GENERAL CONFERENCE.

ADDRESS BY THE PRESIDENT, ELDER O. A. OLSEN.

IN sending out our Year Book for 1891, we cannot place before our readers the doings and deliberations of the General Conference as in past years, as that body now meets only once in two years, instead of yearly. But this fact will not do away with the necessity for a year book. The reader will find our present Year Book filled with very important information regarding the work and its progress in every part of the world. This information is of the greatest value to our friends everywhere, and should be studied with care, so that our brethren may be intelligent in reference to the work in every part of the field. All our home and foreign Conferences have held their annual meetings during the year, and in many instances there has been a change of officers and standing committees, which calls for a thorough revision of the Workers' Directory.

A General Survey of the Field and the Work.

The closing year has been one of much interest in many respects. There has never before been such a systematic and well organized effort to circulate our denominational literature. The canvassing work has been more fully organized, and our local tract societies have also done efficient work. In the early part of the year there was a general agitation throughout the country over the subject of religious legislation. This opened the way for a large amount of reading-matter to be circulated, especially that treating on religious liberty, and the evils resulting from such legislation. It also opened the way for lectures on this subject in many important places. This large amount of reading-matter is everywhere creating an interest in the study of the Holy Scriptures, and especially that portion which has distinct reference to the present time and present developments. This in turn has created a demand for ministerial labor. As people read and become interested, they next desire to hear the living preacher, and with our best endeavors we have not been able to meet but a small proportion of the many calls for labor from our home field, and in many cases what we have done has been at the expense of other important work.

The Foreign Field.

The foreign field is not less interesting. The situation is even more striking. Through the circulation of reading-matter, and by the special providence of God, we see the way opening everywhere for the spread of the gospel and for the special light which God has for his people at this time. Many and most urgent calls for missionaries have come from many different lands and people, but to the much greater part of these we have not been able to give a favorable response. In reading accounts of missionaries and their work, we see how they left home and friends and native land, and all uninvited, went forth to carry the light of gospel truth to those who knew not the true God. Living in heathen darkness as they were, and having no knowledge of the true God, they had no desire for anything better. Under such circumstances, these self-sacrificing and devoted missionaries were not only unappreciated, but in most instances ill-treated and persecuted, and many of them fell as martyrs in their efforts to bring the gospel to the benighted heathen. They were actuated by the spirit of Christ in their love for those in darkness. That is the true missionary spirit, and the spirit which will characterize every true servant of God. Their efforts and self-sacrificing labors have not been in vain; we now see the results in the many openings for the gospel everywhere, so much so that we cannot begin to fill a tithe of the most urgent calls for missionaries from various places. How different is the situation now from what it has been in past years. Now, instead of going uninvited as in the cases above referred to, we go in answer to these urgent calls, and where they stand ready with open arms to receive us, ready to give us a hearty welcome, and second our efforts for good. Surely these things ought to be appreciated, and what excuse can there be if we are indifferent and negligent, and pass carelessly by without improving the opportunities which such circumstances as these afford? Let the friends of the cause everywhere consider these things carefully.

The Islands of the Pacific.

For several years there has been an urgent call for missionary help from the islands of the Pacific. We have also made some efforts to send them help, but have failed; but during the past year we have been enabled to carry out our desire. The General Conference at its last session voted to build a missionary ship, for work among the islands of the Pacific, and appointed a committee consisting of C. H. Jones, C. Eldridge, and J. I. Tay to carry the resolution into effect, which they have done. A very neat and serviceable vessel of about one hundred tons' burden has been built on the Pacific Coast at a cost of $12,000. She has been very appropriately named "Piteairn." We had the pleasure of being present at her dedication, September 25, and on October 20 she sailed from San Francisco, on her mission to the islands of the Pacific. The ship's crew are J. M. Marsh, Captain; J. Christiansen, Mate; G. Anderson, Chas. Kahlstrom, Peter Hansen, and H. N. Garthofuer, sailors. The missionaries are Elder E. H. Gates and wife, Elder A. J. Reed and wife, and Brother J. I. Tay and wife. Elder Gates is the superintendent.

We rejoice in this advance move in our missionary work, and we pray that God's signal blessing may rest on this enterprise and prosper the mission, that it may be the means of saving many souls.

We have also been able to respond to the pressing calls from the West Indies by sending Elder D. A. Ball of the Pennsylvania Conference to labor in that field, and with him Wm. Arnold. But the urgent calls from the North Coast and from several other points in South America we have not been able to answer as yet. Neither have we been able to send any missionaries to fill the calls from various places on the West Coast of Africa, nor to send the additional help called for in the work begun in South Africa. Nothing has been done to answer the plea from Finland, and we might go on and mention an almost endless number of places and countries where there are openings for which we have not, as yet, been able to do anything. Truly the harvest is white, but the laborers are few. It would be well if all could realize the necessity for increased interest in the missionary work, both at home and in foreign lands.

Work now in Progress.

The reports from the work now in progress in various foreign countries are very encouraging.

Central Europe.

The Central European Conference is the oldest of our foreign missions. Elder J. N. Andrews opened the work there in 1874. During the past year the laborers in that field have been very successful, and quite a number have been added to the churches, and several new interests have been developed. Their camp-meeting last August was a marked success. Though held in a Catholic community, and though camp-meetings in that country are something of a novelty, our brethren were not only treated with courtesy and respect, but a real interest was manifested, and several have, since this meeting, taken a firm stand in favor of all the truth. Our publishing house at Basel has had a prosperous year, and the canvassers have been successful in circulating a large amount of literature. The mission school at Hamburg, Germany, under the charge of Elder L. R. Conradi, has been productive of much good in educating workers not only for different branches of the work, but also from different countries. During the autumn, Elder Conradi made a visit to Russia under the direction of the Central European Conference.

It is a matter of the deepest interest to note the progress the truth has made in Russia with so little labor and under such adverse circumstances, in the brief time since it was introduced there. In late reports from Elder Conradi, he mentions several churches of from forty to sixty members, and many other smaller companies. No wonder there is a loud call for missionaries from a people so ready to be taught of the Lord. Have we fully realized our responsibility, and the duty we owe to those who are less favored, but just as desirous to know the will of God as we?

The object of Elder Conradi's visit was to become better acquainted with the work in Russia, to assist in more fully organizing the churches, to strengthen and encourage the laborers, and to select proper persons to attend the school at Hamburg, where they may be instructed and prepared to go back and labor for their own people. The next term of school begins early in 1891.

It is also proper in this connection to mention the work in Algeria. By means of some publications sent from Basel, Switzerland, an interest was awakened in Relizane, Algeria, and soon some of the people, after studying the matter carefully, began to obey the truth as far as they understood it. In answer to their earnest call for help, Elder Comte, a French missionary from Switzerland, was sent to instruct them in the ways of the Lord more perfectly. As the result of his visit, thirty-five were baptized and organized into a church. Brother Jose Gomis, the elder of the church, is a man well recommended. He has translated several tracts into the Spanish language, and is very anxious to have them printed to circulate among his people. That field seems to be ripe for the harvest. The Spanish people in that country are earnestly pleading for a missionary to labor among them.

Scandinavia.

The work in Scandinavia is making steady progress. The printing-house in Christiana has all the work it can do, and the past year has been the most successful year in its history. Three successful camp-meetