of this Association be a Board of twenty-one Trustees, to be elected by the General Conference, with power to organize themselves by electing a President, a Vice-President, a Secretary, an Assistant Secretary, a Corresponding Secretary, and a Treasurer.

3. That at least twelve persons on this Board be representative men not connected with any local publishing house, taken from different parts of North America, in proportion to the numerical strength of the denomination.

4. That when this Association is organized, one-third of the Trustees be elected for one year, one-third for two years, and one-third for three years.

5. That the stockholders of the Review and Herald Publishing House, and the Pacific Press Publishing Company take into consideration the advisability of turning over all their interests to this new organization; and, if thought advisable to do so, that steps be taken as soon as possible to bring about this result.

The objects of this new organization shall be:—

1. To hold the title of all our denominational publishing houses, and the equipments thereof.

2. To own, publish, and control the sale of all denominational books, tracts, and periodicals.

3. To secure, as far as possible, by purchase or otherwise, the plates and copyrights of all our denominational books now published by our different publishing houses, or that may be written in the future.

4. To encourage the preparation of books, pamphlets, and tracts upon the different points of our faith.

5. To appoint editors and managers, and to take a general supervision of the work of the various offices.

In view of the fact that it may take some time to bring about, in full, this much-to-be desired result, and in order to move in that direction as far and as fast as possible, we recommend that at the first, this Association assume control of all denominational publications and periodicals now published in the foreign languages, and of such works as belong to the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, but that the incorporation be made with a view to assuming entire control of all our publishing interests.

In order that no time may be lost, your committee would further recommend that a standing committee of twenty-one be elected by the General Conference at its present session, to take this whole question into consideration, with power to act. We would also suggest that the very best legal advice be consulted in bringing this new organization into existence.

Your committee would further recommend that a similar organization be effected for the purpose of controlling all our educational interests and owning the property, thus bringing them under one general management; also, another to control our health institutions. [Nov. 5.]

COMMITTEE ON MANUFACTURE OF TENTS.

E. W. Farnsworth presented the following report for the presidents of Conferences on the manufacture of tents:—

Whereas, There is an expenditure of thousands of dollars each year by our Conferences for tents; and,—

Whereas, The larger part of this money is paid to outside parties who are often unreliable, not furnishing the quality of goods expected; therefore,—

Resolved, That it is greatly to be desired that the General Conference empower the General Conference Association to establish and maintain a plant for the manufacture of such tents as shall be required by the several Conferences throughout the country; and we would further recommend that whatever profits, if any, may accrue from the business, constitute a tent fund, from which said General Conference Committee shall draw means to pay for tents for mission or other destitute fields as in their judgment should receive assistance.

Whereas, The officers of the General Conference Association who are asked to conduct the tent manufactory, are men of financial ability, which will enable them to produce tents at as reasonable rates as the same tent can be produced by other tent firms; therefore, —

Resolved, That we recommend to our Conferences throughout the country to purchase their tents of the General Conference.

Whereas, Many desiring tents delay ordering them until just before the opening of the tent and camp-meeting season, thus causing perplexity and extra expense to those who manufacture said tents; therefore, —

Resolved, That we recommend that all our Conferences order, as far as possible, all the tents they may require during the coming year, as early as January 1 of each year.

Whereas, There is a great diversity of opinion in regard to style of tent to be used; therefore, —

We recommend, That a committee of nine be appointed to recommend a standard for each size of tent.

NO. 1 STANDARD ROUND TENTS.

Size 40 feet, wall 8 feet, center 25 feet; size 43 feet, wall 8 feet, center 25 feet; size 47 feet, wall 8 feet, center 26 feet; size 50 feet, wall 8 feet, center 26½ feet.

Ten-ounce army top, eight-ounce army wall, roped every second cloth, top in two pieces, wall in two pieces. Bail rings from twelve to fourteen inches in diameter, top hand stitched, wall full, roped, and fastened with snaps or ropes. Tents made for either rope or chain guys.

NO. 1 STANDARD FAMILY TENTS.

Size 9½ x 12, wall 4 feet, center 9 feet; size 12 x 14, wall 5 feet, center 11 feet; size 12 x 16, wall 5 feet, center 11 feet; size 14 x 16, wall 5 feet, center 12 feet.

Eight-ounce army duck, roped on eaves and gables. Guy ropes shall be cut one foot longer than twice the height of the wall, and spliced into the tent. There shall be a band running the full length of the ridge, and two-ply in the corners; wherever there is a hole worked into the canvass, it shall be protected with an iron ring.

The doors will be fastened with snaps or a door rope, as desired. Every tent shall be accompanied with two long guys. If flies are wanted, they will cost half the price of the tent. [Nov. 5.]

REPORTS FROM HOME AND FOREIGN FIELDS.

GENERAL HOME FIELD.

PACIFIC COAST.

W. C. White was called upon, and gave a report of the field under his charge, on the Pacific Coast. The territory covered by this report reaches from the crest of the Rocky Mountains to the Pacific Ocean, and also includes that portion of the Colorado Conference lying east of that line. This field contains about one-fourth of the area of the United States, with one twenty-sixth of the population. The Sabbath-keepers in this field equal one-tenth of all in the world. The report showed a church membership of 3,230, with 77 organized churches, 30 ministers, 20 licentiates, and $47,248.28, tithes.

CENTRAL AND WESTERN STATES.

E. W. Farnsworth reported for the territory between the Mississippi River and the Rocky Mountains. He said this district covers all the territory between the Mississippi River and the Rocky Mountains, including Wisconsin, with the exception of Louisiana. There are in this district more than 11,000,000 inhabitants, and every portion of it, except the Indian Territory, is covered by well-organized Conferences. The work, consequently, is not the opening of new fields, but the development of Conferences. In this territory there are 10,794 Sabbath-keepers, 1,035 of whom have embraced the truth the past year. There are 364 churches; 135 ministers and licentiates; 274 canvassers; and 25 Bible-workers; making a total working force of 434. The value of books sold during the past year is $138,333. Twenty-two camp-meetings have been held with a good attendance. There is a strong demand for a school in this field. In conclusion, he said, we see many tokens of the blessing and goodness of God during the past year.

SOUTHERN STATES.

R. M. Kilgore reported for the Southern States. This field includes the States of North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Tennessee, and Kentucky. He said there are many favorable omens for the work in this territory. The establishing of a branch office of the Review and Herald, at Atlanta, Ga., will give permanency to the work in the South. Much depends upon the canvassing work in this field, and the branch office, with the imprint of Atlanta, will give the South an advantage that has not been had in the past. Some who have held a ministerial license in the past, desire to enter the canvassing work. In Mississippi it has been found that success attends the canvassing work, and a canvasser can do better than a minister. We want one hundred canvassers for Mississippi, one hundred for Alabama, and a minister for Florida and Louisiana, each. A minister is also needed in North Carolina. At the meeting in Nashville, it was recommended that a Conference be formed of the western portion of Tennessee and Kentucky, to be called the "Tennessee River Conference," and the eastern portions of these two States be organized as a mission field to be called the "Cumberland Mission."

EASTERN STATES.

R. A. Underwood gave an interesting report of the field under his charge, embracing the States of Ohio, New York, Pennsylvania, Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, the District of Columbia, and that portion of Canada known as the Provinces of Quebec, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, and Prince Edward Island. In this district are ten organized Conferences, with a membership of 5,000. Forty-eight ministers, twenty-three licentiates, twenty-four Bible workers, and 225 canvassers are in active service. There are many encouraging features in this field. Nova Scotia and New Brunswick give promise of good results for labor bestowed there, and should be organized into a Conference. There were added in this field eight ordained ministers and several canvassers and Bible workers during the year. One Conference, in eight months, circulated reading matter equal to 2,000,000 sermons. There is a great demand for publications in the French language, especially in Pennsylvania, where some of that nationality have embraced the truth. Every Conference in the East needs more laborers.

FOREIGN CONFERENCES AND MISSIONS.

FROM reports received from the various fields, the following are condensed by the Foreign Mission Secretary, W. C. White.

CENTRAL EUROPE.

By H. P. Holser.

Switzerland. — According to the last census, Switzerland has a population of 3,000,000. Of these, 58 per cent are Protestant, and 40 per cent Catholic. As to language, 71 per cent are German, and 21 per cent French. In size, it is a little less than half as large as the State of Michigan.

At present, it has twelve Seventh-day Adventist churches, with a membership of 370, showing an increase of fifty-six during the past year. Many books and pamphlets have been sold in all parts of French Switzerland and in some portions of German Switzerland. Our colporters and camp-meetings have done much to spread a knowledge of our work. Many commercial travelers visit the publishing house at Basel, and carry a knowledge of our work into business circles far and near. It has been conceded that, everything considered, we have the best-equipped printing-house in Switzerland. There are other houses much larger, but they generally represent only one or two branches of the printing art.

In Central Europe, there is still very much the same feeling toward sects as there was anciently against heretics. In this respect, Lutherans are as intolerant as Catholics. But while looked upon as a sect, our people occupy a high place in public esteem. In business circles, our credit and standing are good.

During the past year, the perplexing question as to the holding of camp-meetings in Switzerland, has been settled. The laws governing society here are much more minute and close than in America, and one would naturally think that it would be an easy matter to have a quiet meeting. But here, if an undesirable sect undertakes to hold meetings, its enemies collect and disturb it; and it generally turns out that the public, instead of punishing the disturbers, censures the sect and prohibits its holding any kind of public meetings, on the ground that they disturb the peace. Had our camp-meetings been broken up, this would doubtless have been our fate. This year, our meeting was held in a most difficult place, and so was a fair test of the question for all Switzerland. The result was a most decided victory in favor of our work.

During the past year, a large amount of our literature has been circulated, our numbers have increased, and four churches have been organized. A city mission has been opened in Geneva, where Bible readings have been given, and the hotels and places of resort are supplied with our reading matter. No place in France or Switzerland is of more importance as a center for theology, nor is any place more visited by tourists from all nations, than Geneva.

France.—France has a population of 38,000,000, of which 80 per cent are Catholic, and 2 per cent Protestant. We now have four churches and four companies of Sabbath-keepers in France, with a membership of sixty-five. During the past year, some colportage work has been done, and two courses of meetings have been held in this country. As a result of the meetings, several were added to the faith.

Our work is becoming more generally known in France, and the fruits of past missionary work are coming to light. Quite a number of isolated persons have accepted the faith, as a result of reading matter sent out. In one case, a warning against our colporters and publications, printed in a French paper, was the means of arresting the attention of an Evangelical minister, who was formerly a Catholic priest. Seeing the warning, and never having heard of us, he was anxious to know what kind of people we were, and sent for quite a long list of our publications. He at once became interested, and is now quite fully in harmony with us.

Although mostly poor, and finding it almost impossible to earn a living and keep the Sabbath, those who accept this truth feel a new purpose in life, and find it their chief joy to carry the precious light to others. We know of no people who sacrifice more for their religion, in proportion to their means and privileges, than our brethren in France.

Algeria.—This French colony in Northern Africa has a population of 3,310,000. While a French colony, it has but 334,000 French, a much larger number being Spanish. Some three or four years ago, a baker living at Relizane, received a copy of Les Signes, and becoming interested in what it taught, sent for more reading matter. He embraced the truths advocated by Les Signes, so far as he understood them, and began to labor for others. But for some time he stood almost alone. During the past year, however, his work, and the effect of French reading matter, began to bear fruit. Quite a large number of Spaniards accepted the faith, so far as this baker was able to teach it to them. They formed a society called the Apostolical Seventh-day Adventist Church. On learning of the interest, Brother Comte was sent there, who with the baker, Brother Gomis, as interpreter, held a course of meetings with the Spanish, the result of which was the organization of a church of thirty-five members. Filled with zeal for the new found faith, these newly converted persons are anxious to have reading matter in their mother tongue, that they may do something for their countrymen. It seems to us quite providential that the work should begin here, for it is said that it is much easier to reach the Spanish in the colonies than in Spain itself.

News has just reached us that fifteen of this church have gone to the Argentine Republic. This may be the means of spreading the light in that country.

Russia.—The first Seventh-day Adventist church in this great empire with its hundred million of people, was organized in the Crimea, in the summer of 1886, by Elder L. R. Conradi. In the same year, Elder C. Laubhan began his labors in Russia, around his home on the river Volga. Notwithstanding many difficulties, his faithful labors in the circulation of publications and through missionary efforts, have been blessed by an increase of Sabbath-keepers and churches.

During the year, Elder Laubhan has spent much time in trying to obtain the necessary papers from the government to allow him to preach, and organize churches. He has labored most of the time on the Volga. Last winter he organized one church of seven members, north of Saratow. Several members have been added to the companies in this vicinity, so that there are now about 100 Sabbath-keepers in this part of the empire. During the past summer he visited the Caucasus, where we have a church and more than a hundred Sabbath-keepers. Here he organized another church of seventeen members.

These were the ones brought to the faith by reading our periodicals, and by a visit from a German brother from Kansas. Elder Laubhan also visited the Russian Sabbath-keepers in Stawropol, but dared not organize a church under present circumstances. One of these brethren has been in prison over four months the past season, because of the truth. Elder Laubhan also visited the churches on the Don, and in the Crimea.

These companies are far apart, and the labor is very difficult on account of the hostility of the government. Heretofore there has been only one laborer in this vast field; but now Elder Klein, after spending a few months at the Hamburg mission, has gone to this field to assist Elder Laubhan in organizing and advancing the work.

Russia is a fruitful field for the sale of our German publications. But the work has been greatly crippled because of the difficulties attending the shipping of books into Russia. Thus far, the only way that we can send books is by mail. This takes a large portion of the agent's commission; and packages are often lost, as the post-offices there are not reliable. At other times, those receiving the books are obliged to pay additional postage, although the full postage has been prepaid; and again, the books may lay in the post-office three months before being delivered. In one instance, the post-master refused to send a registered letter containing money for books, on the ground that they had books enough in Russia, and that it was not necessary to send money out of the country. The brother found it necessary to travel all day to another post-office, and send the money unregistered.

All these difficulties put together are enough to discourage any agent; still we have sent many books to Russia during the past year. Our first Russian tract, "Which Day do You Keep, and Why?" has been printed, and sent to various addresses; but with scarcely an exception, all were returned. All printed matter in the Russian language sent into Russia is read by the authorities, and if any part is found not in harmony with the Russian religion or politics, the offensive part is black-stamped, or the whole is returned to the sender.

What we now need in Russia is a depot for our books at some central point, from which our people could draw our publications. This would doubtless largely increase the sale of our publications there, and be a great encouragement to our people.

At present, books are sent from Hamburg, which is a much better place than Switzerland for shipping to Russia. Perhaps one reason why publications sent from Basel have been returned, is because Switzerland is looked upon as a recruiting-ground and rendezvous for Russian Communists and Nihilists. The Russian government has complained of Switzerland for harboring these, and has demanded that she expel them.

Germany.—During the past twelve years, no one has labored continuously in Germany, nor have there been any lectures on the present truth given until now. From 1876-79, Elder J. Erzenberger labored in Rheinish Prussia, and two churches were organized. These churches have since been left alone, and by death and removal their number has decreased to about forty. In the spring of 1888, the canvassing work was begun in this part of Germany, and a little later, at Stuttgart, the capital of Württemberg. Since then, eight or ten canvassers have labored in Württemberg, Baden, Alsace, and the Rheinish provinces, with good success, most of them being able to support themselves. During the past year, they have sold over 3,000 "Life of Christ," 2,000 "From Eden to Eden," and about 12,000 pamphlets. Wherever our canvassers have gone, an interest has been awakened. Several have embraced the truth as a direct result of the canvassing work, and some of them have entered the canvassing work, with fair success.

In no place has been felt the dearth of laborers more than in Germany. In Stuttgart and vicinity, where over 2,000 "Life of Christ," and several thousand pamphlets were circulated, such an interest was awakened that the ministers preached against the teachings found in these publications, and the papers published articles on the Sabbath question; but there was no minister to step in and reap the fruits of this interest. The same was true of the work at Barmen.

In May, of this year, the mission in Hamburg was opened by Elder Conradi and a corps of laborers from America. A month later, the training-school was opened and carried on for three months, ten persons being in attendance. Although the work in a large sea-port like this is difficult, 600 orders for books were taken, and about 300 were delivered. A few of the workers labored a part of their time holding Bible readings, and each Sunday night a public reading was held in the mission rooms. A Sabbath-school was organized, which has grown to twenty-eight members, and a Sunday-school has been opened in another part of the city.

During the visit of Elder Haskell, a tract society of over twenty members was organized, which holds weekly meetings. Thus far, fourteen have signed the covenant, and quite a number of others are deeply convinced. A church has been organized, with about twenty members.

A depository has also been located here in connection with the mission. Already over $400 worth of books have been sold; and now since the canvassers have begun to canvass the surrounding country, the number of orders taken is greatly increased, and the prospect is encouraging.

Since Brother Boettcher went to Barmen, but one (a sister) remains to do Bible work in this large city. Besides, there are six canvassers and one ship missionary. What is needed, is more devoted men and women who will enter this great field, be willing to receive instruction, and devote their entire strength to this work. Germany is ripe for the message. There is no reason for discouragement. The only question is, Where are the laborers and the means to carry the work forward?

Holland.—This kingdom, attached closely to Germany both in location and language, was not entered by any of our workers until 1887, when some Sabbath-keepers in the province of Groningen, hearing of our people, wrote to Battle Creek. Elder Conradi spent a few days with them in September of the same year. Five signed the covenant. The next January, Elders Haskell and Conradi visited them in company, and during their stay several public services were held with very large attendance. As their leader, Brother Vander Schuur, and others soon went to America, but few remained; yet these pressed their way forward. Last July, Brother Conradi, accompanied by Brother Wessels, from South Africa, visited them again, when nine signed the covenant. A leader was appointed, and a tract society organized.

The general prospects for the work in this field are good. We have great reason to be encouraged. Those who labor here feel deeply grateful to our brethren in America for the means supplied to establish and carry on the work. A good beginning has been made; but it is only a beginning. A great work is yet to be accomplished. More men and means are needed. To the wants of the cause here in this respect, there is no limit.

There are, altogether, in this Conference, six ministers, four licentiates, three Bible workers, twenty-four canvassers, twenty-five employed in the printing-office, and ten workers in training.

There are thirty churches, with 693 members. These contributed $3,139.64 during the year, for the support of the church.

GREAT BRITAIN.

By D. A. Robinson.

The work in England moves slowly, but it moves. We are glad to report some advancement, and to call attention to the plans now being marked out for the furnishing of that field with a larger number of workers. The influence of the efforts of our first laborers there is not only seen in the churches they organized, but to this day orders for our publications are occasionally sent to Elder J. N. Loughborough, Ravenswood, Southampton, whence they are forwarded to our office in London. The amount of labor performed in the United Kingdom during the past year has been comparatively small. Elder Durland was here a few months at the beginning of the year. About the first of March, Elder Haskell, upon whom has rested the chief responsibility of the work, returned from America, and spent three weeks before going on the Continent, and later in the season he spent about four weeks more in the British field.

In April, Elder E. W. Whitney, with his family, moved from Basel, and connected with the work in England. He spent a few weeks at first in visiting the churches and acquainting himself with the field, preparatory to entering upon aggressive work in some direction. In July he moved to Birmingham, and almost immediately was taken sick, and for a considerable time was unable to do anything. For about ten months we have had one canvasser in Birmingham selling the Present Truth quite successfully, using at the present time about 700 copies of each issue; and another young lady is there doing good work in the sale of Good Health.

Elder A. A. John returned to America in May or June. The greater part of his time before his return was spent in connection with the church at Ulceby, where a neat and commodious house of worship was erected. Brethren Hope and Hutchinson entered the field in July. Brother Hope is laboring in the London Mission, and Brother Hutchinson, soon after his arrival, went to Ireland, where at his last reports he was having a good interest in a series of meetings in a hall.

We have eight small churches in the United Kingdom, and six of these have added to their membership during the year an aggregate of thirty-five, the total membership being 160, and our tithe for the year $1,244.58. As near as we can tell there are about 200 Sabbath-keepers in the British field, about sixty-five of whom are in London. At present we have employed four American Bible workers and three others who are in training for the work, two licentiates, already mentioned; two ordained ministers, and two ship missionaries.

England is a nation of readers—the most assiduous and patient readers in the world. The habits and customs of the people and their education for more than a century all contribute to make them so, and hence the success of our work in the British field will be proportionate to our success in the circulation of our publications in that field. Perhaps the greatest want in our British work at the present moment, is suitable books for the canvassers, and a large number of experienced canvassers to enter the field at once, with our religious and health books.

England and Wales alone contain 192 towns, each having a population of over 10,000 inhabitants, and the United Kingdom contains over twenty towns with a population to each of over 100,000. The area of the United Kingdom is considerably less than that of California, while the four cities of Birmingham, Liverpool, Manchester, and Leeds, have a population equal to that of California, North Pacific, and Montana. The United Kingdom, with an area as already stated much less than that of California, has a population exceeding one half that of the United States.

We must have the publications, and we need a score of earnest, devoted men who with the help of God can demonstrate that these books can be sold in this field. Let this be done, and other workers will be developed on the ground.

At the last annual meeting of the Pacific Press Publishing Company, when it was fully decided that the Company should establish a branch house in London, purchase the printing-office and stock of books from the British Mission, and hereafter conduct the printing and publishing work for Great Britain and her

South African, Asiatic, and Australasian colonies; a resolution was adopted asking that a large corps of experienced and successful canvassers be selected, and sent to that field by the General Conference Committee. We are glad that seven faithful workers have been chosen, and are now in England, preparing to begin their canvass. As many more should be especially trained to handle health works, for these are popular in England, and will do much good.

One year ago the General Conference voted to have Brother Arnold return to England. Our brethren there still think that promise good, and are hoping to see it speedily fulfilled. England is the land of books, and hence a nation of readers, and when the publications are made ready for that field, they will go by the million.

If the Bible work in Great Britain is to be carried on economically and successfully, it seems but reasonable that several devoted, earnest workers in that line should be selected to assist the few now laboring in that capacity. The London mission is paying quite a heavy rent, and has room for nearly a score of workers, but does not have one half that number at work in a city of 5,000,000 inhabitants. We have a few young people of promise who, after proper training, may become efficient workers, and we feel sure that the desired end can be secured much easier and sooner by having these persons unite both in the canvassing and Bible work, with devoted, God-fearing workers from America.

SCANDINAVIA.

By L. Johnson.

Sweden.—June 14–16 our first camp-meeting in Sweden was held at Grythytted. The presence and labors of Elder Haskell were much appreciated. It was ascertained that nearly all those present had either accepted this truth through reading, or had received their first favorable impressions by this means. In many cases papers had been received from friends in America. So many living proofs of the effectiveness of missionary work gave new interest to the missionary meetings. A good interest was also manifested in the Sabbath-school, and many of the neighbors' children attended.

During the past year, Elders Johnson, Erickson, and Olsen have labored among the churches, and since the camp-meeting they have been with the tent at Norrköping. Here great difficulty was experienced in securing a place for the tent. Application was made to the city authorities, but in vain. It was afterward learned that the reason for this was, that a bishop had just been here and warned the people not to open any place for us. One was at last secured, however, in a yard in the center of the city, but at a cost of $40.50 for two months. The space was so small that only the round part of the tent, capable of seating about three hundred persons, could be pitched. At first the people who came seemed to be much afraid of us, and many would stand outside, not daring to come in. But the congregation increased, until the tent was too small, and the yard was nearly filled. The interest was good, and God seemed to bless the word spoken. During two weeks, tracts on the subjects presented were sold to the amount of about fourteen dollars. Notwithstanding all the difficulties, a goodly number accepted the truth. [From a late communication, we learn that a church of twenty-three members has been organized.]

At Karlskrona, where the tent was located last year, and where Brother Suden has labored a large share of his time this year, eight persons were baptized, and a church has been organized with fifteen members. The way is open for labor in many places, but we lack means and men to push the work as we desire. While we find many things that will hinder the work, we continually have evidences of the Lord's care and love.

I have labored about nine weeks in Sweden. The first month I was with Elder Olsen in Stockholm, assisting in the mission school there. In this school important points of the truth were taken up in the Bible class, and instruction was given in canvassing, book-keeping, the work of the Sabbath-school, of the tract and missionary society, and of church organization. It was indeed encouraging to see the interest manifested by all who attended the school; and since its close about thirty persons have been at work in different parts of the kingdom. ~~Most of them have worked as canvassers, with good success.~~ The sales for the last quarter were $1,213.41. In some places the canvassers have found persons who have kept the Sabbath several years, having been enlightened by reading.

We now have in this country two ministers, three licentiates, and thirty canvassers. There are twelve churches, with 360 members. These have contributed about $658 for the support of the church.

Norway. — In Norway we have three churches and 301 Sabbath-keepers. Brother E. G. Olsen has labored much of his time in Christiana. One year ago Elder Brorsen went to the Lofoten fishing-grounds, in the northern part of Norway, at the earnest request of a lone sister living there. He expected to remain only a few weeks, but on account of the deep interest to hear the message, he was obliged to stay six months, the result of which was fifty Sabbath-keepers. He has been back there the past summer, and found the brethren firm in the truth, and a growing interest. Brethren Clausen, Jensen, and Steen have labored with our new tent at Frederikshald. The Lord has blessed their efforts. The attendance has been good, and twelve persons have begun to observe the Bible Sabbath.

January 30 a mission school was opened in Christiana, at which over forty have been in attendance. Most of the laborers in Denmark and Norway were present to take part in a special class, by means of which it was hoped that all would become more efficient in the work. The subject of organization as relates to the church, the Sabbath-school, and the tract society, was taken up. In connection with the mission school we also had a sort of normal for Sabbath-school workers. This proved to be very interesting and profitable.

Considerable canvassing has been done along the western border of Norway. This enterprise has been much more prosperous since it was conducted on a systematic plan. Sixteen canvassers are engaged in the sale of our books, and their sales for the last quarter amounted to $948.26. The contributions for the year were $848.75.

At the present time, the most crying need of the Scandinavian work, is that of schools and school buildings of sufficient capacity to accommodate those who would attend. At Christiana a church school has been opened with fifty children in attendance. This school has been held in part of the old building bought for a printing-office. But now the room is too small, and our people are asking for the use of the whole building. They ask the General Conference to provide seats for it. Much fruit has already been seen from the efforts put forth in the line of education, a number of young people having given themselves to the work as the result.

Denmark. — We have held five tent-meetings in Denmark this year, one in Sjælland, and four in Jylland. Each of these continued over two Sabbaths, and the last one over three. Elder Hanson has attended all of these, and Elder Brorsen three. Our brethren there are very much scattered, and have to work very hard. We could seldom, therefore, have meetings in the day time, except on Sabbath and Sunday. Sometimes it was half-past nine in the evening before we could begin meeting.

Eight persons were baptized at these meetings, and several others took a stand for the truth. Before leaving Denmark, I visited all the churches where we did not hold a tent-meeting, and the brethren were much encouraged.

We have two ministers and one licentiate laboring in Denmark, one Bible worker, and six canvassers. There are ten churches, with 265 members. Their tithe for the past year was about $1,042.

SOUTH AFRICA.

By P. W. B. Wessels.

God in his providence has provided that the third angel's message should also be introduced to that distant land generally known as the "Dark Continent." South and Central Africa has been an active missionary field for the last thirty years. Different societies from England, Scotland, Germany, Scandinavia, Switzerland, France, and America are represented there. Although the missionaries were persecuted and sometimes murdered, new ones and double the number were sent to fill their places; so that the country is now dotted by missionary stations in which some of the Christian natives are educated and trained as teachers and ministers to their own tribes. Some of these prove to be very intelligent and earnest Christians and workers.

There are many tribes in two general divisions—the copper-colored and the blacks. The first may be classed as follows: The Malays, originally brought as slaves from the Malay Peninsula, near India. Their religion is Mohammedanism. Second, the Bushmen, Hottentots, Gorandars, and the Griquas, who principally occupy the western territory of South and Central Africa. They are worshippers of images, insects, and other objects.

The Kaffer races inhabit the Eastern and Central parts of South Africa, these are the Damras, Ovampoos, Kreli, Basutoes, Fingoes, Zulus, Setsuana, Bethsuana, and Amswasies. The copper-colored races have each their distinct dialect, and also the Kaffer races; nevertheless there exists a similarity in the languages, and the larger tribes can mostly understand each other.

The Bible has been translated into the Kaffer language, and is now undergoing a revision; and other literature is being translated into their dialect.

I have visited some of the mission stations, and I had the privilege on my voyage from Africa to England to be in the company of one of the principal missionaries of South and Central Africa, and I obtained valuable information regarding those different tribes and races. From this, and my own experiences when I visited the different missionary stations, the conviction came to my mind that this is a favorable field for the presentation of the last warning messages of the gospel. Are not these dark races of South, Central, and Northern Africa included in the gospel commission? You will say, Certainly they are.

The end is near, as prophecy plainly proves. When will this work be done, and by whom? You say we must wait. Wait for what? Can we not hear the command, "Go and preach the gospel to every creature?" God has prepared the way for the presentation of the third angel's message to these nations. Shall we not follow on as he leads?

I will mention a few facts as to how the third angel's message came to us in that distant land. It was revealed to us by the reading of the Bible. One day the question was asked, "Is it right to let a windmill run on Sunday?" In a jesting way it was remarked that if we want to be so particular and literal, why not take the Sabbath commandment literally? It states that the seventh day must be observed as the Sabbath. The response was made that we are keeping the first day because with Christ's resurrection the sacredness of the Sabbath was transferred to it. But this question troubled us, and we were led to search the Bible, and after a thorough investigation to conclude that no other authority for such a change could be found than the power prophesied in Dan. 7:25.

The one who came to this unpopular conclusion, thought himself to be the only one who from a Christian stand-point observed the Sabbath of the fourth commandment. But not long after this, he met an old brother, originally from South America, who had accepted the Sabbath there, and he informed us that across the water there were thousands keeping the Sabbath. He told us that they were well organized and had publishing houses and schools. Our hearts were made glad. We ordered books and tracts, and scattered them wherever we could. We also petitioned for help.

Several agreed with our views, and some took their stand with us; so that when ministers were sent there to help us, we were about forty in number. I now express, in behalf of our people in that field, our gratitude for what the General Conference and International Sabbath-school Association have done for the mission in that field.

The general standing of the mission is good. Our work suffered much from the opposition of its enemies, and also by not having a proper depository, or general head-quarters for our workers. Lately, a large lot has been purchased in what the committee considers a good location, with a building which serves as book depository and home for the workers stationed in Cape Town.

Cape Town is the principal city and sea-port in South Africa, and is also connected by rail with different parts of the country. The Diamond Fields are over 800 miles from Cape Town; and as there are several Sabbath-keepers residing in and about Kimberly, we thought it advisable to build a church there, for which purpose we secured two lots, and over $600 is already subscribed.

We have purchased two tents. One tent is designed to be used in the Eastern district, along the coast; the other in the Western districts. The people are not accustomed to attend evangelical meetings in tents. Nevertheless, at some places good work has been done. We have at present twelve workers, besides the ministers and their families.

The European inhabitants consist principally of the Dutch, who speak their own distinct dialect, but can all understand the Holland language; and all their literature is in that language. The Dutch element is all over South Africa. They are mostly independent, being agriculturists, stock breeders, and owners of the land. Most of these Dutch are originally from the Huguenots, who on account of religious liberty fled to that country, from France and Holland. The English are mostly in the Eastern province, Natal, Cismatallian, and Transnatallian land, and also at the diamond and gold fields. Next come the Germans, who have settlements in the Eastern province and Central Africa. The people are generally religiously inclined, especially the Dutch, who have strongly organized churches, conferences, and synods, as well as educational, theological, and agricultural institutions. These are all in a flourishing condition, yearly furnishing their denominations with ministers, missionaries, teachers, lawyers, and such as can enter the civil service.

We have in South Africa earnest and good Christians, who will make excellent workers, if they can but receive education, both in the principles of truth, and in methods of work. These should be encouraged to join the classes now held at Cape Town. No one should be allowed to move out in the field, who is not well prepared for the work in which he would engage. The ministers of other denominations pass high examinations, and their missionary workers are all well educated. We have to meet these and work among them and should be prepared to honor the truth we profess.

AUSTRALIA.

By G. C. Tenney.

There are embraced in the bounds of this Conference the five colonies of Australia proper, and that of Tasmania. These have a population of about 2,900,000, distributed as follows: Victoria, 1,033,000; New South Wales, 1,030,000; South Australia, 312,000; Queensland, 345,000; Western Australia, 40,000; Tasmania, 140,000.

Our work had been started in three of these colonies, and it seemed necessary that some one should follow it up. Elder W. D. Curtis took the field in South Australia; Elder M. C. Israel removed his family to Tasmania; and Brother W. L. H. Baker and wife, who had labored to some extent publicly, united with the printing and publishing work. Brother Baker and I have labored with the church in Melbourne, and have visited other churches and companies in this colony from time to time. The other three colonies have as yet had no labor.

Two tent-meetings in Adelaide have resulted in the formation of a church of twenty-five members, and some additions to the one previously there. Preparations are now being made for building two houses of worship in this place.

In Tasmania, the church in Hobart has increased from twenty-five to sixty-five members; and under the laborers of Brother David Steed, about forty have embraced the Sabbath at another place, and a church of thirty-one members has been organized. The membership of the two churches in Victoria has been increased to quite an extent during the year, by missionary work. A rather feeble but devoted band of Sabbath-keepers have maintained their existence in Sydney, and some canvassing has been done there. Lately a man of some influence in that city has embraced our faith; and the interest to hear the truth is becoming very general, and the calls are urgent. About one thousand copies of "Thoughts on Daniel and the Revelation" have been sold in Queensland, and many people there are now desiring to hear more upon the subjects treated in the books.

During the past ten months about ten canvassers have been employed in the sale of our subscription books, amounting to about £1,532 wholesale, or $15,000 retail price. The organization and management of this branch of the work has not been as efficient as is desirable, but we look for improvement through the counsel and assistance of Brother E. M. Morrison, whom your committee has considerably counseled to come to our help.

My principal labor has been in connection with the publishing work, which has occupied a leased building poorly fitted for the work. Our lease was to expire within a few months, and the owner would consent to no changes which would better accommodate us. Vacant buildings were very scarce, and none could be found which were appropriate for the printing business. It seemed imperative that we should build.

This work was encompassed with difficulty, and it did not seem possible to obtain from your committee the counsel which we needed, in time to meet our necessity. The matter of building was considered in a counsel at our conference, and it was the unanimous sense of our brethren that the work should be undertaken. A small lot of ground, 33 x 159 feet, in a favorable location, was purchased for the sum of £700, or nearly $3,500. A stock subscription list was started, with the shares placed at one pound each; and up to the present time about 950 shares have been subscribed, nearly two thirds of which has been paid in. We began the erection of a building, 22 x 36 feet, one and one-half stories high, to be used as a press and mailing room; and at the expiration of our lease in November, we were able to remove our business into it, where at some inconvenience and discomfort our work was carried on during the heated months, and until about May 1.

In the meantime, plans were drawn up and the contract let for the erection of a building 33 x 65 feet, three stories high. As the business did not seem to demand the entire building at present, it was agreed that the two upper stories should be finished into a hall, and used by the Melbourne church as a meeting place until they should be able to erect a building. This work was much hindered in its progress, but was finally completed, and the building accepted by the Board of Health, on July 19, 1889.

These buildings have cost about £1,800; and the amount invested in real estate is £3,000. This has incurred an indebtedness of about £1,950, £1,450 of which we borrowed from two brethren, and £500 from the Australian Conference.

We already realize some of the advantages which will come to us from the possession of a good building to fitly represent our work to the community, and in the greatly increased facilities which we now enjoy. Also we anticipate that great benefits will come to the Melbourne church, and to the cause of truth, by having a place in which to hold our meetings where we can invite our neighbors. This is the first meeting-place owned by Seventh-day Adventists in Australia (though steps have already been taken for the erection of three others). We also rent the hall for proper purposes, and from our short experience are led to believe that the revenue will materially assist in paying the interest on our indebtedness. The rents we were paying exceeded both the interest and taxes we shall now have to pay.

Some months since it became apparent that it would be necessary to organize our publishing work into a legal corporation; and acting upon the advice of our solicitor, we formed, under an act of Parliament, what is known as a Limited Liability Company, with a capital placed at £10,000, and power to increase. We have issued stock to the General Conference Association equal to the sum invested in this office from America, amounting to 1,340 shares, at one pound each.

Our Conference is composed of six churches. Two new churches have been organized in the past year, and one small company united with the Melbourne church. Our church membership has increased from 266 to 362, and the tithes have increased to $7,968. In different parts of the colonies quite a number of people have embraced the Sabbath from readings, who have not identified themselves with us; and it is a matter of regret to us that we have no one to send to their help.

In looking to the future, we see a large field of labor to which the doors stand open wide. I think that the Australian colonies are in all respects as inviting to our labors as any in the world, and call your attention to the urgent need in New South Wales and Queensland. Here we have a climate like Southern California, healthful and mild, though warm in the summer, especially north of Sydney. Fruits, grains, and vegetables are plenty throughout the year. The people are English speaking, intelligent, and as unprejudiced as in any part of the world. They are of religious tendencies. Many of our books have been sold there; a few persons have embraced the truth, and we receive most earnest entreaties to send them ministers. I have never experienced such feelings in reference to any work as I do regarding this; and yet we are powerless to help them. We have no minister to send. I cannot leave Melbourne. Elders Curtis and Israel also have fields which they cannot leave.

There is a prospect that in a short time we shall have three or four native laborers; but they are not of sufficient experience to be put at once in charge of so important a work as this is sure to become.

Another feature favorable to the opening of this field is that it is very likely to become self-supporting in a short time. As a Conference, we are prepared to take the responsibility of supporting the work in all these colonies, if we can only have the laborers. May we not therefore look to you again for help?

NEW ZEALAND.

By A. G. Daniells.

During the past year, our brethren in New Zealand have organized a Conference, a tract society, and a Sabbath-school Association. The Conference is composed of three churches, with 155 members. It employs two ministers, and two licentiates, and pays an annual tithe of $1,403. There have been seven canvassers in the field, laboring with good success.

Last November Elder R. Hare and I began a series of tent-meetings in Napier, about 400 miles south of Auckland. From the first, the interest was good, and the tent was well filled. When we took the tent down, in January, thirty-five persons had signed the covenant; $275 worth of books had been sold; and $250 had been received in donations to help meet our expenses.

Brother Hare then took the tent to Gisborne, and began meetings. The interest there was good. Ten or twelve began the observance of the Sabbath, and $150 in donations was received. I remained in Napier with the intention of staying but a few weeks, to establish them in the truth more firmly; but the interest so increased that I could not see my way clear to leave. About sixty persons have since signed the covenant, making ninety-five in all. Of this number, fifty-four have joined the church. We expect to have baptism soon, when about twenty more will join. We have already purchased an allotment for a church building, and the builders are preparing their tenders. This is about the extent of the efforts made in the way of lectures during the past year.

There are two points about our work here which are worthy of notice. First is the liberality of the people in contributing money to meet our expenses. During the eleven weeks our tent was in Napier, we received $250; while Brother Hare was at Gisborne, he received $150; during my stay here since the tent-meetings, I have received $475. Thus we have received $875 since last November. This, of course, more than meets our running expenses. Our tithe during the last year has almost doubled.

The second point I wish to mention is the book sales in connection with the tent-meetings. While the tent-meetings were in progress in Napier, the people purchased $275 worth of books. It was the same in Auckland when I was there. I consider these two points important. If we can get the people who attend the meetings to buy books and read, we have much hope of them. Then if they will pay all our expenses connected with a series of tent-meetings, there is no danger of involving the Conference in debt.

I make much use of the daily newspapers, and find it a great advantage to the work. It costs something, but that is more than made up by the increased attendance and donations. Then it gives opportunity to publish our views more widely. It also influences the editor's pen, and keeps him from writing against our work.

During the year, we have had some good experience in the canvassing work. In July, 1888, ten young persons came with me to Napier, to engage in the sale of our literature. In a short time one of the best agents went to Melbourne to act as agent for the Echo Office, and one or two others were compelled to quit work. About five have engaged in this work most of the year. During this time about $4,500 worth of our denominational books has been sold. This is encouraging, when we consider that the agents have had no training, and no one to look after them but myself, and I so busy with my tent work and other meetings that I could not help them much. It shows that the work can certainly be made a success when properly conducted. Brother E. M. Morrison is with us, training one man to take charge of our works on hygiene, and to act as general agent for our denominational books. We confidently expect to double our sales during the coming year.

In conclusion, I can say that we have many things to encourage us. The papers are very liberal in their notices of our work; people receive us kindly, pay our way, buy our books; and a fair proportion, compared with other fields, obey the truth. Last year we had 130 Sabbath-keepers; at present we have 230. Last year our tithe was $852.00; this year it is $1,403.00. God is good, and on the giving hand. We are of good courage to press on.

The most distressing obstacle that confronts us is the destitution of our fields as regards workers. God has gone out before us; there is the sound of a going in the tops of the mulberry trees; but there are so few to step in and do the work. If you can possibly see your way clear to send us more help, we shall prize it highly.

Grand Total $55,210.87

Dividing this amount by 26,000, the probable membership of the Seventh-day Adventist churches in America, shows an average donation of \$2.12 $\frac{1}{2}$ per member.

Last year we estimated the amount necessary to carry forward our foreign mission work at $60,000. A larger amount was really needed, but the committee, feeling the necessity of reducing the indebtedness incurred in building the mission printing houses, followed a very conservative policy, and postponed work in several important fields. By this means, the $55,000 contributed for the year, have been made to support the laborers in the field, and our debts have been reduced a few thousand dollars.

The plans adopted at our last General Conference, call for an enlargement of our foreign work, requiring: For work now in progress, $50,000; for missionary ship, $12,000; for reduction of present indebtedness, $10,000; for entering new fields, $8,000; for training of workers, $5,000; making a total of $85,000.

Will not all the friends of our foreign work increase their efforts for its support? Will not all who look for a speedy fulfillment of the prophecy of Christ, "This gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations, and then shall the end come," labor more diligently to hasten its fulfillment? When we give foreign missions their proper share of attention, will not our individual efforts in their behalf be greatly increased? Let our first-day offerings answer these questions.

EDUCATIONAL WORK.

(Report of W. W. Prescott, Educational Secretary, for the year 1889.)

THE amount of work done in the general field by the Educational Secretary during the past year has been necessarily limited, because while this added duty has been placed upon him, none of the previous duties have been lightened — rather increased from year to year.

However, a number of visits have been made during the year in various parts of the field, and something of the history of the work done at the different places, gathered.

After consultation with the General Conference Committee, it seemed desirable to attend the meeting of the Department of Superintendence of the National Educational Association, which was held in Washington, D. C., last March, and to present to that body of educators our work pertaining to religious liberty. But the only work which could be done was by private talks with members of the Association, and the circulation of some pamphlets.

The closing exercises of the school at Minneapolis, Minn., last April, were attended. The time there was largely spent in counsel with those from Minnesota and adjoining Conferences. The general plans for the school work in that part of the field were discussed, and it was there that the idea was first presented, of a union of effort in establishing schools, instead of having one in each Conference. To consider this plan, it was decided to call a meeting of representatives from the Conferences of Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, and Dakota. This meeting was called at Owatonna, Minn., in May, and was attended by the Secretary.

The Secretary visited the school at South Lancaster, Mass., which had undergone a general change, and from the information gathered from various sources, it seemed that the work of the year had been very satisfactory.

At Ottawa, Kan., at the camp-meeting in May, which was attended by the Secretary, a deep interest was manifested concerning the educational work. The Conference had appointed a committee to consult with the Secretary, and several meetings were held. It was here that the idea was presented of uniting the Conferences between the Mississippi River and the Rocky Mountains, and of opening one school centrally located with reference to the territory from which the larger share of students would naturally be drawn, and their future needs be cared for as they should arise. After a thorough discussion of the matter, the Conference expressed a willingness to unite with all the Conferences, and appointed a committee to act with the Educational Secretary in bringing about this result.

The Secretary also visited camp-meetings in Iowa, Michigan, and Illinois, delivering several addresses, and receiving much encouragement in the general work.

In the Battle Creek College, the work has seemed to prosper during the last year, while the interest in both intellectual and spiritual matters has evidently increased. The attendance has grown larger than ever before, and has been very permanent. The regular courses have been remodeled, and the work brought to a higher standard.

During the summer the Secretary made a call through the Review and Herald and the Signs of the Times for the names of all the teachers of our faith not at present employed in any of our schools, and in reply received letters from nearly two hundred persons representing all different grades, from those of many years' experience to those having taught only a single term. It is the plan to keep a directory of this work.

Blanks were prepared, and sent to the different schools, and from the returns we find that the attendance this year is larger than ever before, and that the work being done is of a higher grade. Bible study is made a special feature in every school, and physical labor is combined with mental culture. So far as possible the plan of the "Home" has been adopted in connection with the school. As to the advantage of this plan, the Secretary is more and more convinced. The effort is made as far as possible to combine the collegiate work with the training and influences of home, and thus guard the student from being thrust among strangers, where he is almost sure to be assailed by many dangers and temptations.

The following are some of the statistics gathered from reports of the different schools:—

The total number of students attending our seven schools from which reports have been sent, is 1,155, divided as follows: Battle Creek, 534; Healdsburg, 223; Milton, Or., 127; South Lancaster, 81; Minneapolis, 80; Portland, Or., 75; and Ottawa, Kan., 35. The total number of teachers employed is 54, divided as follows: Battle Creek, 19; Healdsburg, 12; Milton, Or., 5; South Lancaster, 9; Minneapolis, 4; Portland, Or., 3; Ottawa, Kan., 2.

The total value of grounds, buildings, apparatus, etc., is $220,082.28. This includes only five schools, those at Minneapolis and Ottawa not owning any property. This amount is divided as follows: Battle Creek, $109,720.05; Healdsburg, $50,000; South Lancaster, $44,062.23; Milton, Or., $12,000; Portland, Or., $4,300.

The importance of this growing work cannot be noted too carefully, and the advantage of having our own educational institutions where we can train our workers, seems to be clear to all. And the general policy which has been adopted in the college at Battle Creek for the last three years, has been to hold, as far as possible, young men and women of suitable age and ability, that a more thoroughly trained class of workers might be raised up.

The desirability of having some one who could give his whole time, if necessary, to the general management of our denominational schools, seems very important. The calls that are being made, the increase in efficiency in our schools, and the needs which exist that new schools be established upon a proper basis, seem to make such a demand as this almost imperative. Our denominational schools can be made of the very greatest value to our work. They can, if neglected, as we have learned in some cases by sad experience, become even an injury to our work.

The Committee on Education, of which the Educational Secretary was a member, made some suggestions to the General Conference at its recent session, which were adopted, the reports of which will be found on pages 50-52.

Members of committee: E. J. Waggoner, H. W. Miller, L. Dyo Chambers. Their report, as amended, stands as follows:—

"Home Missionary."

1. Resolved, That we recognize the fact that the Home Missionary has done a good work during the past year, and that we recommend its continued publication. [Oct. 30.]

Whereas, The needs of the Society demand the enlargement of the Home Missionary; and, —

Whereas, It has been published during the past year at a loss to the Society; therefore, —

2. Resolved, That the English edition thereof be enlarged to sixteen pages of the same size as heretofore; and that the price be twenty-five cents per year.

Whereas, There are several lines of work which should be carried on by the local tract societies the coming year; and, —

Whereas, To do so successfully requires that our people become better informed on these lines of work; therefore, —

3. Resolved, That the Home Missionary contain series of questions, notes of information, references, etc., on the following lines; namely, foreign missions, religious liberty, health and temperance, and the home missionary work; one lesson on each subject to appear every month. [Nov. 1.]

Boat for New York Ship Mission Work.

Whereas, It has been demonstrated that ship mission work in New York cannot be properly and satisfactorily carried on without a boat, by which the missionary can reach the ships that are at anchor in the bay; therefore, —

4. Resolved, That we request the Executive Board of this Society to secure as soon as possible such a boat as is necessary for this purpose.

Branches as Agents for Periodicals and Books.

5. Resolved, That we recommend to the various branches of this Society the plan of acting as agents for all the periodicals and books of the denomination, and such other publications as may be deemed advisable by the Executive Board. [Oct. 30.]

Instruction.

Whereas, There is much unused talent in the denomination, and there are open fields that invite every member to active work in some line; therefore, —

6. Resolved, That we recommend that the President and the Vice-President of this Society, in connection with such persons as may be chosen in the various State societies, give special attention to the work of instructing the members of the branch societies in the several lines of work; namely, amateur canvassing, conducting Bible readings, circulating petitions, laboring by correspondence, etc., and thus secure the development of a strong corps of workers in all parts of the field. [Nov. 1.]

Translation of Tracts into Foreign Languages.

7. Resolved, That we ask the Executive Board to hasten the work of translating tracts into foreign languages, as provided for in the first three resolutions of last year. (See Year Book for 1889, p. 86.) [Oct. 30.]

Tracts on Practical Truths of Christianity.

Whereas, There is an urgent demand for religious tracts written in a clear and simple style upon the practical truths of Christianity; therefore, —

8. Resolved, That the Executive Board prepare, or secure the preparation of, a series of small tracts specially adapted to meet this demand.

Publishing Committee.

9. Resolved, That we recommend the appointment of a publishing committee by the Executive Board.

Request to the Publishing Houses.

10. Resolved, That this Society ask the publishing houses to furnish the Society with denominational literature for free distribution at the cost of publication.

Circulation of Religious Liberty Literature.

11. Resolved, That we approve of and recommend the adoption of the plans for circulating religious liberty literature, which were set forth in the August Home Missionary Extra, pages 4 and 5.

Request for District Canvassing Agents.

12. Resolved, That we request the General Conference to provide for the support of a district canvassing agent in each of the districts of the General Conference.

Health and Temperance Work.

13. Resolved, That we recommend that an assistant to the State agent be chosen for the health and temperance work, in the same manner as the State agent is appointed, who shall labor under the direction of the latter in appointing and instructing agents for this line of work.

14. Resolved, That we approve of the proposition of the Sanitarium, to pay one half the salary of the State agent's assistant while engaged in this work, and that we recommend the prosecution of this work as far as can be done without taking workers from the canvass for religious books, or detracting in any way from the interest of that work. [Nov. 5.]

Agreement of Constitutions.

15. Resolved, That we request our Committee on Revision of Constitution, so to revise the constitution for State societies that it will be in harmony with the constitution of the International Society.

COMMITTEE ON NEW BOOKS.

Members of committee: L. T. Nicola, R. S. Donnell, S. S. Shrock, H. W. Pierce, J. H. Durland, W. R. Smith, O. A. Johnson, Emil Johnson, Rodney S. Owen, A. T. Jones, John Vuilleumier. The committee reported as follows:—

Your committee appointed to examine the new books issued by the Seventh-day Adventist publishing houses the past year, would submit the following report:—

Of new books in English, we would recommend—

"Civil Government and Religion."

1. "Civil Government and Religion," by Elder A. T. Jones, a pamphlet of 176 pages, forcibly and logically demonstrating from Scripture and history the proper relation of church and State. It clearly defines the attitude that American citizens should assume toward the efforts now being made to secure religious legislation.

"The National Sunday Law."

2. "The National Sunday Law," a pamphlet of 192 pages, containing the argument made before the United States Senate Committee, by Elder A. T. Jones, on the Sunday-rest bill introduced by Senator Blair. It contains all that was said on that occasion, with answers to all of the Senator's questions and objections written out in full. This pamphlet meets the question of Sunday laws in nearly all its phases.

"The Change of the Sabbath."

3. "The Change of the Sabbath," a pamphlet of 218 pages, written by Elder G. I. Butler. He gives in condensed form the evidence of the change of the Sabbath from the seventh to the first day of the week, showing the unhallowed character of that work. While the book affords the opportunity of circulating, in convenient form, the facts and arguments bearing on the question, it will also create an interest in the large work entitled, "History of the Sabbath."

"Great Controversy," Vol. I.

4. "Great Controversy," Vol. I., by Mrs. E. G. White. The work has lately been revised, and its readers will find in it that which will interest and profit. It is a subscription book, and is well fitted for that line of trade.

"Testimony No. 33."

5. "Testimony No. 33." The well-known character of these volumes makes any special recommendation or description unnecessary. This book should be thoroughly circulated among the members of the denomination, and we would suggest that our societies take special pains in this direction.

"The Sentinel and Bible Students' Libraries."

6. "The Sentinel and Bible Students' Libraries." We recognize in this literature that which is of great value to the cause of present truth, and in the manner of its circulation a convenient and economical means of reaching the people. We consider that the publishers deserve the co-operation of the tract societies.

We would urge our State societies to use their influence and organized methods in putting all the above-mentioned books into the hands of the people.

Of works in foreign languages, we would recommend the following:—

"Prophecies of Jesus."

7. "Prophecies of Jesus," in the Danish and the Swedish. It is well received by the public. A revised and enlarged edition will soon be issued. We believe that our tract societies should take a special interest in procuring Scandinavian canvassers for this book.

"Civil Government and Religion."

8. "Civil Government and Religion," which has been translated into the Danish, will soon appear in the Swedish. We consider it important for our agents and workers, both American and Scandinavian, to give this pamphlet as wide circulation as possible.

"Sunshine at Home."

9. "Sunshine at Home" in the Danish. This work has been rewritten and enlarged. We would advise those having charge of the canvassing work, to use the opportunities at their command to secure canvassers for this book, and from those speaking the Danish language.

"Great Controversy," Vol. IV.

10. The last revised edition of the "Great Controversy," Vol. IV., has already been translated into the Danish language, and is now in press in Christiana, Norway, and will soon be ready for the market.

"Scripture Reference."

11. Guide Biblique, or "Scripture References," adapted to the French from a German revision. It contains thirty-two pages, and fills a long-felt want in the French work.

"Who Changed the Sabbath?"

12. Qui a Changé le Sabbat? or "Who Changed the Sabbath?" a thirty-two-page French tract by Elder J. H. Waggoner. We consider it worthy of a wide circulation.

"The Sovereign Pontiff and the Church of Rome."

13. Le Souverain Pontife, or "The Sovereign Pontiff and the Church of Rome," a pamphlet of forty-eight pages, in the French. It is an able and forcible discourse on Daniel 7 and the "little horn." It was written by Prof. Gausen, and has been published at Basel by permission of the author's family. Its mission is a useful one.

"From Eden to Eden."

14. D'Eden en Eden, or "From Eden to Eden," by J. H. Waggoner. This book was issued at Basel, Switzerland, last March, appearing simultaneously in the French and the German. The work takes in the entire scope of redemption, and its facts and principles are stated in an entertaining and forcible manner. Its appropriate illustrations and attractive style will secure for it many interested readers. We would urge our societies to give this book the attention it deserves.

"From Eden to Eden" will soon be issued in the English. The Pacific Press Publishing Company will have an edition ready for the subscription book trade in a few weeks. What is said above in regard to the French and German editions, will also apply to the English edition.

SUPPLEMENTARY.

There is a call for publications as follows:—

The "Atonement" and "Christian Baptism" in the Swedish; "Tithing;" important testimonies of Mrs. E. G. White; "Spirit of God: its Offices and Gifts," in the Swedish and Danish languages; therefore, we would request the Book Committee to consider the practicability of meeting the demands in this direction as soon as possible. [Nov. 4.]

COMMITTEE ON CONSTITUTION AND WORK.

The committee consisted of L. C. Chadwick, D. T. Jones, D. A. Robinson, C. H. Jones, C. Eldridge, J. P. Gardner, L. McCoy, J. O. Corliss, E. H. Gates, C. A. Hall, and W. B. White. They reported as follows:—

A Standing Committee.

Whereas, The work of the International Tract Society is constantly increasing, thus necessitating such changes in the Constitution as will provide for enlarged facilities; and,—

Whereas, In harmony with the recommendations of the President of the General Conference, a large committee has been appointed to consider the advisability of forming a corporation or board to manage our various denominational enterprises, which may require changes in the Constitution that cannot be foreseen at this time; therefore,—

1. Resolved, That to avoid hasty and ill-advised changes in the Constitution, we recommend that a standing committee of three be appointed by the Chair, who shall examine the Constitution, and suggest such changes in it at the next annual session as may seem to them necessary.

Changes in State Constitution.

2. We also recommend that this committee suggest such changes in the Constitution of the State tract societies as may be thought best, which suggestions shall be published, either in our periodicals or in circular form, before the next annual meetings of the State tract societies.

Changes in International Constitution.

3. As a few changes in the International Constitution seem necessary at the present time, we suggest that Article VI. read as follows:—

SECTION 1. This Society shall be represented at its annual meetings by the officers of the State tract societies who are present, and by life members.

SEC. 2. Local tract societies of Seventh-day Adventists, outside of State tract organizations, shall be entitled to one delegate each. [Nov. 1.]

4. Your committee would respectfully recommend that Article III. of the Constitution of the International Tract Society, shall be so amended that it shall read as follows:—

The officers of this Society shall consist of a President, a Vice-President, a Treasurer, a Recording Secretary, two or more Corresponding Secretaries, as many Assistant Secretaries as may from year to year be deemed necessary, a General Canvassing Agent, who shall have the general oversight of the canvassing work in the entire field, and an Executive Board of nine, of which the President, Vice-President, and General Canvassing Agent shall by virtue of their offices be members.

These officers shall be elected at the annual meetings of the Society, with the exception of the General Canvassing Agent, who shall be appointed by the General Conference Committee and the President and the Vice-President of this Society.

5. That the following be added to Article IV.:—

Who may also appoint a District Canvassing Agent for each of the districts of the General Conference, who shall have the oversight of the canvassing work in his respective field, under the direction of the General Canvassing Agent. [Nov. 5.]

Standing Committee on Constitution.

In harmony with Resolution 1 of the Committee on Constitution and Work, the Chairman appointed the following persons as a standing committee to examine the Constitution and suggest changes at the next annual session:—

L. C. Chadwick, D. T. Jones, C. Eldridge, L. Dyo Chambers, A. O. Tait.

COMMITTEES FOR THE SESSION.

(Appointed by the Chair.)

ON NOMINATIONS. — M. H. Brown, A. J. Breed, W. S. Hyatt.

ON RESOLUTIONS. — E. J. Waggoner, A. O. Tait, W. W. Sharp.

ON AUDITING. — L. C. Chadwick, A. T. Robinson, W. H. Edwards.

COMMITTEE ON RESOLUTIONS.

Members of the committee: E. J. Waggoner, A. O. Tait, W. W. Sharp.
They reported as follows:—

Gratitude to God for Prosperity.

Whereas, The blessing of God has rested upon the Sabbath-school work in a marked degree during the past year, (1) in an increase of membership of over 2,400, (2) in an increase in class contributions and donations to missions, (3) in a special revival of his work in many places; therefore,—

I. Resolved, That we express our deep gratitude to God for his goodness and mercy, and for the prosperity that has attended the work in all parts of the field; and as an evidence of our appreciation of these blessings, we hereby pledge ourselves to engage in the work with more earnestness and zeal and deeper consecration during the coming year.

Thanks to General Conference for Help.

2. Resolved, That we express to the General Conference our thanks for granting to us the labors of Elder R. S. Owen and Elder E. J. Waggoner and wife during a portion of the past year, to labor in the interests of the Sabbath-school in connection with some of our general meetings.

Request for Three Laborers.

Whereas, The Sabbath-school work is acknowledged to be one of the most important branches of the cause; and, —

Whereas, Its interests have extended until it requires the undivided attention of several individuals properly to advance its work; therefore, —

3. Resolved, That we earnestly request the General Conference to grant us at least three laborers who shall devote their whole time to the advancement of the general Sabbath-school work; and further, —

4. Resolved, That said persons shall be chosen by the Executive Committee of the International Sabbath-school Association, and labor under its direction, subject to the approval of the General Conference Committee.

Request to the "Signs of the Times" and the "Review and Herald."

Whereas, The publication in the Signs of the Times and the Review and Herald, of the questions on the Sabbath-school lessons, together with the scripture texts printed in full, opens the way for the superficial perusal of the lesson without going to the Bible itself, thus lowering the grade of scholarship in our schools; therefore, —

5. Resolved, That we request the above-named papers to substitute for the publication of the lessons in full in their columns, extended notes on the same.

A Resolution Renewed.

Whereas, It has been demonstrated that when State secretaries have been able to devote their time to the interests of the Sabbath-school work, it has proved very conducive to the advancement of the cause; therefore, —

6. Resolved, That we renew our resolution of one year ago, upon this point, and recommend that those State associations that have not done so, select secretaries who can and will devote the necessary time to the work that its interests demand; and that, where necessary, they request their State Conference properly to remunerate them for their services.

"Sabbath-School Worker."

Whereas, The results of the publication of the Sabbath-School Worker have been beneficial to the Sabbath-school cause; therefore, —

7. Resolved, That we no longer consider it an experiment, but recognize it as a necessary factor in the Sabbath-school work, and request the Executive Committee to consider carefully the advisability of issuing it more frequently. [Oct. 25.]

Donations for a Missionary Ship.

Whereas, The General Conference has voted to build or buy a ship for missionary use on the Pacific Ocean, and to have it ready for sea early in 1890; therefore, —

8. Resolved, That we recommend that the Seventh-day Adventist Sabbath-schools throughout the world pledge their missionary contributions during the first six months of the year 1890 to the worthy object; and we urge that the State and local officers keep this object before the schools, so that their interest in the missionary work, and their liberality may be increased.

Donations for South America.

9. It is recommended that the donations for the last six months of 1890 go to open up the work in South America.*

Amendment of Constitution.

10. Resolved, That Section 1, of Article III., of the Constitution be so amended as to provide for an Executive Committee of nine, instead of seven, as at present.

Missionary Books in Libraries.

11. Resolved, That we urge our Sabbath-schools everywhere to keep in their libraries, as far as they are able, such missionary books as may be recommended by the Executive Committee, and to encourage their perusal by the pupils, especially by the children.

Attendance.

Whereas, According to the reports which have been returned from our Sabbath-schools, less than one half of the members of Seventh-day Adventist churches are members of the Sabbath-schools; therefore,—

12. Resolved, That we urge upon our Sabbath-school workers everywhere the importance of securing the regular attendance at Sabbath-school of all church members, not only that the school may be strengthened by their presence and influence, but that they may have the benefits to be derived from a systematic study of the Scriptures.

Family Schools.

Whereas, Many families are so situated that they cannot attend any regularly organized school; and,—

Whereas, It has been demonstrated that family schools can be organized and run successfully, and that they are a great benefit to the family, and a source of strength to the Association; therefore,—

13. Resolved, That we express our approval of what has been done in this line, and that we urge upon the officers of all our State associations the importance of continuing in it until every isolated family is organized into a Sabbath-school; and further,—

14. Resolved, That to this end we request our ministers, licentiates, Bible workers, canvassers, and others, to report to the State secretary, if within the bounds of any State association, and to the International secretary, if not within such bounds, the names and addresses of all such families. [Oct. 30.]

COMMITTEE ON NOMINATIONS.

The committee consisted of M. H. Brown, A. J. Breed, and W. S. Hyatt. They reported as follows:—

INTERNATIONAL HEALTH AND TEMPERANCE ASSOCIATION PROCEEDINGS.

ELEVENTH ANNUAL SESSION.

HELD AT BATTLE CREEK, MICH., OCT. 20-31, 1889.

J. H. Kellogg, M. D., Presiding Officer; Mrs. E. E. Kellogg, Secretary.

THE eleventh annual session of the Health and Temperance Association convened in the Tabernacle, Sunday evening, Oct. 20, 1889. The President of the Association, Dr. J. H. Kellogg, opened the meeting, and prayer was offered by Elder J. N. Loughborough. The President made interesting remarks upon the growing interest in the work of the Association, the present membership being about 20,000. Some of the reasons why there has not been more work done in the past, is that the officers have often been removed from their field, and the health and temperance work left to suffer.

In response to a call for reports from different fields, Elder Loughborough spoke for the Pacific Coast, reporting increased interest. In California cooking-schools are held in connection with the camp-meeting, and practical instruction is given in the art of properly preparing food. This feature always awakens a great deal of interest, both in the camp and among the people of the community.

Elder W. H. Wakeham spoke for Iowa, and Elder D. A. Robinson for South Africa. The latter said that after several weeks of fruitless efforts to gain the attention of the people in Cape Town, they succeeded by beginning to give health and temperance lectures.

The Chair called for O. A. Johnson to speak of health and temperance work among the Scandinavian people. This speaker stated that the health and temperance work had been found to be successful in introducing the truth in the old country, also in Chicago. He gave several interesting narrations of the value of the health journals as a work calculated to allay prejudice.

Dr. Kellogg said that young men and women should be educated in the science of healthful cookery, in order that they might instruct others as they go out to work. Volunteers are needed, to be educated so that they can go from house to house doing good to the afflicted, in connection with city mission work. Thus they may be real followers of Jesus.

Just before the close of the last session, he outlined the work of the proposed school for the training of health missionaries. The purpose of the school is, as stated by the Doctor, for the training of young men and women to give interesting health readings and lectures, and sanitary missionaries who could go from house to house and teach the principles of health and temperance.

The Doctor then gave an interesting narration of the self-denying work of the late Rev. Crossett, in China, and exhorted that his philanthropic work be emulated.

1. Resolved, That we recognize the guiding, prospering hand of God in the success that has attended the work of the Association during the year; and as stockholders and managers we pledge still greater earnestness, prayerfulness, and dependence upon divine wisdom for the year to come.

2. Resolved, That we approve of the action of the Trustees in the purchase of a new press, in lighting the Institution with electricity, in providing more commodious office rooms for the transaction of the business of the Association, and for the accommodation of the Executive Committees of the General Conference, General Conference Association, International Tract and Missionary Society, and National Religious Liberty Association, and in otherwise improving the facilities and appearance of the Institution.

3. Resolved, That we favor the establishing of two more branch offices, or distributing points (in addition to Chicago, Toronto, and Atlanta), located in the northwest and in the southwest, if in the judgment of the Trustees such action is thought advisable.

4. Resolved, That we place at the disposal of the General Conference Committee $2,000 on which they may draw toward paying the traveling expenses of persons who may be selected by the various Conferences and the General Canvassing Agent, to attend a training school for State agents, company leaders, and city canvassers, to fit them for handling either English or foreign publications; provided such school or schools be opened in one or more of our large cities, within the next six months.

8. Resolved, That we hereby authorize the Trustees to furnish free of charge to all regular canvassers during the coming year, a monthly or bi-monthly

[This was referred to a committee, who reported to the International Tract Society in favor of having four pages of the Home Missionary devoted regularly to the interests of the canvassing work, the Review and Herald having offered to bear the entire expense of furnishing the paper free to all regular canvassers during the year 1890.]

9. Resolved, That we favor the present policy of the Trustees in issuing secular publications of good character, and circulating the same without detriment to denominational work, and in otherwise competing with commercial publishers and printers, thereby keeping a large force of trained hands constantly in readiness for any emergency in our denominational publishing work.

PACIFIC PRESS PUBLISHING COMPANY PROCEEDINGS.

FOURTEENTH ANNUAL SESSION.

HELD AT OAKLAND, CAL., APRIL 22, 1889.

THE President of the Association, C. H. Jones, presided at this meeting, and his address, which followed the opening exercises, contained a very full history of the work of the Association for the year ending March 31, 1889. When first organized, the Pacific Press Publishing Company had a capital stock of only $28,000. This has been increased to $200,000, and the entire investment is now over $300,000. About 150 hands are employed, and thirteen power presses are kept in active operation in the job and book departments. The total business for the year amounted to $233,270.03, an increase of 42 per cent over the previous year. The financial standing of the Association is excellent; and while the net profits for the year amounted to only $4,938.48, the year was a most prosperous one, because of the great amount of denominational work done. The object of the Association is not to make money, but to spread abroad a knowledge of divine truth; therefore, the amount of printed matter given to the reading public, rather than the net profits, is the measure of its success. The following extract from the President's report will show what has been accomplished in this direction:—

Total number of pages of denominational books, pamphlets, and tracts printed during the year ending March 31, 1889.....	26,483,500
During the year ending March 31, 1888.....	18,700,800
Increase 1889 over 1888.....	7,782,700

This does not include books received from the Review and Herald Office, but only those printed and bound at the Pacific Press.

BOOK SALES.

Amount of book sales from the Subscription Book Department, for the year ending March 31, 1889.....	$62,309.05
For the year ending March 31, 1888.....	39,130.04
Increase 1889 over 1888.....	$23,179.01

The increase in the book sales, as noted above, has been almost entirely in the line of denominational books, the profit on which has been very small to the office; yet we have the satisfaction of knowing that just so much more present truth has been placed in the hands of the people.

The President reported that branch offices had been established in New York and Los Angeles. The reports from these branches were most encouraging, and showed that they had been established none too soon. But probably the most important step ever taken by the Pacific Press since the organization of the Company was the establishment of a branch office in London, England. The following extract from the President's report will explain why this work was undertaken by this Company:—

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Pacific Press Publishing Company held on Thursday, Dec. 27, 1888, the following communication from the Trustees of the Review and Herald Publishing Association, was presented for action:—

"At a meeting of the Trustees of the Seventh-day Adventist Publishing Association, held Nov. 20, 1888, at Battle Creek, all being present, the General Conference resolution, No. 12, was fully discussed, and the following resolution was adopted:—

"Whereas, The Review and Herald Office was requested by a vote of the General Conference to take immediate steps to establish a branch office in London, if in our judgment it seemed advisable; and,—

"Whereas, It is our opinion that the Pacific Press could establish a branch office there to better advantage, in some respects, than ourselves; therefore,—

"Resolved, That it is our preference that the Pacific Press establish and conduct said office, if their Trustees are willing, and can see their way clear to do so, and we will waive our decision in the matter until we learn whether they will undertake that enterprise or not."

By special invitation quite a number of our leading brethren and sisters were present at the meeting called to consider this proposal, and after due deliberation, the following resolution was adopted:—

Resolved, That, acting in harmony with the resolution passed at the last session of the General Conference, and at the request of the Board of Trustees of the Review and Herald Office, as indicated in the above communication, the Pacific Press Publishing Company proceed at once to establish a branch office in London, England, praying God to open the way.

At the annual meeting in April, before referred to, this action of the Board of Directors was indorsed by the adoption of the following resolutions:—

Whereas, Books published in America are more expensive, and not nearly so popular in England and the British colonies as if published in England; and,—

Whereas, The extension of our mission work and the rapid growth of our book business in the colonies indicate that the publishing work in London will assume large proportions, and will call for more attention and for more capital than the Mission Board can give it, and it therefore seems advisable for one of our Publishing Associations to take charge of the book business in London; and,—

Whereas, The Review and Herald Board has proposed that the Pacific Press Publishing Company take charge of this enterprise; therefore,—

BRANCH OFFICES OF THE PACIFIC PRESS.

451 Holloway Road, London, N., Eng.

3. Resolved, That we approve of the decision of the Directors that the Pacific Press shall establish an office in London, and we suggest the selection of William Saunders as manager of the London office.

Whereas, The success of our branch offices depends upon the faithfulness, efficiency, and number of canvassers in their employ; and,—

Whereas, Brother E. M. Morrison, who for several years has taken a leading part in the training of our canvassers, has been called by the General Conference Committee from the employ of the Pacific Press to engage in the subscription book work in Australia; therefore,—

4. Resolved, That we ask the assistance of the General Conference in securing a large corps of competent men, who are trained canvassers, to engage in the sale of our publications in Great Britain.

Pursuant to this action Brother Saunders, accompanied by Brother John I. Gibson, went to London last June, where they have established a publishing house, and begun the work in the English field. A company of six canvassers have also gone to that field, and the indications are, that a good work will be done there. Never in the history of our work have we seen so many and so favorable openings for the advancement of the work and the spread of the truth as at the present time. Calls are coming in from every direction, and we are limited only by the means at our command. The evidences are thickening on every hand to show that we are nearing the end, and it should be the earnest inquiry of each one, "Lord, what wilt thou have me to do?"

The following resolutions were also adopted at the same session of the Pacific Press Publishing Company:—

Whereas, The record of the past year shows a large increase of business over the preceding year; and,—

Whereas, This increase has largely been in the direction of our denominational work and the spread of the truth which God has intrusted to us for the salvation of souls; therefore,—

1. Resolved, That we express our gratitude to God, from whom all these blessings come, for the prosperity which has attended this Institution, and that we will, by his grace, labor with more faith and humility in the year to come.

2. Resolved, That we rejoice in the increased circulation of our religious literature, amounting to over eleven million pages more than for the year previous.

Whereas, Our brethren in the Atlantic Coast States approve of our action in the establishment of an office in New York City, and request us to keep a full line of all our works there; therefore,—

3. Resolved, That we advise the enlargement of the New York Depository, and the maintenance thereof of a full line of our denominational publications.

Whereas, The establishment of the branch offices in New York and London calls for additional investment of capital, inasmuch as those offices must carry a large and varied stock of publications; therefore,—

4. Resolved, That we again earnestly request our brethren and sisters to come to the support of the work by taking stock in the Pacific Press Publishing Company, and by loaning to it funds for the proposed enlargement of its business.

5. Resolved, That we approve of the efforts of the managers during the past year, to fit up workers for our branch offices and for mission fields, and favor the continuance of this line of work.

6. Resolved, That we express our approval of the Sentinel Library, and the plans for the Bible Students' Library, and will endeavor to give them a wide circulation.

7. Resolved, That we are grateful for the success that has thus far attended the establishment, by the Pacific Press, of the evening classes, and that we urge all the employees who can possibly do so, to avail themselves of this means of education to better fit them for usefulness in the cause of God.

Whereas, The mission for which the American Sentinel was originated, the increased interest which is taken in this important publication, the living issues with which it has to do, and the rapid spread of National Reform principles, and increase of efforts towards religious legislation, make it necessary that the Sentinel should be published nearer the national capital, and the center of news, commerce, literature, population, and religious work of this country; and, —

Whereas, New York City presents unexampled facilities for the successful publication of such a journal, and excellent advantages in overlooking the great politico-religious field; therefore, —

10. Resolved, That it is advisable and necessary that the publication of the American Sentinel from the New York office be begun not later than Jan. 1, 1890.

For action of the General Conference indorsing the action taken by the Pacific Press relative to the London branch, see page 44.

C. H. Jones, W. C. White, J. N. Loughborough, M. J. Church, Joseph Leininger, S. C. Stickney, and E. A. Chapman were elected directors for the ensuing year, and the Board was subsequently organized by the election of the following —

REGULATIONS FOR CANVASSERS.

1. The subscription-book departments of the several Publishing Houses in the denomination shall be recognized as the heads of the subscription-book work in all territory occupied by them; and all who take agencies shall act in harmony with plans suggested by the subscription-book department of the publishing house whose territory they occupy; said plans having been first approved by the Board of Trustees, and the International Tract Society at its annual sessions.

2. The tract societies in the several States shall act as the sole agents of the said offices of publication for all their religious subscription books, provided that an efficient man is kept in the territory occupied by them, who shall superintend the work of qualifying, appointing, and working local sub-agents in accordance with principles of order and thoroughness; said tract societies to report to the publishing houses each week the number of orders taken for each subscription book. Provided always, that the publishing houses furnish no books to agents who do not conform to the rules adopted by the International Society, whether in territory controlled by the publishing houses, or in the territory of any State society.

3. Wherever it is practicable to do so, the State agent shall organize his canvassers into companies, and appoint (with the approval of the leading Conference and tract society officers) a leader for each company, who shall direct its movements in harmony with the plans of the State agent; said leader to canvass on commission when not actually engaged in assisting inexperienced members of his company.

4. No person shall be appointed on religious subscription books who is not properly recommended to the State agent, or by him known to be a suitable person.

5. No canvasser shall remove or be removed from any State to work in another, without permission from the State agents of both such States, or from the State secretaries, in case there are no State agents.

6. The tract societies shall do a cash business with agents; security to be given or the C. O. D. plan adopted when cash cannot be paid in advance.

7. No agent in the employ of any of the tract societies shall be allowed to solicit orders for more than one subscription book at a time, except by the consent of the State agent.

8. Every State society shall furnish its local agents with subscription books at one half the retail prices; the transportation charges being paid by the agent, unless books are ordered in lots of 100 lbs. or more, and in time so that they can be sent by freight direct from the office of publication, in which case the office pays freight.

9. No agent or other person shall be permitted to canvass for any subscription book who hereafter knowingly violates the important rule of one price, except as herein provided:—

(a.) That a book may be given away, or damaged copies may be sold below the regular price.

(b.) That Seventh-day Adventist ministers, colporters, Bible workers, and all others who devote their entire time to any branch of the missionary work, may purchase subscription books of the State secretary, and for their own private use exclusively, at fifty per cent discount from the retail prices. If an agent furnishes them, the cost of postage, express, or freight must be added.

(c.) That twenty per cent discount be allowed ministers of all other denominations.

10. Agents shall take no orders outside the territory that has been assigned them, on penalty of forfeiting the profits on all such orders. They are required, however, to work both sides of the road on their north and east boundary lines (whether one or more townships or counties), and to leave both sides of the road unworked on the south and west, except in cases where territory is not bounded by roads. All exceptions and variations must be reported to the State agent.

11. Agents working alone shall, at the end of each week, report to the State secretary the number of orders taken during the week, giving the styles of bindings desired, and the time set for delivery; also ordering in time the total number of books necessary for any given delivery, and reporting the number delivered when the work is completed.

12. Agents working with a company shall report weekly to the leader, who in turn shall make a full company weekly report to both the State agent and State secretary, also ordering of the latter the books required for the deliveries of the entire company, and reporting the number of each book delivered by the company.

13. The agent's regular commission on all subscription books sold by ministers, colporters, or others, not working under a regular contract, shall constitute a canvassers' reserve fund, under the control of each State society; and this regular percentage on books thus sold prior to or while an appointed agent is canvassing the territory, shall be paid to such agent on the completion of his work, if in the judgment of the secretary and the State agent such work has been faithfully performed. Otherwise the amount shall revert to the society.

14. Whenever and wherever our city missions are established, they shall be protected by the society in whose territory they are located, as sole agents for all religious subscription books, provided they work in harmony with the plans of the State agent; and the agent's usual commission on books sold by mission workers who do not obtain their support by canvassing, shall be used for the support of the mission with which they are connected.

POSTAL GUIDE.

DOMESTIC RATES OF POSTAGE.

ALL mailable matter for transmission by the United States mails within the United States, is divided into four classes, under the following regulations:—

FIRST-CLASS MATTER.

This class includes letters, postal cards, and anything sealed or otherwise closed against inspection, or anything containing writing not allowed as an accompaniment to printed third-class matter.

Rates of letter postage to any part of the United States, two cents per ounce or fraction thereof.

Rates on local or drop letters at free-delivery offices, two cents per ounce or fraction thereof. At offices where there is no free delivery by carriers, one cent per ounce or fraction thereof.

Rates on postal cards, one cent. Nothing must be added or attached to a postal card, except that a printed address slip may be pasted on the address side. The addition of anything else subjects the card to letter postage. A card containing any offensive dun, or any scurrilous or indecent communication, will not be forwarded. Nothing but the address must be placed on the face, or stamped side.

Rates on specially delivered letters, ten cents on each letter in addition to the regular postage. This entitles the letter to immediate delivery by special messenger. Special delivery stamps are sold at post-offices, and must be affixed to such letters. An ordinary ten-cent stamp affixed to a letter will not entitle it to special delivery.

Prepayment by stamps invariably required. Postage on all letters should be fully prepaid, but if prepaid one full rate and no more, they will be forwarded, and the amount of deficient postage collected on delivery; if wholly unpaid, or prepaid with less than one full rate, and deposited at a post-office, the addressee will be notified to remit postage, and if he fails to do so, the letter will be sent to the Dead Letter Office. Such letters will, however, be returned to the sender if he is located at the place of mailing, and if his address is printed or written upon it.

Letter rates are charged on all productions by the typewriter or manifold process.

Letters (but no other class of mail matter) will be returned to the sender free, if a request to that effect is printed or written on the envelope. There is no limit of weight for first-class matter.

Prepaid letters will be re-forwarded from one post-office to another, upon the written request of the person addressed, without additional charge for postage. The direction on forwarded letters may be changed as many times as may be necessary to reach the person addressed.

SECOND-CLASS MATTER.

This class includes all newspapers, periodicals, or matter exclusively in print and regularly issued at stated intervals as frequently as four times a year, from a known office of publication or news agency, to actual subscribers or news agents, and transient newspapers and publications of this character mailed by persons other than publishers.

Rates of postage to publishers and news agents, one cent a pound or fractional part thereof, prepaid by special stamps. Publications designed primarily for advertising or free circulation, or not having a legitimate list of subscribers, are excluded from the pound rate, and pay third-class rates.

Publications sent to actual subscribers in the county where published, are free, unless mailed for local delivery at a letter-carrier office.

Rates of postage on transient newspapers, magazines, or periodicals, one cent for each four ounces or fraction thereof. It should be observed that the rate is one cent for each four ounces, not one cent for each paper. These rates do not apply for transient publications mailed for local delivery by carriers at a free-delivery office.

Sample copies (which must be exactly like regular edition) may be sent by publishers from the office of publication, at the pound rate, to persons not subscribers, for the purpose of inducing them to subscribe, or advertise, or become agents thereof. They are not entitled to free circulation in the county where issued, and must be mailed separately from editions that are. They must not be inclosed in the same package with copies intended for subscribers. They cannot be mailed by news agents at the pound rate.

News agents and newsboys are persons engaged in the business of selling second-class publications. A mere local or traveling agent for a publication is not a news agent. The news agent must file with the postmaster at his office of mailing, a statement showing the names of the periodicals which he mails, the post-office to which they are directed, the number of subscribers to each on his list, with dates to which their regular subscriptions extend.

Supplements and extra editions may, without extra postage, be folded within the regular issues of second-class publications; but they must in every case be issued with the publication, and contain matter omitted from the regular issue for want of space, time, or greater convenience. If mailed separately, they must be prepaid as third-class matter.

A mark, without words, may be used to call attention to a word or passage; or a typographical error may be corrected. The words marked copy may then be written on the publication.

THIRD-CLASS MATTER.

Mail matter of the third class includes printed books, pamphlets, engravings, circulars (in print or by the hectograph, electric pen, or similar process), and other matter wholly in print, proof-sheets, corrected proof-sheets, and manuscript copy accompanying the same.

The rate on matter of this class is one cent for each two ounces or fraction thereof.

Manuscript, unaccompanied by proof-sheets, must pay letter rates.

Third-class matter must admit of easy inspection, otherwise it will be charged letter rates on delivery. It must be fully prepaid, or it will not be forwarded. Its wrapper must bear no writing or printing except the name and address of the sender, and a return request.

The limit of weight is four pounds, except single books in separate packages, on which the weight is not limited.

The name and address of the sender, preceded by the word from, may be written upon the package, and a simple manuscript dedication may appear in a book or upon the article-inclosed.

FOURTH-CLASS MATTER.

Fourth-class matter is all mailable matter not included in the three preceding classes, which is so prepared for mailing as to be easily withdrawn from the wrapper and examined. It embraces merchandise and samples of every description, and coin or specie.

Rate of postage, one cent for each ounce or fraction thereof (except seeds, roots, bulbs, cuttings, cions, and plants, the rate on which is one cent for each two ounces or fraction thereof). This matter must be fully prepaid, or it will not be forwarded.

Articles of this class that are liable to injure or deface the mails, such as glass, sugar, needles, nails, pens, etc., must be first wrapped in a bag, box, or open envelope, and then secured in another outside tube or box, made of metal or hard wood, without sharp corners or edges, and having a sliding clasp or screw lid, thus securing the articles in a double package. The public should bear in mind that the first object of the department is to transport the mails safely, and every other interest is made subordinate.

Such articles as poisons, explosives, or inflammable articles, live animals, insects, or substances exhaling a bad odor, will not be forwarded in any case.

The regulations respecting the mailing of liquids are as follows: Liquids, not ardent, vinous, spirituous, or malt, and not liable to explosion, spontaneous combustion, or ignition by shock or jar, and not inflammable (such as kerosene, naphtha, or turpentine), may be admitted to the mails for transportation within the United States. When contained in glass bottles or vials, such bottles or vials must be strong enough to stand the shock of handling in the mails, and must be inclosed in a wooden or papier-mache block or tube not less than three sixteenths of an inch thick in the thinnest part, strong enough to support the weight of mails piled in bags, and to resist rough handling; and there must be provided, between the bottle and its wooden case, a cushion of cork-crums, cotton, felt, asbestos, or some other absorbent, sufficient to protect the glass from shock in handling, the block or tube to be closed by a tightly-fitting screw lid of wood or metal, with a rubber or other pad so adjusted as to make the block or tube water-tight, and to prevent the leakage of the contents, in case of breaking of the glass.

When inclosed in a tin cylinder, metal case, or tube, such cylinder, case, or tube should have a screw lid with a rubber or cork cushion inside in order to make the same water-tight, and should be securely fastened in a wooden or papier-mâché block (open only at one end), and not less in thickness and strength than above prescribed. It would be well always to consult the postmaster in reference to the proposed mailing of liquids. The limit of admissible liquids and oils is four ounces, liquid measure.

Limit of weight of fourth-class matter (excepting liquids), four pounds.

The name and address of the sender, preceded by the word from, also the names and number (quantity) of the articles inclosed, may be written on the wrapper of fourth-class matter without additional postage. A request to the delivering postmaster may also be written, asking him to return the package if not delivered.

REGISTRATION.

All kinds of postal matter, except second-class matter, can be registered at the rate of ten cents for each package in addition to the regular rates of postage, to be fully prepaid by stamps. Each package must bear the name and address of the sender, and a receipt will be returned from the person to whom addressed.

The Post-Office Department or its revenue is not by law liable for the loss of any registered mail matter.

MONEY-ORDERS.

Domestic money-orders are issued by money-order post-offices for any amount up to $100, at the following rates:—

For sums not exceeding $5, five cents; for $5 to $10, eight cents; for $10 to $15, ten cents; for $15 to $30, fifteen cents; for $30 to $40, twenty cents; for $40 to $50, twenty-five cents; for $50 to $60, thirty cents; for $60 to $70, thirty-five cents; for $70 to $80, forty cents; for $80 to $100, forty-five cents.

When more than $100 is required, additional orders must be obtained, but not more than three orders will be issued in one day to the same payee, payable at the same office.

POSTAL NOTES.

These will be issued for sums less than $5, for a fee of three cents, and are payable to any person presenting them, either at the office designated on the note, or at the office of issue within three months of date of issue.

LETTER-SHEET ENVELOPES.

The Post-Office Department now issues a combined letter sheet and envelope of the denomination of two cents. The prices are as follows: one, three cents; two, five cents; five, twelve cents; ten, twenty-three cents; one hundred, $2.30; one thousand, $23.

STAMPED ENVELOPES.

Embossed, stamped envelopes and newspaper wrappers of several denominations, sizes, and colors are kept on sale at post-offices, singly or in quantities, at a small advance on the postage rate.

FREE DELIVERY.

The free delivery of mail matter at the residences of the people desiring it, is required by law in every city of 50,000 or more population, and may be established at every place containing not less than 20,000 inhabitants.

The franking privilege was abolished July 1, 1873, but the following mail matter may be sent free by legislative saving clauses; viz:—

1. All public documents printed by order of Congress, the Congressional Record, and speeches contained therein franked by members of Congress or the Secretary of the Senate, or Clerk of the House.

2. Seeds transmitted by the Commissioner of Agriculture, or by any Member of Congress, procured from that department.

3. All periodicals sent to subscribers within the county where printed.

4. Letters and packages relating exclusively to the business of the Government of the United States, mailed only by officers of the same, publications required to be mailed to the Librarian of Congress by the copyright law, and letters and parcels mailed by the Smithsonian Institution. All these must be covered by specially printed "penalty" envelopes or labels.

All communications to Government officers, and to or from Members of Congress, are required to be prepaid by stamps.

SUGGESTIONS TO THE PUBLIC.

(From the United States Official Postal Guide.)

Mail all letters, etc., as early as practicable, especially when sent in large numbers, as is frequently the case with newspapers and circulars. The trouble of the post-office is much diminished if letters, when mailed in large numbers, are tied in bundles, with the addresses all in one direction.

Make the address legible and complete, giving the name of the post-office, county, and State. The name of the street and number of the house should also be given on letters addressed to cities where letter-carriers are employed; while the letter will eventually reach its destination without a number, the omission is often a cause of hesitation and delay. In the case of letters for places in foreign countries, and especially in Canada, in which country there are many post-offices having the same name as post-offices in the United States and in England, the name of the country as well as the post-office should be given in full. Letters addressed, for instance, merely to "London," without adding "England," are frequently sent to London, Canada, and vice versa, thereby causing delay, and often serious loss. Letters addressed to Burlington, N. S. (Nova Scotia), often go to Burlington, New York, on account of the resemblance between S and Y when carelessly written. It would be better to write out names of States in full.

Avoid, as much as possible, using envelopes made of thin paper, especially where more than one sheet of paper, or any other article than paper, is inclosed. Being often handled, and even in the mail-bags subject to pressure, such envelopes not unfrequently split open, giving cause of complaint against officials who are entirely innocent in the matter.

Never send money or any other article of value through the mail, except by means of a money-order, or in a registered letter. Any person who sends money or jewelry in an unregistered letter not only runs the risk of losing his property, but exposes to temptation every one through whose hands his letter passes, and may be the means of ultimately bringing some clerk or letter-carrier to ruin.

See that every letter contains the full name and post-office address of the writer, with county and State, in order to secure the return of the letter, if the person to whom it is directed cannot be found. A much larger portion of the undelivered letters could be returned if the names and addresses of the senders were always fully and plainly written or printed inside or on the envelopes. Persons who have large correspondence find it most convenient to use "special request envelopes;" but those who mail only an occasional letter, can avoid much trouble by writing a request to "return if not delivered," etc., on the envelope.

When dropping a letter, newspaper, etc., into a street mailing box or the receptacle at a post-office, always see that the packet falls into the box, and does not stick in its passage; observe, also, particularly, whether the postage stamps remain securely in their places.

Postage stamps should be placed on the upper right-hand corner of the address side of all mail matter.

Postmasters are not obliged to accept in payment for postage stamps or stamped envelopes, wrappers, etc., any currency which may be so mutilated as to be uncurrenct, or the genuineness of which cannot be clearly ascertained. They are not obliged to receive more than twenty-five cents in copper or nickel coins. They are not obliged to affix stamps to letters, nor are they obliged to make change, except as a matter of courtesy. They must not give credit for postage.

Letters cannot be carried out of the mail except in postage-stamped envelopes. Even if a person is not acting as a common carrier, there is no objection to his carrying a sealed letter, whether in a stamped envelope or not; but to continue the practice, or receive money for so doing, would subject the party to a penalty of one hundred and fifty dollars. Newspapers, magazines, and periodicals may be carried out of the mail for sale or distribution to subscribers, but if they are put into a post-office for delivery, the postage must be paid thereon.

It is forbidden by the regulations of the Post-Office Department for postmasters to give to any person information concerning the mail matter of another, or to disclose the name of a box-holder at a post-office.

Mail matter deposited in any receptacle erected by the Post-Office Department, such as street mailing-boxes for the reception of mail matter to be collected by letter-carriers, or boxes in railroad depots for the reception of matter to be collected by employees of the railway mail service, cannot be reclaimed by any one under any circumstances. If letters intended for city delivery are deposited in boxes in railroad depots, it is at the risk of the person doing so. Such mail cannot be reclaimed, except through the Dead Letter Office.

Letters addressed to persons temporarily sojourning in a city where the Free Delivery System is in operation, should be marked "Transient" or "General Delivery," if not addressed to a street and number, or some other designated place of delivery.

All matter concerning lotteries, gift concerts, or schemes devised to defraud the public, or for the purpose of obtaining money under false pretenses, is denied transmission in the United States mails.

ANNUAL ADDRESSES.

OPENING ADDRESS.

By President O. A. Olsen.

We are glad this morning to bid all these delegates and friends a hearty welcome. The rapid flight of time has brought us to the opening of another annual session of the General Conference. Another year with its privileges, its opportunities, its labors, and its cares is past. It is with a feeling of relief that I, in behalf of the committee appointed at the last session of this Conference, now return the responsibility that we have carried during the year, to this assembly of delegates, which is the highest authority and most responsible body that we recognize in connection with God's work upon the earth. With what faithfulness and efficiency our work has been done, is for you and the Omniscient Judge to decide. As president of the General Conference, I have labored under many disadvantages. I had been in Europe most of the time for three years, and on account of the work had to remain there about half of the present year. In consequence of this long absence, I was not so well acquainted with the work in this country, and had to learn much about it after I returned in May.

With these explanations, I will call your attention to some of the most important points in the work that is before this Conference. This work has grown from a small and humble beginning until it extends to many countries of the world. It will devolve upon you to provide laborers and means for the work already begun, and to lay plans for entering new fields. Every question should be given careful thought and mature deliberation. Your brethren have placed grave responsibilities on you by electing you as delegates to this Conference, and God will hold you accountable for the use you make of your time and opportunities while here. Every member of the Conference is under obligation to his brethren and to God to consider carefully and unselfishly every question that may come before the Conference, before casting his vote.

We are very thankful to God for the degree of prosperity that has attended our work the past year. Every field reports encouraging success. Generally our laborers have been in good health and courage, and unity of effort has characterized the work. Two new Conferences have been organized, one in New Zealand, and one in this country to be known as the Atlantic Conference. The hand of death has stricken down one of the early pioneers in this work; — Elder J. H. Waggoner died very suddenly at his post of duty in Basel, Switzerland, just as he was perfecting some of his most important work. Thus another of the old pioneers has fallen, and left the work to rest upon other shoulders.

Elder Butler, long the esteemed and respected president of this Conference, has had to retire from active labor on account of enfeebled health. But we are glad to hear that he is improving; and we hope that at no distant day he will be able again to engage actively in the work which we all so much love.

CAMP-MEETINGS.

There have been forty-six camp-meetings held in this country this year; twenty-six large or general meetings, and twenty of a more local character.

These meetings have been attended by perhaps 15,000 of our own people, besides large numbers not of our faith. Nearly all have been exceptionally good, and those who attended them have been encouraged. In Europe two camp-meetings have been held, one in Sweden, the other in Switzerland. They were both seasons of much interest, especially the one held in Switzerland.

WORK IN FOREIGN FIELDS.

The Central European Conference embraces the countries of Switzerland, Germany, Austria, France, Italy, Portugal, Servia, Bulgaria, Turkey, Greece, and Russia. The publishing house at Basel, which is the central institution in this Conference, has done a good business the past year. The annual report shows a gain of $1,559.55 for the year. When we consider the fact that this office has never before been self-sustaining, this report is very encouraging. The aggressive work of the Central European Conference this year has been largely in the direction of Germany. A mission and training school for workers has been established in Hamburg, the design of which is to prepare workers for Germany, Russia, and other German speaking countries. Elder Conradi reports good success in this school. Besides those who went over from America, native brethren from Russia, Germany, and other countries, are in attendance, and through the labors of the mission workers several have accepted the truth in that city. There are now 300 Sabbath-keepers in Russia. In other parts of the Conference there has been encouraging growth. An item of special interest is the organization of a Spanish church in Relizane, North Africa, by Brother Comte of this Conference.

THE NEEDS OF THE CENTRAL EUROPEAN CONFERENCE.

They need tracts in the Russian language, and more books and tracts in the German. They also need publications in the Spanish language. A strong plea is also coming in from Constantinople for tracts in the Turkish language, and a missionary to labor in Turkey. In France and Italy comparatively little has been accomplished the past year. There ought to be a good, active laborer in each of these countries; also one each in Austria, Holland, and Spain.

SCANDINAVIA.

Scandinavia includes Sweden, Denmark, and Norway. The work in these countries is making steady progress. Each of the three countries has a tent, and successful tent-meetings have been held the past summer. There are about fifty canvassers in this field who are having good success.

At present we have nearly 1,200 Sabbath-keepers in these countries. We have six ministers that give all their time to preaching, and there are four others that give part of their time.

The subject of schools is much agitated by our brethren there. They are earnestly pleading for help in this line. We recommend this subject for the consideration of this Conference.

ENGLAND.

The work has met with many difficulties in England. Recently steps have been taken to put the work there on a more substantial footing than ever before. During the past year the Pacific Press has established a branch office in London. Six canvassers have been sent from this country to open up the book business on the British Islands; and it is hoped that through the means of the canvassing work, the branch office in London may be self-sustaining from the start. Elder Haskell, who is now in South Africa, will be absent from the work in London for a number of months. Elder Robinson will be present to represent the English Mission, and can speak of its wants at the proper time.

AUSTRALIA AND NEW ZEALAND.

The work has been growing rapidly in both of these countries. There is now an organized Conference in Australia, and another in New Zealand. A publishing association has been organized in Australia during the past year, and a publishing house built and equipped, a large portion of the capital having been subscribed in that country. The value of the building is about $13,704. Elder Israel has been laboring in Tasmania during the greater part of the year, and as a result, there are reported about 100 Sabbath-keepers now on that island. It is a part of the Australian Conference. Elder A. G. Daniells has had marked success in the work in New Zealand during the year. A large number have been brought into the truth, considering the labor that has been put forth, and a Conference has been organized with a membership of nearly 200.

WANTS OF THE AUSTRALASIAN FIELD.

Elder G. C. Tenney, of Australia, is making a strong plea for help in that field. They want a good business manager to take charge of the work in the office, so as to leave Elder Tenney free for editorial and Conference work. In New Zealand Elder Daniells also wants another laborer to assist him in the work there. Brother E. M. Morrison has gone to Australia to take charge of the canvassing work, to remain two years. It is hoped that a business can be worked up that will make the office there self-supporting from this time forth.

SOUTH AFRICA.

The work has been making some progress in South Africa the past year. They have purchased a mission house in Cape Town, which, with the grounds connected with it, cost about $12,000. This will be met by funds raised there. They are also arranging to build a meeting-house in Beaconsfield. Brother and Sister Druillard, of Nebraska, have been sent there to assist in the work, Sister Druillard to keep the books, and take charge of the canvassing work. Brother P. W. B. Wessels from that field is now attending school at the College in this place, to get a better understanding of the work, and to fit himself for a laborer in the South African field. A small printing-press has been purchased by them the past year, from which to print circulars and other advertising work. There are many Dutch people in this field, and a laborer of that nationality should be sent back with Brother Wessels, if possible, to assist in the work among that people. It is thought that the Kaffers, or natives of South Africa, many of whom are educated and intelligent people, would be favorable to the truth if it could be presented to them in their own language. A strong plea is made for tracts in the Kaffer language.

SOUTHERN FIELD.

The Southern States in our own country have been an important missionary field for several years. Much time and money have been expended there, but with a few exceptions the results have not been satisfactory. The last General Conference sent companies of canvassers into that territory. This was something of an experiment, but has proved quite satisfactory. The company sent to Shreveport, La., has been doing good work. Brother Hill has canvassed some in Mississippi, with very satisfactory results. In North Carolina the canvassers have done fairly well, as also in Georgia. This demonstrates the fact that books can be successfully sold in the Southern States, and that laborers can support themselves in this way while getting the truth before the people. A successful institute was held at Nashville, Tenn., for the Southern field, under the direction of Elder R. M. Kilgore. From the present outlook it seems that the truth must be placed before the people in the South more through books and papers than by the living preacher. It will be for this Conference to consider this matter, and decide what shall be done for the Southern field.

ATLANTIC CONFERENCE.

At the meeting of the General Conference, held last March, the territory in the District of Columbia, the States of Maryland, Delaware, New Jersey, the two southern counties of New York, and Staten Island and Long Island, were placed under the management of a committee, of which Elder J. E. Robinson was chairman, with the understanding that after June 30 they were to support their own laborers, with the exception of a minister in Brooklyn and one in Washington. They did good work in that field during the summer; and at a meeting held in Washington, D. C., September 25-30, a Conference was organized with about 175 members. Elder J. E. Robinson was elected president. Their finances were in excellent condition, and there was a good spirit among the laborers and the brethren throughout the field. The outlook is very favorable for a prosperous Conference. They will no doubt ask for admission into the General Conference at this session.

CITY MISSION AND BIBLE WORK.

This is an important line of work, and should receive careful attention from this Conference. Some excellent results have been seen from city mission work in the past; but it has proved too expensive for the various State Conferences to establish and maintain missions in all their large cities. It has been thought by those of experience, that a better way would be to establish canvassing stations as head-quarters for canvassing work, and connect with them one or more Bible-workers to develop the interest created from reading the books sold. In this way many more cities can be entered. Thus far this plan of work seems to have been quite satisfactory.

We would encourage the training of Bible-workers, as this has proved an efficient method by which to extend the knowledge of present truth. But care should be taken in the selection and training of workers. It is not the great number that assures success; it depends much more upon the efficiency and faithfulness of those who engage in the work.

A Bible school has been established and fitted up in Chicago, where the best facilities have been provided for the training of Bible-workers. I would call the attention of our State Conference Committees to this school, which ought to have a large patronage.

HEALTH AND TEMPERANCE.

This subject is not receiving all the attention its importance demands. The Spirit of God has spoken on this matter very pointedly, both in the Holy Scriptures and in the Testimonies to the church. It is a subject very closely connected with the special message for this time, and for that reason demands our serious attention. With this, as in other matters, we are liable to become slack. This matter deserves attention from this body.

The Sanitarium is in a prosperous condition. During the past year, a new hospital building has been completed. This gives the institution more room, and greater facilities for its work, and all the space is fully occupied. We also hear encouraging reports of the prosperity of the Rural Health Retreat, at St. Helena, Cal., and the health institution at Mt. Vernon, Ohio.

PUBLISHING INSTITUTIONS.

I am happy to be able to report to this Conference that all the leading publishing institutions owned and controlled by our people are in a prosperous condition. The Review and Herald Publishing House, the oldest and strongest institution which we have, has been doing more work this year than ever before. The annual report of that Association will perhaps show more book sales this year than for any two preceding years. As you will be able to see, improvements have been made, and facilities have been provided to meet this increasing demand for books and publications. Branch offices have been established at Toronto, Canada; Chicago, Ill; and Atlanta, Ga.

The Pacific Press Publishing Company has also been doing good work during the past year. Its annual report showed an increase over the work of previous years of about 40 per cent, as before stated. They have opened a branch office in London, England, and another in New York City.

EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS.

I can say with pleasure that the interest of our people in education is increasing. There is a large number of young men and women among us who are anxious to complete a course in college; and there are many others who cannot spend so much time in schools, who are planning to attend the shorter terms that will be held here this winter, of which I will speak more fully later. I regard this as very favorable. We must have intelligent, enterprising, educated, as well as consecrated workers; and in order to have them, we must encourage our young people to enter school and to remain long enough to take a thorough course, uniting together the study of the sciences and the Bible.

Battle Creek College has begun its year's work with a larger attendance than ever before. The boarding halls are crowded, and more room will be needed to accommodate the students this year.

The South Lancaster Academy, as far as concerns the education of youth, is in a prosperous condition. The last year's work was quite satisfactory to all who attended, and an increase in attendance is expected this year. Financially they are much embarrassed. The interests of this institution should receive the careful attention of this Conference. I have not had the privilege of visiting the Healdsburg College during the past year; but from those who have visited it, and from the reports made at its annual meeting, I should judge it to be in a prosperous condition, and doing a good work for education on the Pacific Coast, as is the South Lancaster Academy on the Atlantic. These three schools comprise at present the educational centers of our people. There is a strong demand for another school at some central point between the Mississippi River and the Rocky Mountains, to supply the constantly increasing demand for educational facilities among our people in the States of Minnesota, Dakota, Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri, Colorado, Texas, and Arkansas. During the past summer, the feasibility of establishing such a school has been discussed at nearly all the State Conferences in the States mentioned. With perhaps one exception it has been recommended by these Conferences that a school be established at once at some central point. Committees have been appointed to confer together during this session of the Conference, and come to some conclusion as to what shall be done.

BIBLE-SCHOOL FOR MINISTERS.

To meet the demand for a short course of instruction for those engaged in different branches of work, and who have not time to take a full course in college, it has been decided to hold a Bible-school, beginning November 6, and continuing five months. This grows out of the ministerial institute held in Battle Creek last winter, which was attended by representatives from quite a number of the different Conferences. An efficient faculty has been secured, which will insure a successful school. I would call the special attention of State Conference officers to this school, and recommend that immediate steps be taken to secure the attendance of those who ought to have its benefits.

THE SCANDINAVIAN SCHOOL.

There is a strong and increasing demand for laborers in the Scandinavian language. The Scandinavian work has met many embarrassments. The laborers we have had who can speak the Scandinavian languages have been much embarrassed from lack of facilities for obtaining an education in their own tongue. From their constant contact with English speaking people, foreigners coming to this country lose the perfect use of their mother tongue, thus unfitting them to labor in their native languages. This has been true of the Scandinavians in this country, and therefore steps have been taken to establish a school where the Scandinavian languages can be taught and spoken, and laborers trained who can in the future devote their entire time to the Scandinavian work. This school will begin November 6, and continue five months.

GERMAN AND FRENCH SCHOOLS.

What has been said of the needs for a Scandinavian school will apply equally to a school for the German and French laborers; and it has been decided to have such a school in each of these languages, beginning November 6, and continuing five months. I would also recommend that State Conference officers take an active interest in these schools, and plan to have representatives of these different nationalities attend these schools, that they may be fitted up for labor in their respective tongues.

MINISTERIAL INSTITUTES.

At the last General Conference, the following recommendations were passed: —

"We recommend, That each State Conference hold an institute, or normal school, at least once a year, for a more thorough study of the truths of the third angel's message, and to give instruction in church, tract society, Sabbath-school, health and temperance, and canvassing work; to be conducted under the management of the Conference Committee.

"We recommend, That the General Conference hold similar institutes, at such times and places as the General Conference Committee may decide."

It is not definitely known how fully the different State Conferences have carried out the first of these recommendations. In harmony with the latter, the General Conference has held institutes at Battle Creek; Minneapolis; Ottawa, Kansas; Williamsport, Pa.; Nashville, Tenn.; a German institute in Milwaukee, and Scandinavian institutes in Minneapolis and Chicago. The influence of these institutes has been good, and we have seen encouraging results; but as in all the different branches of our work, the first plans have been, in many respects, imperfect. After an experience has been gained, better plans can be laid, and more satisfactory work accomplished. So in the holding of these institutes; while we believe that they have been a success, we have no doubt that improvements can be made that will make them more valuable in the future than they have been the present year.

PRESS COMMITTEE.

It was thought advisable by your committee to organize a systematic plan for meeting through the public press the arguments in support of the National Reform movement. To accomplish this a press committee was organized, which has done efficient work in securing the publication of articles in various papers throughout the country on the subject of religious liberty. This committee will present to the Conference a report of its work at the proper time. During the year a society has been organized, called the National Religious Liberty Association, with the express object of helping to educate the people of the United States on the subject of religious and civil liberty. This Conference should carefully investigate the principles and work of this Association; and if it meets the demand of the times, as an organization, to oppose the present movement to secure an amendment to our national Constitution, which would virtually unite church and State, we should indorse the Association, and recommend that our people connect themselves with it, and unite with it in advocating the principles of civil and religious liberty which it sets forth.

PETITIONS TO CONGRESS, ETC.

The last year has been a very active and aggressive one on the part of those who would ruthlessly undermine the religious liberties of the citizens of this nation. Several influential organizations have been actively engaged in circulating petitions to Congress, favoring religious legislation. Petitions were presented to Congress, footing up many millions of names, asking for a national law to enforce Sunday-rest. In this movement we recognize the danger for which we have been looking for many years. Our people rallied nobly to the work of circulating petitions to Congress, asking that they "pass no bill in regard to the observance of the Sabbath, or Lord's day, or any other religious or ecclesiastical institution or rite; nor favor in any way the adoption of any resolution for the amendment of the national Constitution, giving preference to the principles of any religion above another." Very nearly 500,000 names were secured to this petition, and it was presented to Congress just before the close of its last session. At the coming session of Congress we may expect a renewal of this conflict. This Conference should lay plans for a systematic work in the circulation of petitions, and the distribution of reading-matter on the subject of religious liberty.

INTERNATIONAL TRACT SOCIETY.

Plans have been laid to increase the work of the International Tract Society. A permanent office has been fitted up for the Society, and secretaries have been employed to take charge of the different lines of work. There is a vast field of usefulness before this Society. We are glad to see it taking steps to increase and facilitate its work.

THE CANVASSING WORK.

Great advancements have been made in the canvassing work the past year. Through the persevering efforts of the General Canvassing Agent, and the co-operation of the workers in the field, this work has been conducted in an efficient and systematic manner. Nearly every Conference now has its State canvassing agent, and its organized corps of canvassers. Through the instrumentality of canvassers, books containing present truth are being sold everywhere. The special feature of this work that will commend it as a favorable means for spreading the truth, is that it is self-supporting; and not only so, but by creating a demand for books, in turn helps the publishing houses.

What can be said of the canvassing work in this country is also applicable to other countries. It has proved to be one of the most efficient and economical ways of extending the knowledge of the present truth.

The General Canvassing Agent will at some time during the Conference make a report of his work.

FINANCES.

A financial report has been prepared, and will soon be ready for distribution. The receipts from Christmas offerings were good; but our brethren have not aken hold of the first-day offerings as well as we had hoped they would. The work is becoming so large that the expense of carrying it on is necessarily heavy. The necessity for means will increase as the work advances. Our brethren have stood by the work nobly in the past, and we believe they will do so in the future.

A finance committee has been temporarily appointed during the past year, and will report at the proper time. I would recommend that a permanent finance committee be provided for by this Conference, to lay plans for the raising and careful distribution of means.

PLANS OF WORK FOR THIS CONFERENCE.

There will be much business to come before this Conference, and the time we will have for work is limited. It is therefore very important that plans be laid to expedite business, and every question that comes up for consideration ought to receive the most careful attention and mature deliberation before it is decided. To accomplish this the General Conference Committee in council have thought best to recommend that a number of committees be appointed, in addition to the regular standing committees, to which different questions may be referred, to be considered and perfected before being brought up in the Conference for discussion and final action. These committees are as follows:—

1. Committee on Credentials of Delegates.
2. Committee on Home Mission Field.
3. Committee on Foreign Missions.
4. Committee on Finances.
5. Committee on Distribution of Labor.
6. Committee on Education.
7. Committee on Church Order and Government.
8. Committee on Sunday Prosecutions and Sunday Labor.
9. Judiciary Committee.

We would also recommend that after business is first presented, it be referred to one or the other of these committees, or laid over before final action, giving time for careful thought and investigation by each member of the Conference. We would also recommend that the presidents of the different associations that hold their annual meetings in connection with the General Conference, present a comprehensive report at the opening meeting of their association, setting forth its present standing and wants. With these facilities for becoming acquainted with the different branches of the work and the needs of each, we think that much valuable time may be saved in the meetings of the Conference and other associations.

AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION.

By referring to the Constitution of the General Conference, Article III., we find that the Conference is to be composed of delegates from the State Conferences, and officers of the General Conference, and such ministers as shall have been in the employ of the Conference during any part of the year, and the Executive Committee is authorized to issue credentials to such ministers. Considering the large territory over which the work now extends, it would be very expensive to have all the ministers that are engaged a part of their time in General Conference work, attend each Conference, besides consuming from four to six weeks of their time. Still it is very necessary that some of these laborers attend the Conference. We would recommend that such a change as will give the General Conference Committee authority to issue credentials to such persons as they, from their acquaintance with the work in particular fields, or for other reasons, may think would be of the most value to the Conference.

Our work has greatly enlarged since the Constitution was formed, making it necessary to have more perfect system and organization to prevent confusion in carrying forward the different branches of the work. I would therefore recommend a careful revision of the Constitution on such points as are necessary to secure these objects; and I would especially recommend that provision be made for a foreign mission board, and a standing committee on finances.

DISTRICTING THE FIELD.

I would call the attention of the Conference to the propriety of districting the territory covered by the General Conference in this country, and placing a district under the special charge of a member of the General Conference Committee; such member to have the special oversight of his district in the conducting of institutes, general meetings, camp-meetings, and other work.

These are a few special points to which I wish to call your attention. The responsibility devolves upon you to think and plan and use the judgment that God has given you in the transaction of business connected with this Conference. We hope to see every delegate take hold of this work as though its success depended upon his own individual efforts.

I now submit these matters to you, with the prayer that God's blessing may attend this session of the General Conference, and that his Spirit may guide in all the work that we do.

THE EDUCATION OF LABORERS FOR HOME AND FOREIGN MISSIONS.

Delivered by Prof. W. W. Prescott, Sunday Evening, October 27.

THE material is the natural man; the product is the successful laborer for God; the process is our subject this evening.

John Elliot, who was known in his time as "the apostle to the Indians," after spending twelve long years in preparing a grammar of that language, that he might thus be able to bring the truths of the Bible before them, inscribed upon its title-page these words: "Prayer and pains, through faith in Christ, will do anything."

I wish to read a few texts bearing upon these two lines of thought, which will further illustrate this idea of what God must do, and what we are expected to do. The first one is in the fifteenth chapter of the Gospel of John, the fifth verse: "I am the vine, ye are the branches: he that abideth in me, and I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruit; for without me ye can do nothing." The second one is in the first epistle to the Corinthians, third chapter, and the seventh verse: "So then neither is he that planteth anything, neither he that watereth; but God that giveth the increase." The third one is in Zech. 4:6: "Then he answered and spake unto me, saying, This is the word of the Lord unto Zerubbabel, saying, Not by might, nor by power, but by my Spirit, saith the Lord of hosts."

Other texts bearing upon the other line of thought: 1 Tim. 4:12, 13: "Let no man despise thy youth; but be thou an example of the believers, in word, in conversation, in charity, in spirit, in faith, in purity. Till I come, give attendance to reading, to exhortation, to doctrine." 2 Tim. 2:15: "Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth." Titus 2:7, 8: "In all things showing thyself a pattern of good works: in doctrine showing uncorruptness, gravity, sincerity, sound speech, that cannot be condemned; that he that is of the contrary part may be ashamed, having no evil thing to say of you."

These two lines of texts illustrate that for one to be a laborer for God there is a work which God must do for him, and the connection he must have with God; there is also a work on his part. So we have to combine a dependence upon God with earnest effort on our own part. And this combination of what might be termed elevation, lifting up ourselves, making the most of ourselves and our powers, with the spirit of humility, is in most of us a very difficult thing to do. I have known men to stumble over this point; and when we present the need of our doing something, of our trying to make the very most of our own powers in the work of God, they would then feel that we were depending upon ourselves.

On the other hand, when we present the need of depending upon God, the idea would seem to come up in their minds that there was nothing for us to do. It seems to me that there should be a combination of these two elements, a lifting up of ourselves, a trying to make the very most of what God gives us, together with a dependence upon God for him to work with us, knowing that without his help our best efforts will be of no avail.

This seems to be shown very plainly in the character of Christ. He is spoken of as the "Creator of all things," "the heir of all things," "by whom all things are upheld." His exalted character is set forth in this way; and at the same time it is said of him that he made himself of no reputation, — took upon him our nature, became subject to death, even the death of the cross.

A true missionary is a man; and yet there is a work to be done in developing the laborer that man cannot do. The work of the chemist shows that the diamond, the most precious of stones, is but crystallized carbon; and yet, with all his efforts, man is utterly unable to take the carbon and change it into the diamond. Such a process requires a power which man does not possess. Just so with man; he is the material; the product desired is the successful laborer for God; and yet man is utterly unable to do the work necessary to bring about the transformation. There is a work which God must do, and which God alone can do.

I read in the fifty-first Psalm, beginning with the tenth verse: "Create in me a clean heart, O God: and renew a right spirit within me. Cast me not away from thy presence; and take not thy Holy Spirit from me. Restore unto me the joy of thy salvation; and uphold me with thy free Spirit. Then will I teach transgressors thy ways, and sinners shall be converted unto thee." The object to be sought in teaching the way of God is that sinners should be converted unto God. And the psalmist says that when he has a clean heart, such as God alone can create within him, then he will be able to teach transgressors his ways, and sinners will be converted to God. This is the object desired in all true missionary work. Further than this, not only does genuine conversion to God require a work of the Spirit of God upon the heart, but there must follow a personal experience in the things of God.

We read in 1 John 1 : 1, 3: "That which was from the beginning, which we have heard, which we have seen with our eyes, which we have looked upon, and our hands have handled, of the word of life;" "that which we have seen and heard declare we unto you, that ye also may have fellowship with us: and truly our fellowship is with the Father, and with his Son Jesus Christ." He told them of the things which he had seen, and heard, and handled himself, — the result of his own personal experience.

This we find that when the apostles preached, they had this same story to tell; and they said, We can but speak the things which we have seen and heard. The man who speaks from his own experience, speaks from the heart and reaches the heart. How barren a thing it is to attempt to handle things of which we know nothing! The same words in the mouth of one who has had experience, who speaks from the heart, carry with them a weight and convincing power which is utterly absent from the same words in the mouth of one lacking the experience of the things of which he speaks. It is so in the common affairs of life.

It is said by one writer, illustrating this same thought, that an opinion may be held in the neighborhood by a very good class of persons, and yet attract no particular attention; but let men of influence and standing in the community, of experience and character, adopt the very same views, and begin to present them, and they will immediately begin to be felt in the neighborhood. It is the personal character, experience, and standing of the one who expresses the idea, that carries weight with it. So in the same manner, a thorough conversion followed by a deep, personal experience, fits one to speak of the things which he has seen and heard.

God must convert our hearts; God must lead us into deep, personal experience; but what must we do for ourselves? The ability which we have is given to us undeveloped, — rather in the form of a possibility than in the form of direct power. You hold in your hand an acorn; and within it are the possibilities of the mighty oak, yet the oak may never be developed from it. You can cast it away from you, throw away the possibilities; and they will die with the acorn. God places within us certain undeveloped powers, — the seeds, as it were. It is our duty properly to nourish them, to place them under right conditions, that they may spring up and bear fruit to the glory of God. What God has given us in this way we may not expect him to do for us by any special and direct miracle. If he has created us with certain powers, and then given us opportunities to develop those powers, he holds us responsible not only for what we are, but for what we might have been, if we had made the best use of such opportunities. And I ask you this evening to consider this question.

You will say, I am poorly prepared to labor in God's cause, to bear responsibilities in his work. I ask you, Whose fault is it? Is it his? or is it ours in not using the time, the opportunities, we have to develop these powers to the utmost? All the work, however, in training these powers should be in harmony with God's plan. The Saviour called his disciples, and said, "Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men." If we can find out how that work was done for them, it will prove the best process for us to follow in endeavoring, in this century, to train laborers to become fishers of men. If we can follow the example of the greatest Missionary in his work, if we can discover his methods of training, no matter whether it be in accordance with the popular sentiment, or whether it be the popular way, I venture to affirm that it is the best way. And if we can find out how Christ worked, how he trained his workers, what education they received, and give something of the same, his work will prosper in our hands.

The ends to he sought in this training for the work of God cannot be better expressed than by saying that we should be able to imitate the example of the greatest Missionary — our Lord Jesus Christ. Any means that we can use to this end, in accordance with God's plan of training, are the means to be used, and this the end to be sought. What made Christ a perfect Saviour? — He was a perfect missionary to this world. Of course many reasons can be given; but it seems to me that much is comprehended in a few words like these. It was because he had the power to help and to save; it was because he had the sympathy which led him to use that power in helping and saving others.

But both this power and this sympathy may come to us from God; and yet I believe it is within our power to cultivate both, — to cultivate the sympathy and the love which would lead us to take hold of the work, and to cultivate the power, the ability, with which to do the work. But along with this there must be a piety that is genuine, deep, and thorough; a conversion that is entire; a love for souls that is earnest; a spirit of humility and self-denial. And I say further that no system of education, the most perfect ever devised, can supply the lack of these things in the laborer for God.

There are some things that education can do; there are some things that it cannot do. When we are educating the man, we do not expect that we can supply defects of nature. I may cultivate my finger never so much, yet I can never grow out the portion which has been lost. One who suffers from a natural defect of this kind can never become physically perfect through education.

When you come to fit one for the work of God, education will take the gifts of God in the man, and help him to make the most of them; but education will never supply the place of these gifts. And the successful laborer — no matter how highly educated, no matter how thoroughly trained — must be a man of God to succeed in God's work. Genuine conversion, earnest piety, love for the work, love for souls, and consecration, — no education can supply the lack of these. But when God has graciously granted unto us such gifts as these, education helps us to make the most of them. It helps us by supplying the element of power in a trained intellect.

Many who have accomplished much in the work of God, who are spoken of as examples of what men can accomplish without education, may not properly be cited as such examples. In the first place, such men have been able to accomplish these results, not because of the lack of education, but in spite of that lack. More than this, many men are educated whom we are wont to term, from our stand-point, uneducated.

What is an educated man? I venture that in the minds of most of this congregation the thoughts begin to rise, of schools, academies, colleges, diplomas, courses of study completed, graduation with honors. These are all well enough; but I maintain that a man may be educated without these; in other words, that it does not always require the machinery of education in order to educate a man. Men are educated, trained, developed for work, who have spent little time within the walls of any school building, who have never graduated from any institution with honor, who can show no diploma as a testimonial to work done; but these are not uneducated men. Our standard of judgment is often apt to be wrong. And yet by saying this I am certain that you will not think I am belittling the means of education placed within the reach of the young people of this day; not by any means; but I do say, that while these are helps, and great helps to education, a man need not be uneducated because he cannot have these means.

So I believe that education, — whether it be obtained inside a school-room or out, whether along with it may go testimonials and diplomas or not, — training, development, and cultivation of the powers of the mind will furnish us with power with which to use the material placed in our hands. This may be illustrated by placing a weapon in the hands of one who, by vigorous exercise, has made himself physically strong, and is able to wield it with power, and placing the same weapon in the hands of one whose muscles are weak, and who is lacking in vital force to use it.

So it comes to pass that in our endeavor to supply means for proper training, we establish schools. We have what we may term our regular schools — established for the purpose of giving a course of training to those of that age and of such position in life that they can avail themselves of its privileges; a course of study provided, a term of years arranged for, and the work carried on in regular order. And so one goes on from year to year, developing, gaining strength, taking advantage of those opportunities.

Further, to endeavor to supply this lack, to furnish this power, we have what we sometimes term special schools. Such a school as this is proposed during the present winter, which we call our Bible-school for ministers — a special school provided for those too far along in years to give their time for a complete course of study, or who are too busily engaged in the affairs of active life to be spared from other work any length of time. In various ways, by institutes, by special courses of lectures, by special instruction, we endeavor to furnish laborers with the power and means to carry on the work. I apprehend that our work will so enlarge, and the demand be such that we shall have schools not only in the English language, but in other languages. Indeed, the call for schools in the Scandinavian, the German, and the French languages is already becoming urgent, and an effort is already being made to supply this demand.

But there is so much to be done, and so much that can be done outside of the school, and there are so many here in this audience even, who must depend upon work done outside of the school, that I do not wish to lay all the stress upon the school. It is well known to this audience that I prize highly these privileges and these advantages; but there are so many who cannot avail themselves of these privileges, that if they are educated further for this work, it must be in some other way.

It seems to me to be a practical part of this talk this evening to dwell also upon the other side of the work of education. I have already intimated that this is possible; indeed, it seems to me that the true teacher — and what is a laborer in God's cause but a teacher — will be always a learner. If we could contract habits of study, of application, that would go with us away from our school privileges, that would follow us in our daily work, this would indeed be a wonderful help to us in training ourselves to become laborers for God.

There are some special ends to be sought, some special points to be gained, as we educate ourselves to be laborers for God, a few of which I will here enumerate. The first is an education in believing the Bible implicitly. You may think, perhaps, that to present to an audience composed largely of Seventh-day Adventists, that the first aim to be sought in educating one's self as a laborer for God, is to educate ourselves to believe in the Bible implicitly, is a strange proposition, but I candidly believe that we need much help in just this direction. Christ was the living word. "The word was made flesh and dwelt among us." And God has spoken through his Son, by the living word, as well as by the written word. In his Son, we have his word "in living characters."

We are accustomed to think of the earth as the most stable thing. And what is it that brings more terror to the minds of men than when the earth beneath their feet begins to shake? It seems then that when the one thing which we have counted stable about everything else, gives way, it brings terror to the minds of men, because of that feeling of confidence in the stability of the earth. Yet we are taught that the heavens and the earth shall pass away; they shall be changed; but the word, whether it be Christ, "the same yesterday, to-day, and forever," or whether it be the written word of God, abideth forever.

We will notice one or two scriptures upon this point. I will first read from the prophecy of Isa. 40 : 8: "The grass withereth, the flower fadeth: but the word of God shall stand forever." Then I turn to Heb. 1 : 10-12: "And, Thou, Lord, in the beginning hast laid the foundation of the earth; and the heavens are the works of thine hands. They shall perish, but thou remainest: and they all shall wax old as doth a garment; and as a vesture shalt thou fold them up, and they shall be changed: but thou art the same, and thy years shall not fail." I hold that an education to believe the Bible because it is the word of God that abideth forever, is one of the first and most essential points to be gained in educating ourselves for laborers in the cause of God.

Next is that of an education in reverence for God's house and his worship. I am constrained to believe that there is much need of education in this line among us as a people. I ask you to consider just for a moment, the objects for which we assemble in the house dedicated to the worship of God. What prompts true worshipers to come to God's house? Is it any other than the desire, yea, the expectation, of meeting God in his own temple?

You remember how extremely careful the children of Israel were required to be in any service connected with the tabernacle. In the most holy place, where God especially revealed his presence, what care was exercised, what a sacred, solemn presence was there. And I ask you if in this dispensation, when God is asked to reveal himself to us by his Holy Spirit, if we should come into his presence in a careless way or with our minds filled with worldly things, unable even to restrain our lips from speaking out these things when in the house of God, and in his presence? It seems to me that unless education upon this point was greatly needed among us as a people, both laborers and laymen, that the Spirit of God would not have spoken to us so plainly upon it. I commend these thoughts to this congregation. From my own experience, I feel sure that there is need that we shall all amend upon this point.

When we come into the house of God for public worship, and there is talking, whispering, and reading of papers, carelessness of ways, careless attitudes, and it becomes almost necessary to wait for order in order to begin the worship of God, you will bear me out that there is need of education in this respect. Here is a large body of laborers, representing a large section of country. In your hands more than in any other body among this people is the power to correct this evil. I earnestly ask you to consider it. Is it not necessary that in our labors among the people, among the churches, everywhere we go, that we hold up the standard of reverence for God's house and his worship?

Further than this, we need education in direct methods of work. We should not rely too much upon machinery, or upon organization. Although both are necessary, they should not be the prominent ends in the work. Organization is necessary and proper. I say nothing against it. It is all necessary in carrying on the work, but beyond and above that, we must depend upon the word of God and the preaching of that word. I charge thee, preach the word—the word of God, “quick and powerful.” I believe that education which tends more to direct preaching of the word of God will be a benefit to any one who is to engage in the work of missions.

God honors his word. We read of this in Isa. 55: 10, 11: “For as the rain cometh down, and the snow from heaven, and returneth not thither, but watereth the earth, and maketh it bring forth and bud, that it may give seed to the sower, and bread to the eater: so shall my word be that goeth forth out of my mouth: it shall not return unto me void, but it shall accomplish that which I please, and it shall prosper in the thing whereto I sent it.” I was impressed very much by the remarks made by Elder Oisen, when he said that he thanked God for a theology that we could read out of the Bible. There is nothing better. And God, I believe, will honor his word when it is thus preached.

As a help in all this work it seems to me that education in habits of courtesy and true Christian politeness, which come from a good heart, is necessary. “Be courteous,” said the apostle, “apt to teach.” Anything that will help us in our teachings will make us more apt to teach. A courteous way, a winning manner, will often help us greatly in this direction. Actual service will be a good training in all these things. There is no way to learn how to believe implicitly in the Bible like believing it. There is no better way to learn how to preach the word of God than by preaching it. There is no way to learn how to have faith in God, who will honor his word and our belief in his word, than by exercising just that faith, and going forward and laboring on just that plan. So I believe that active service of this kind would be one of the best methods for training laborers for this work.

If one were fitting himself for any special branch of missionary work, there would be special lines of study which he could take up to advantage—not that it would be of less advantage to any other: but surely any one who is fitting himself for foreign missionary work should not think of entering upon it without knowing something about it. A knowledge of the people, of the habits, the customs, the laws, a knowledge of the countries to which he may go, would be invaluable to one who intends to enter upon this line of the work. With the facilities we now have in our hands, there is no excuse for one's remaining in ignorance of these things.

Acquaintance with the history of all missionary work: “Others have labored, and ye have entered into their labors.” It has seemed to me that the work of year upon year, the patient toil, the earnest effort, the examples of self-sacrifice and devotion on the part of those who have gone to distant and heathen lands, who have braved dangers of every kind in order to carry the light of the gospel, have been blessed of God, that it would be pleasing to God that we honor their work, as we enter into their labors.

An acquaintance, so far as may be possible through books, with those who have trodden this way before us, will be both an inspiration and a help. Study the lives of these men. It is an inspiration simply to know them. What a noble list of these men have given themselves in years gone by to the work of God. It seems to me that on that roll of honor kept in heaven, if such a roll be kept, there would be names especially bright; as, Brainerd, Burns, Bushnell, Carey, Dober, Duff, Elliott, Ellis, Edwards, Fiske, Grant, Gutzlaff, Gulick, Goodell, Henderson, Judson, Jessup, Livingstone, Lindly, Martin, Milne, Moffat, Morrison, Mahew, Newell, Perkins, Riggs, Rhea, Schwartz, Seudder, Stoddard, Turner, Williams, Wolfe, and others. What a list of names! It would be an honor to any man to put his name on the roll beside them.

Kin's of missionary work and demands for it: I begin first with the work in the home. Home missionary work is a part of our subject. The place to begin to find laborers for home missionary work is right in the home. In looking over the condition of things at this time, I think every one of you will agree with me that there is great and crying need of missionary work in the home. Sometimes when we fix the eye upon a distant object, we throw it out of focus for things near at hand. We do not see them distinctly. We have to change the focus in order to view them clearly. I have thought that it might be possible that while being presented before us in such a clear way, with such force, the work in Australia, the work in Europe, the work in Africa, the calls for laborers, that many of us who can never hope to see these countries, have fixed our eyes with such gaze upon them, that we overlook missionary work right at our hands. It is in the home that the true missionary begins to be trained for future work.

One writer said that in educating boys, we often catch them generations too late to make the best of them. When we are attempting to educate laborers especially for the work of God, don't we often catch them too late, and suffer greatly because of this? Ought not the training to begin years earlier in life? and does not one of the greatest difficulties arise from the fact of wrong training in early years, which must in some way be overcome before the laborer is fitted for his work? The home missionaries, who labor in our homes, are worthy of all honor as missionaries for God. Let us see how plainly the Testimony speaks of this. (Testimony 33, page 122.)

"If married men go into the work, leaving their wives to care for the children at home, the wife and mother is doing fully as great and important a work as the husband and father. Although one is in the missionary field, the other is a home missionary, whose cares and anxieties and burdens frequently far exceed those of the husband and father. Her work is a solemn and important one, — to mold the minds and fashion the characters of her children, to train them for usefulness here, to fit them for the future immortal life. The husband in the open missionary field may receive the honors of men, while the home toiler will receive no earthly credit for her labor. But if she works for the best interest of her family, seeking to fashion their characters after the divine Model, the recording angel writes her name as one of the greatest missionaries in the world."

Sisters, do not give all this instruction to the brethren; do not think that all the missionaries are those who go to foreign lands, who bring their reports to be read before this body: some of the best missionaries never appear in public, never make reports to bodies of delegates, never have resolutions passed concerning them; but their labors will endure, and God will reward them according to their works.

Work in the church: "When thou art converted, strengthen thy brethren." There is altogether too much, as we are well aware, of that spirit of inquiry, "Am I my brother's keeper?" "And who is my neighbor?" Those who are brought within the sphere of our influence are those for whom we are held responsible. If circumstances and the providence of God close up the way, so that we may not hope to go to any distant land, or even to go from church to church, still our light is not to be hidden. There is a work for each one in his own church, a personal responsibility upon every member.

And this is missionary work. An encouraging word, a word of comfort spoken to those in sorrow, encouragement given to those who are despondent, help of any kind, even a cheery word, a pleasant countenance, — we can do missionary work in this way. In our own church there is great need of just such work as this; and every member in this congregation can engage in this kind of missionary work. You may be sure of this; that souls right here, souls in Battle Creek, souls in the towns where you live, are just as precious in the sight of God as souls in Africa, or in Australia, or in any other land.

Do the work at our hands. To every man his work. And God will hold us responsible for this work. Those who will not fill a hard place at home, cannot be depended upon to fill a hard place elsewhere. You may bear this in mind, that if one is negligent of his home duties, if responsibilities cannot be laid upon him in his home church, he has no recommendation for foreign work. A man who will prove himself worthy of responsibility at home, is a good man to send abroad to occupy a similar place. There need be no fear that our brethren will not find us out. If we are faithful and capable of more work, God in his providence will open the way for us. We need not have any fear that we shall lack fields of labor, that there will not be opportunity enough for us to exercise our ability.

Public work: and I suppose the minds of this congregation have been largely on this line of work, expecting, perhaps, that the whole force of this address would be in that direction. There is a demand for public work. Never in the history of our work, as is shown by the urgent demands from every part of the field, is there such a crying necessity for laborers. From every land, from every part of our own land, everywhere this cry comes up: "Send us help, send us help." Everywhere are needed consecrated workers, trained laborers, possessing the gifts of God, that they may labor acceptably in his cause.

And all along this work has been going on; yet to-day it seems to me we are witnessing the work which is the consummation of all the work of the centuries, — all the work of the centuries is coming to a focus in our day and time. There are those who do not bear our name, who see these things in the clearest light. Joseph Cook, in speaking of the needs of the time and of the signs, quoted from Longfellow, these words: "The day is breaking everywhere, and God deliver us from dawdling at the dawn of such a day."

Dr. Pierson writes: "All around the horizon the signs are appearing, which indicate to him who watches, that a more momentous era is at hand than historic pen ever chronicled or artistic pencil ever illustrated." "Can ye not discern the signs of the times?" Do not these things appeal to us all with more force than that of mere eloquence? The simple facts as they are spread before us are eloquent in speech. They ought to arouse us to earnestness, to consecration of effort. Here in this audience we see many young people, and it seems proper to quote the words of one who, having summed up these things, said: —

"Young men and maidens, can you look on the stirring scenes which this world presents to you to-day — the world in which the Eternal Son of God has planted the cross, the symbol of Omnipotent Love and Divine Sacrifice, by which he is to conquer and reign over a redeemed universe — can you view these scenes and events, and not long to participate in the glorious struggle and the glorious conquest? Ye Brainerds, and Henry Martyns, and Careys, and Judsons, and Livingstones — ye Harriet Newells and Mrs. Judsons — this is the day for such as you to come to the front, and assert your mission, and fire the heart of the sacred brotherhood with flaming zeal and holy enthusiasm and a self-denying spirit — the day to emulate faith, the heroic spirit, and the sublime self-sacrifice of Paul, and Peter, and John, and the other primitive disciples.

"We are approaching the close of the nineteenth century, and what a century it has been, especially in the latter half of it, in the way of change, development, progress, achievement. Stirring events are transpiring before us every day. Divine providence is writing history with the rapidity and on a scale of magnitude unparalleled in the past. And have these things no significance? Have you no personal interest in them? Is not God speaking in them all, to you, to me, to every disciple, with loud and solemn voice? Are not especially the young men of this generation 'brought to the kingdom' at a momentous crisis in the world's history?

"Is not human life to-day measured by its opportunities, its responsibilities, its possibilities, worth a hundred lives in ages gone by? Did ever a generation have such opportunities to distinguish itself in the grand march of human events? Was ever such a cry heard from so many lands, and from the isles of the sea, — from India and from Africa, from China and Japan and Mexico — from so many races and nations and peoples and tongues, — saying, 'Come over and help us,' as now resounds throughout Christendom?

"If we will not respond to these wondrous providential calls, — these calls of the Spirit of God, these calls of a groaning and perishing world, going up day and night to heaven like the sound of many waters, — we shall be thrust aside, and the kingdom, the work, the honor, and the victory, will be given to another."

Would that the sincere feeling of each heart might be expressed in the following lines: —

"Whom shall I send? He saith; what servant shall it be?

'Tis faith's strong voice that prayeth, my Master, O send me.

Send me to tell thy story, abroad, or here at home.

Send me, O Lord, before thee, where thou thyself wilt come.

"Send me, for I have known thee, I would thy witness be;

To speak thy message only, my Master, O send me.

Send me to speak of Jesus, of what my Lord hath done —

His finished work most precious, of this and this alone.

"To bring the lost and sinning, to thee, the sinless one.

To speak sweet words and winning, of Christ, the Father's Son.

Send me to darkest places, to many a shadowed home.

Where with thy shining graces, Lord Jesus, thou wilt come.

"Send me to work appointed, but Master, let me be

By thine own power anointed, then, Master, O send me.

Not unto us the glory, when lost ones find their home;

We only go before thee, where thou thyself wilt come."

HISTORY AND FUTURE WORK OF SEVENTH-DAY ADVENTISTS.

Sermon by Elder Uriah Smith, Sabbath, October 26.

Rev. 10: 11: "And he said unto me, Thou must prophesy again before many peoples, and nations, and tongues, and kings."

THE theme assigned to me to-day, is the history and future work of Seventh-day Adventists. I have taken as my text a passage which I think covers both branches of this subject, — a text which, I believe, we have already partially fulfilled, and in the complete fulfilment of which more still remains to be done.

First, as to the history of this people: Previous to the passing of the day that had been set for the Lord to come in the autumn of 1844, there were no Seventh-day Adventists in the world. My subject properly begins with the circumstances and the movements which have called this people into existence. When I make this declaration, you will understand that I use the term Seventh-day Adventist in a restricted sense, applying to this modern movement which is represented by this congregation here this morning. There has been in ages past no lack of those who have kept the seventh day, and who have believed in the personal second advent of Christ; who in that sense might correctly be called Seventh-day Adventists. Enoch was one of these; Noah was another; Moses was another; the prophets were others; so were the apostles. And God has had his witnesses all through the ages to these great truths. But these were Seventh-day Adventists in a more general sense, not in the specific sense in which we use the term as applying to this people who are called out in the last days in a work of reform relative to the interpretation of prophecy and the keeping of the commandments of God.

So before the time that had been set for the Lord to come had passed, there were a few Adventists who began to keep the seventh day; but the time which they had, had been adopted long before they adopted the observance of the seventh day, which made them in any sense Seventh-day Adventists. I make these remarks to meet the charge that is brought against us that Seventh-day Adventists are time-setters. Seventh-day Adventists have not contributed one iota to the work of those who, by continually setting future times for the Lord to come, as often as the old ones failed, have brought discredit upon the study of the prophecy itself; for those persons at the time I speak of had not adopted even those views of the prophecies which characterize the seventh-day movement. They had not begun the observance of the Sabbath at all. Therefore, he who says that Seventh-day Adventists are time-setters is either ignorant of their views, or knowingly designs to misrepresent them.

In saying this I am not saying that there is no time in the Bible. I believe in setting a time for those events for which the Bible has set times. And these are some of them: The Bible set the time for the fall of the papacy in 1798; and it came true. It set the time for the fall of the Ottoman empire, August 11, 1840; and it came true. It set the time for the beginning of the judgment work in 1844; and it came true. But the Bible never has set the time for the Lord to come; and Seventh-day Adventists never have believed that it has.

It was the passing of the time that developed this people known as Seventh-day Adventists. That disappointment, so grievous to those who had engaged in that work with sincerity of heart and true purpose, threw them back upon the investigation of the Scriptures more carefully, to understand why the disappointment had occurred. They were expecting a definite event at a definite time. One prophecy covers the whole subject, — that found in Dan. 8:14. "And he said unto me, Unto two thousand and three hundred days; then shall the sanctuary be cleansed."

There was the whole doctrine in a small compass. They re-examined the subject of the time. They found the argument invulnerable; the 2300 days must end in the autumn of 1844. Then they looked at the event that the prophecy declared should take place at the end of those days. It was that the sanctuary should then be cleansed. They had supposed that that meant the burning of this earth; that its cleansing was to be by fire. And so they said at the end of the 2300 days in 1844, Christ will come. But the days were ended; and Christ had not come. But when they re-examined this subject, they found that the cleansing of the sanctuary was not the burning of the earth and the coming of Christ, but it was the entrance of our High Priest into the most holy place of the sanctuary on high, there to perform a work of atonement corresponding to the yearly work of atonement performed by the typical priest in the typical sanctuary here on earth from Moses to Christ. They saw that while they had been correct in the time, they had been looking for the wrong thing.

Having discovered their mistake, a new field was opened before them. They saw that there was a work to be wrought in heaven by our great High Priest before he would come, and that gave time for a further work to be accomplished here upon the earth. They read in a new light the prophecy of Rev. 11:19: "And the temple of God was opened in heaven, and there was seen in his temple the ark of his testament."

They remembered that the ark was placed only in the most holy place of the sanctuary, and that that apartment was opened only when the high priest went in on the tenth day of the seventh month to make an atonement before the ark. Here they saw the same work revealed in heaven. Here was the cleansing of the sanctuary. They received a new view of the law of God, since its antitypical position in the ark of heaven connected it with its typical service in the sanctuary here on the earth, utterly and forever precluding the idea of any change in that law, through all the intervening ages. It must read in the ark in heaven, just as it read here in the ark on the earth. Then they remembered that that law said: "The seventh day is the Sabbath of the Lord thy God;" and there had been no change in it.

In the same light they read the prophecy of Rev. 14 : 9-14, where they found a message, equally important in its sphere, to go forth to the world, based on what that ark in heaven contains, and the ministration of Christ, which he was performing before the ark. And so they saw another message to go forth with a loud voice to the people of the earth, heralding a reform on the commandments of God and the faith of Jesus. They very soon saw that this prophecy related to certain symbols found in Revelation 13. It was a warning against a certain symbol, — the two-horned beast, lamb-like, — which is a symbol of our own Government; and it was a warning against religious legislation, which, in the light of this prophecy, they saw was to be enacted in this nation, compelling people to worship contrary to the law of God.

Thus a people were brought out who believed that all the prophetic periods had ended; that we are now in the period of the cleansing of the sanctuary; that the two-horned beast is a symbol of the United States; that a great contest between the commandments of God and the requirements of the man of sin is to be instituted here in our own land, and that the third angel's message, warning against bowing to the man of sin, is now going forth. These are the Seventh-day Adventists of our day. And thus this movement was born.

There are four names prominently connected with the beginning of this work: Elder Joseph Bates, who first began to keep the Sabbath in 1845, in the light of the third angel's message, and was its pioneer in some of the Western States; Elder James White, who inaugurated the publishing work — so important a branch in the forward movement of this cause; Mrs. E. G. White, whose writings have given the spiritual mold to this work, which it bears to the present time; and Elder J. N. Andrews, who turned the powers of his logical mind to the investigation of the pillars of our faith, and who brought out works on the subjects of the Sabbath, the law, the sanctuary, the two-horned beast, and the judgment, which, so far as at present appears, leave nothing to be developed on these points.

After the passing of the time, great confusion naturally came into the ranks of believers in the second advent, and the deportment of not a few of them was assuming very fanatical forms. Wrong views were springing up in almost every quarter, and many were coming to very erroneous conclusions. Out of such a people the first converts to the message of the third angel had to be made, because the ears of all those outside the body of Adventists were at that time closed to the investigation of any prophetic themes. Under these circumstances it was necessary that there should come forth some clear, harmonious truth, connecting directly with the past, and explaining the present situation, to balance unsettled minds. It was necessary that some testimony should be borne, coming to the hearts of men with a higher sanction than mere human reason to lead the mind forward into that path, which was then opening, of a clearer prophetic interpretation.

Both these conditions were supplied providentially in the beginning of this work: One in a clear exposition of the subject of the sanctuary, which explained the mistake that had been made, and, in connection with the third angel's message, showed that there had been no failure of any essential feature of the past, and they had nothing essential to give up; but that they had only been led forward through their strange experience to an advanced position, into new light; and the work which they were then called upon to do was only a part of the one great work in which they had already been engaged. And the other condition was supplied in the spiritual gift, as manifested in the experience of Sister White, which rebuked fanaticism, exposed hypocrisy, detected dishonesty, and gradually led the minds of honest seekers after light and truth out of that exclusiveness of view, both of belief and of labor, which they were naturally falling into under the impression that their work for the world was done.

Then began to apply the words of the text, "Thou must prophesy again before many peoples, and nations, and tongues, and kings." This was the voice they now heard speaking to them, and opening before them a wide field of labor. But how could they, less than a half-dozen strong, take hold of such a work as that? It was an immense work; would they not have been justified in saying, "Well, this does seem to be true, that there is another message to go forth, and the world is to receive another warning; but it will require an immense amount of means to carry forward this work; and it will require a large army of workers to accomplish it; and when God raises up the workers and the means, then we will take hold of the work"? But they did not stop to crucify faith in that way. They only knew that they had been "begotten again to a lively hope," by a new and stirring truth; and they only stopped to know, further, that it was their duty to bring that truth as rapidly as possible to the minds of those who they thought could be benefited by it. And so they took hold of the work of seeking recruits to rally around the advancing standard, and they hailed as a happy victory, every accession to their feeble ranks.

In his work God chooses earthen vessels and feeble instruments, that the glory may be of him, and not of man. It was emphatically so in the beginning of this work. There were no men of means; there were no moneyed institutions behind the work to give it financial strength; there were no titled names to give it prestige. Those in whose hearts the truths of the third angel's message first took root were persons of very small worldly substance, and that substance had been almost wholly spent in the previous work in which they had been engaged. The little they might gain by slow processes, in daily labor, constituted their only financial resources. But their spiritual vision was growing clear; their wills were strong; their hearts were happy and brave; and their courage was invincible. And so, though feeble in health, without friends, and in the face of rising opposition, they began to proclaim that message which they believed was to enlighten and to warn the world. Against the dark back-ground of their circumstances and their condition, their faith stands out in a light which is truly sublime.

I have already referred to Elder James White as the one who began the publishing work among us. In 1849 he commenced at Middletown, Conn., the publication of a small sheet, entitled, The Present Truth. When they had gathered all the names of the Sabbath-keepers they knew of in the world, and all the names of those who they thought would be likely to look upon the movement with favor, and who might be interested by it, the paper was issued, and the whole edition of that paper was carried to the post-office in a common carpet-bag. But under their circumstances even this enterprise was something of no small magnitude.

In the volume of "Life Sketches," by Elder James White, and in the volumes containing the early writings and experience of Mrs. E. G. White, you will find an account of the embarrassments which encompassed the work at that time, the struggles and sacrifices necessary on the part of those pioneers, to carry that work forward, and the self-sacrifice and the zeal and devotion which they brought to it. I would recommend to all, especially to those who have in more recent years come to the faith, a careful perusal and study of these volumes. There you will find examples of faith, of zeal, of devotion, of consecration, of singleness of purpose, and of dedication to the truth for the truth's sake, which must still live in the hearts of the people, and must go with this work until its close. There are good lessons there for us to learn. May we study them carefully.

In the summer of 1850, one volume, in magazine form, called the Advent Review, was issued in Auburn, N. Y., reviewing the Advent movement, and giving some new arguments on their present position. But the regular periodical which still goes by the name of Advent Review was not commenced until in November, 1850, at Paris, Maine. The paper was published more or less regularly every month until April 7, 1851; from that time to Sept. 8, 1853, it was issued semi-monthly. One volume was published in Paris, Maine. The paper was then moved to Saratoga Springs, N. Y., and the first number of Vol. II. was dated Aug. 5, 1851, at Saratoga Springs. A volume was published there, and the paper was moved to Rochester, N. Y. The first number of Vol. III. was published in that city, dated May 6, 1852.

The year 1854 was a year of some discouragement in this cause. The work in the early part of its history had difficulties to contend with which those who have more recently come to the faith know very little of. One of the first of these was opposition to all organization and church order. Some of those who embraced the faith had come from other churches. From those churches they had been expelled, not on scriptural grounds, but by the creed power, for cherishing the blessed hope of the soon-coming of Christ. There came into their minds, therefore, so strong a reaction against all church organization, that they were willing to cast the whole aside,—the good as well as the bad. But Brother White saw that there must be some organization, that we must have that unity which comes from a regularly established church membership, and church records, and church discipline; that was necessary to guard against confusion everywhere, and to shield ourselves from impositions of every kind.

But there were some who thought this would be all wrong, and struck against it. And the cause was threatened with ruin over that question. But those who held the better view calmly urged their reasons, till the point was gained, and church order was established among us. The same feeling came up to some extent over the adoption of a denominational name, and the incorporation of legal associations, and there was at times great agitation over these questions. But at length these difficulties were all happily overcome.

About the year 1854 began another kind of opposition which this cause never has from that time been free from, and probably never will be, until the work shall close; that is, organized opposition of those who become disaffected, and who take exceptions to some of our views, who question the policy of some of our movements; and especially of those who rise up in opposition to the position and work of Sister White. Those of you who study their work and examine their literature, will always find prominent one charge they make against Sister White, and that is that she teaches the "shut door." Now there was one kind of shut door which more than all others troubled some of these men, as I happen to know from personal acquaintance, and that is the shut door against tobacco. Such a shut door she did teach. But they were determined to keep the door for the filthy weed wide open; and rather than shut that they would shut the door against her, and against the cause of the third angel's message.

The first organized opposition of this kind broke out here in the good State of Michigan. Its leaders started a paper, called the Messenger of Truth. They carried with them a large share of the ministerial force in the State, and some of the membership. Prominent among them were the names of Case, Bezzeo, and Russell. We watched the movement, to see what kind of message they had to proclaim; and according to the best we could make out, their message was that after a time they would move to Rochester, where the Review then was, and supersede that paper, and relegate Brother and Sister White and their friends to the background, capture the office, and take the field. But their Messenger did not stick to the "truth" and seemed to lose his way; and instead of their plan, the brethren here in Michigan rallied and brought the Review Office here to this State. So instead of their coming there to Rochester, we came here, and arrived but little too soon to write the epitaph of that party. Of those persons I have named, one died in disgrace; another was arrested for drawing a revolver upon one of his scholars in a school he was teaching; and the other, hearing that Sister White said that he would give up the Sabbath, doggedly held onto it for some years after he had given it up in heart, in sheer desperation to prove her visions false. But his worldliness at length conquered his spite, and he, like the others, made shipwreck of faith.

Shortly after this occurred what is known as the Stevenson and Hall defection, in Wisconsin. The point they went off on was the "Age to Come." The Messenger was revived under the name of The Hope of Israel, and moved West. Their "hope," like the other, seemed to be that they would capture the Review Office, and take the field. But the more they figured over that strange combination, the third angel's message, and the age-to-come, the more it was seen that they would not fit together in a single particular. But though most of the ministry and many members at first went with them, they soon saw that the position was not tenable, and abandoned it. The movement began to taper to a point, which it soon reached, and so their "hope" was not realized. The cause in Wisconsin soon rallied, and became stronger than before.

In 1865 occurred what is known as the Snook and Brinkerhoof movement in Iowa. The cause of their opposition was about the same. A number joined with them; but the only bond of unity between them was opposition to the work of Seventh-day Adventists; but they were soon all in division among themselves. The paper was revived under the name, Advent and Sabbath Advocate. But finally the manager of the paper gave up the movement, and joined another people; and the paper has been moved down into Missouri, where it is now struggling for a precarious existence. But perhaps this is according to the established order, that "Westward the course of empire takes its way": first, Michigan, then Wisconsin, then Iowa, and then Missouri.

From these organized efforts against this work, I might pause to say a word about the opposition some individuals have tried to raise, and the mistake they have made. Voltaire made the conceited and impotent boast that it took twelve men to establish the gospel, but he would show that one man could overthrow it. In his blindness he failed to perceive that the power which established the gospel was not in the men whose names are connected with it, and that if it was ever to be overthrown, it would take a power higher than that of any one man, or any twelve men to do it.

So there have occasionally risen among us those who so long as they clung to the truth, and humbly bore their message, had success in their work, and influence with the people. There was power in their words, and young and old yielded to their persuasions. This pleased them. And we have seen them begin to harbor in their hearts the foolish thought that the power which attended their work was in themselves and not in the truth which they presented. And we have seen them at last come to feel that their genius was so mighty, and their strength so great, and that they held the cause so fully in their hands, that if their ambition was crossed, or in anything they became offended, they could turn around and give up the message, and overthrow it. And we have seen them try it. They have, beyond question, had the idea, for their actions have every way indicated it, that they could upset this whole work and bring it to naught.

The result has been such as might naturally be expected. Forgetting that the truth had made them all they were from the ground up, when they cut themselves off from that, they very soon found their level.

There is a lesson in this for all. Anywhere and in any age, in connection with the work of God, it is his work and his truth that give the strength and power; and they make a fatal mistake when they come to feel that this power is in themselves, and that they can use it as effectually to tear down as they once did to build up. If Luther, Melancthou, Zwingle, or Calvin, had made this mistake, and turned their whole strength against the Reformation to over throw and destroy it, I do not believe their power would have continued, or that they would have had influence with any considerable number of people, for five years.

Those to whom I have referred, as turning against this work rather than surrender some cherished dogma, or relinquish some ambitious scheme, have made shipwreck of faith in various ways. Some have become Universalists, some infidels, some Spiritualists. And now, strange to say, an effort is made to turn this against Adventism. See, it is said, how Adventism makes infidels! And how did ever any Adventist become an infidel? — Not by adhering to his Adventism, but by renouncing it, and turning against it! Suppose a boat is taking a company of people across a body of water, and some become uneasy, jump overboard, and are drowned; what would be thought of one who should exclaim, Destroy that boat! see how it is drowning people! The trouble was, they did n't remain in the boat. So the trouble with these was, they did n't stick to their Adventism.

I will guarantee that no Adventist will become an infidel or Spiritualist or any other kind of opposer of the Bible, so long as he sticks to his Adventism. And when a person has once been enlightened by the truths of Adventism, I believe we may adapt to his case the rule laid down by Paul, on one occasion, as stated in the Acts, and say that unless he abides in the ship, he cannot be saved.

I have already alluded to the year 1854, as being quite a discouraging year. It was so in still other respects than those I have mentioned.

Brother White saw that it would be an immense help to the cause if the paper could be published weekly. Under the promise of help, he ventured upon the experiment. Means did not come in as freely as had been expected. He knew it would not do to incur a debt, because there was no financial strength behind to liquidate the debt. So if expenses were not met, the only thing to do was to wait till means came in. In back files of the Review, you will find, May 30, 1854, after the receipts, this announcement: "One hundred dollar behind on the Review; no paper next week." June 20, the same year "$65.89 behind on the Review. The paper will be omitted next week." What would be our feelings to-day, if we had only one organ and that organ were struggling along in this way? I mention these things that we may see what difficulties, perplexities, and adversities our cause had to pass through, that we may not forget the day of small things, and that we may thus be better able to appreciate the goodness of God in the prosperity that he has sent us, and that our hearts may be filled with greater gratitude.

In 1855 the Review was moved to Battle Creek. Joseph Marsh, then editor of the Advent Harbinger, an age-to-come paper, was very jubilant over the removal of our office from Rochester. In a notice of the event in his paper, he said that we were dependent on frequent changes for our existence; that we had run out in various places, and that we had now gone West, and would soon run out there.

A few years after that, Joseph Marsh died; his paper immediately ceased to be published, and the cause it represented was scattered to the winds. The Review still lives.

In November, 1855, was held the first General Conference of our people, in this place. A publishing committee was there appointed to look after the wants of the paper. And the cause from this time began to increase in strength, although there was some running behind in the matter of expenses.

I have at hand here a few statistics which it might be of interest to read at this time. The entire force of the office at that time consisted of six persons. One person acted as proof-reader, mailing clerk, shipping clerk, treasurer, cashier, book-keeper, and editor. It takes eleven persons now to fill these offices. The receipts of the office during the current volume of 1857 were, $915.88; from other sources, chiefly for books, $79.44; leaving a deficit of $294.37. May 13, 1858, book sales by mail during the preceding six months, $237.59; on account, $163.23; leaving a deficit on expenses of $341.54. The book sales for six months ending May 19, 1859 were, by mail, $116.75; an account, $124.34; sales at the office, $21.27; total sales for the six months, $262.36. Expenses for the volume, $1,871. Receipts from all sources, $1,570.67. Deficit, $301.04. Nov. 13, 1860, book sales for the year, by mail, $188.30; on account, $592.03; leaving a deficit of $282.01; indebtedness of office, $1,976.56.

But steps now began to be taken toward the formation of a publishing association, and in the following spring, May 3, 1861, a publishing association was incorporated. Brethren took shares freely, so the debt was canceled, and the publishing work was put on a good financial basis. From that time the story of our cause is told in few words. Most of this congregation are acquainted with the leading features of its development. Conferences began to be organized in various States. Camp-meetings began to multiply.

I look back upon the time as a season worthy of special remembrance when such churches as Otsego, Allegan, Monterey, Wright, Greenville, Orleans, etc., in Michigan, and in other States which I might mention, were raised up, bringing many people of strength of character, solid worth, and some of financial ability, calculated to be the very bone and sinew of the cause, into the ranks. Our ministers went forth with the two great weapons of the message—the commandments of God and the faith of Jesus. They preached in a way to produce a thorough and permanent reformation of life. They did not adopt the methods of modern revivalists, and content themselves with merely giving their hearers a taste of honey and the sight of a rainbow; but they wove into their work some flashes from Sinai, to arouse the conscience, and strike the scales from blind eyes. The law underlies the gospel; and every true conversion is preceded by conviction.

In 1866 the Health Institute was established. In 1868 Brethren Loughborough and Bourdeau carried the message to the Pacific Coast. In the same year a camp-meeting (the first among our people) was held in Wright, Mich. In 1871 the first tract society was organized in Massachusetts. Then came our educational institutions; missionary operations; great revival in the book business; increase in numbers; increase in the ministry; work in this and foreign lands; increase in publishing offices; increase in periodicals, and a general expansion of the work until it has reached the encouraging proportions reported at this meeting.

The growth of the work will perhaps best appear from statistics on a few points, taken at different decades since the message began. Just four decades ago, as we have seen, in 1849, the publishing work was entered upon; from that time to 1859 would make one decade; to 1869 two; to 1879 three; to the present year, 1889, four.

In 1849 there was not enough material for any statistics at all. In 1859 there was nothing to be reported, except what I have mentioned in the book sales, which at that time, had reached about $800.00 a year. From 1869 we are able to give other particulars. Thus in 1869, we had, ordained ministers, 33; in 1879, 144; in 1889, 227. Licentiates in 1869, 24; in 1879, 151; in 1889, 181. Churches in 1869, 167; in 1879, 599; in 1889, 972. Membership, in 1869, 4,900; in 1879, 14,141; in 1889, 28,324. Funds in 1869, $18,952.77; in 1879, $51,714.00; in 1889, $222,012.80. Book sales from the Review Office alone, in 1869, $3,933.15; in 1879, $31,786.66; in 1889, $163,129.23; add to this the sales from the branch office at Toronto, and the figures are brought up to $170,910.74.

This, as explained at the meeting of the Publishing Association, is at the wholesale rates, and represents a retail value of over $400,000.00. And this pertains only to the one office in Battle Creek, not taking in the sales from the Pacific Press, Bible Echo Office, and our offices in London, Basel, and Christiana. When reports from these sources are in, the aggregate will show over half a million dollars' worth of our publications, which have gone out to the people during the past year.

I might stop and draw a comparison between this work and that of some other denominations in the same line. I do this, not for the sake of drawing any invidious comparisons, but to point a moral. The Advent Christian Publication Society, of Boston, Mass., the largest branch of the First-day Adventists known as the "Crisis Party"—this is the party who have the advent without the Sabbath—at their last annual meeting reported on book sales $5,505.07. The Seventh-day Baptists—those who have the Sabbath without the advent—reported at their last annual meeting on book sales $404.72. Thus we see that the Sabbath and the advent, as we have them together in the third angel's message, seem to do much better. And yet a recent pervert from our faith, who has access to all these facts, is industriously fooling the public papers of this country by causing them to publish articles from his pen, that "Seventh-day Adventism is declining"!

I often think of the time when Elder Loughborough, myself, and a few others, in Rochester, N. Y., under the direction of Brother White, were preparing the first tracts to be sent out to the people. The instruments we had to use were a brad-awl, a straight-edge, and a penknife. Brother Loughborough, with the awl, would perforate the backs for stitching; the sisters would stitch them; and then I, with the straight-edge and penknife, would trim the rough edges on the top, front, and bottom. We blistered our hands in the operation, and often the tracts in form were not half so true and square as the doctrines they taught.

And I often try to imagine what our emotions would have been, could we have been suddenly transported to this time, and looked upon these institutions and the wonderful facilities now provided for carrying on the work, and heard the reports we have heard here, and so have been brought face to face with the great advancement that this cause has made; I think we would have felt like exclaiming, "It is enough; now lettest thou thy servant depart in peace." But we have come to this time; the contrast is no less real and striking, because it has taken a few years to accomplish it. But now we do not feel like departing just yet, because there is a future to this work.

My subject embraces not only the past history, but the future work of Seventh-day Adventists. What is that work to be? In the scale of nature, we look down below ourselves, and find minute forms, in comparison with which we are figures of towering size; but we turn our eyes upward in the opposite direction, and we see there forms and magnitudes so mighty that in comparison with them we are but as the small dust of the balance. So in our work; though it may seem large now as compared with its past history, it may take on proportions in the future which will dwarf its present magnitude to very small dimensions. Indeed, it must do so if certain prophecies which we apply to it are ever to be fulfilled in connection with it. We are as yet a small people. We have nothing over which to boast. Of ourselves we can do nothing. And yet there is a mighty work to be done. In the Lord alone is our help, and to him we look and not to the obstacles that lie in the way.

I read that the third angel's message, which this work embraces, is to ripen the harvest of the earth. Then it must touch wherever there is any harvest to be gathered from the earth. And what does Christ say?—"The field is the world;" and "the harvest is the end of the world." If this work is to ripen the harvest for the end, it must result in bringing out a perfect church. It must result, on the other hand, in causing those who fight against it to reach perfection in their line, or to go to the extreme of apostasy from righteousness and truth. It is the savor of life unto life, and of death unto death, to the last generation. And a work so solemn, close, and searching in its nature, will not permit any double-mindedness on the part of its adherents, no division of purpose, no communion with the world, no alliance with sin.

This work is to go forth in the spirit and power of Elias. It will not quail before the Ababbs of this generation. And when the world is writhing in the agony of the last great time of trouble, as set forth by the prophet Daniel, and when God's people are charged with being the authors of these calamities, as they have been in similar circumstances in the past, they will boldly answer, It is not we who are troubling Israel, but ye and your father's house, in that ye have forsaken the commandments of the Lord, and have followed Balaam.

Our work is to take the front place in one of the greatest controversies and the widest scene of agitation that this world has ever seen. In it the long issue between light and darkness, between truth and error, is to reach its climax. It is no less than a decision, — not merely an agitation, — but a final decision, of the thrilling question, Shall we follow the Lord Jehovah, or, turning against him, shall we follow the man of sin? Its principal theater is to be a country which can measure strength politically with any power on the earth; which, in resources and wealth, overtops them all; which has reached the highest pinnacle of enlightenment; which has given to its citizens the sweetest taste of liberty, religious and civil, that man has ever enjoyed.

Here, I say, will be the principal theater of the controversy, though it will extend to all lands which are influenced by the doctrines inculcated by the "man of sin." Providentially, the lines of the controversy are so laid, that in a country like this, before the opposition can carry its points, it must override and break down this boon of religious freedom. The two-horned beast (symbol of the United States) is to enact that all shall worship the first beast (symbol of the papacy). Rev. 13 : 12. That worship involves the right of conscience. Shall men be compelled to worship against their conscience? Shall church and State be united? Shall religious liberty be overthrown? Shall the principles of our Constitution be trampled under foot? These are the real issues that are coming up in connection with this work. And when the people understand them, and see that liberty is imperiled, the controversy will rise to a white heat all over this land. It will divide every State, every county, every city, every village, every neighborhood, every district, every church, and almost every family, and the country will be shaken by such a storm of conflicting views and principles, as it has never seen before. Then shall we be called upon to work as we have never worked before. Brethren, the providence of God is drawing us into the very vortex of that great whirl of events with which this world's history is to close. And we would do well to begin, and begin now, to strengthen our hearts in him, and gird ourselves for the fray.

The half-hearted and the indifferent will never endure the ordeal. It will require the faithfulness of the prophets, the love and zeal of the apostles, and the spirit and consecration of the martyrs. Nothing less than this will carry us through. I tremble for those who, careless and indifferent at this time, are content to fritter away their days in trifles, and see no necessity of throwing themselves, heart and soul, into the work of the Lord, and making sure their connection with him.

Again: Christ said in Matt. 24 : 14: "And this gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations; and then shall the end come." The gospel of the kingdom could not have been brought out in all its fullness until we reached the time and the circumstances of the last closing message. We believe we have it now. And this message must go to all the world.

We read in Rev. 18 : 1, that an angel comes down from heaven, and the earth is lightened with his glory; symbolizing, as we believe, the closing of the work of this third angel's message in the earth. The work is certainly world-wide.

I dare not venture upon any statistics as to how many papers will have to be published, or millions of books circulated; but I think we can safely say that we ~~are~~ every one of us consider ourselves enlisted as soldiers and laborers in this work, and the limit of our field is the limit of the world itself.

You ask, How long before the work will be done? The outlook is to my mind growing very much restricted. Outside of our own work there are now only two questions to be settled: the Eastern political question, and the Western religious-liberty question. The papacy, as such, has had its day, though as a spiritual power it will live, and have an influence till the end. But the great trouble is with a retrograding Protestantism. If Protestants would all stand true to their principles, the papacy would be as helpless as a paralytic. But Protestantism is turning its back upon its own glory. A patient sometimes partially recovers from a disease, but takes a relapse and dies. Protestantism started out well, and partially recovered itself from the disease of papal superstition and corruption. But it has taken a relapse and is about to die. We see the sad symptoms all around us, in the false principles they adopt, the reckless assertions they make, the bitter and malignant spirit may even now manifest in their movements toward the formation in this country of that prophetic "image of the beast."

How speedily is it possible for that image to be formed? That depends upon public opinion, and public opinion is a fickle thing. It may change in a night. Organizations of immense influence and power are besieging Congress to pass such laws, and so amend the Constitution as to virtually unite church and State. Then the image would be here. And who can say that Congress might not take such action at the very next session, and the States by special sessions of their legislatures indorse it, and so we, almost before we know it, find ourselves in the very grip of the coming storm? I say, who knows?

And in the East, all Europe trembles to-day, on the verge of an all devastating war; and it would hardly seem possible for this to come without bringing the Turk, the "king of the north," to his end, with none to help him. And then, the prophet says, Christ takes his throne and comes as King.

But some may say, You cannot do the work which you admit is to be done, in a generation of time. From a human point of view, this might be so. But there is another point of view which takes in Omnipotence. We have One who is mighty to help. I do not blame the twelve spies for reporting that the cities of the Canaanites had walls built up to heaven, and that there were giants in the land in comparison with whom they were but as grasshoppers. But I do blame the ten for forgetting that even if the walls were built up to heaven, there was a God in the heavens higher than the walls; and though the giants were mighty, the arm of Jehovah was stronger than all of them together; and he was pledged for their help.

So I blame no one now for looking at the magnitude of the work and the seeming difficulties in the way. But I should blame any one if he forgot that there is a God in heaven who has called for this work to be done, and is pledged to help if we will work with him; a God who could send legions of angels, if necessary, to the help of his people, and who can give to every laborer, every herald of the cross, sinews of steel and a tongue of fire. In God is our help, and to him alone we look, not to the difficulties of the way and the greatness of the work. In his name and by his help we are well able to go up and possess the goodly land.

The goodly land! I can hardly forbear, before I close, casting a glance forward to that heavenly inheritance which is the objective point of all our struggles, our toils, and our desires. I see there a land which stands in a wonderful contrast to this. As the hymn says—

"Oh! how unlike the present world,
Will be the one to come!"

I see fields smiling in living green, trees majestic in their wealth of verdure, flowers dazzling with their rainbow hues, and on neither field nor tree nor flower do

I see the touch of frost, or the pale hand of decay. I see no foot-prints of the curse, no scars of sin. I see no pestilence walking in darkness, nor destruction wasting at noon-day. I see no forms distorted with pain, nor brows furrowed with anxiety and care. I see no mournful shafts telling where weary forms and sad and broken hearts have gone down into dust and darkness. I see no painful messages passing over that land, as two days ago we received one here, telling that a friend, a brother, a fellow-laborer, had fallen beneath the cruel stroke of a relentless foe. I see no darkened room where the tide of a precious life is ebbing slowly away. I see no bosoms heaving with anguish, no badges of mourning, no funeral trains, no yawning, insatiate grave. But on the other hand, I see a glorious company who bear bright palms of victory over death and the grave. I see, as one of our hymns says, that —“the glory of God like a molten sea,

Bathes the immortal company.”

I see every eye sparkling with the fullness of the joy that reigns within. I see on every cheek the bloom of eternal youth and everlasting health. I see every limb lithe and strong. I see the lame man leaping as an hart. I see the blind gazing with rapture on the celestial glory. I see the deaf listening enchanted to the heavenly melody. I see the dumb joining with loud voice in the anthems of praise. I see the mother clasping to her bosom the children she had lost awhile in the land of the enemy, but now recovered forever. I see long parted friends meet in eternal reunion. I see a river so pure and clear, so charged with every element of refreshment and life, that it is called “the river of life.” I see a tree over-arching all, so healing in its leaves, so vivifying in its fruits, that it is called “the tree of life.” I see a great white throne in whose effulgence there is no need of moon or sun to give us light. I hear a voice saying to that victorious company, “This is your rest forever, and you shall no more be acquainted with grief; for there shall be no more pain or death, and sorrow and mourning have forever fled away.” And in all the universe I then see no trace of sin or suffering, but I hear from every world and from every creature, a joyous anthem, like the sound of many waters, going up to God; and they say, “Blessing, and honor, and glory, and power, be unto him that sitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb for ever and ever.”

Such is the goodly land we may go up and possess. Such is the land that awaits every laborer who is faithful to the end. The Spirit and Bride say, Come; and whosoever will, may come. If any here have not yet turned their feet Zionward, let me say, “Come with us, and we will do thee good.”

Such are a few of the thoughts and facts that present themselves on a brief survey of the history and future work of Seventh-day Adventists. We thank God for his protecting, guiding, prospering hand in the past; we take courage from the present; we ask his heavenly grace for the brief but thrilling future, till the warfare is accomplished, and the victory won.
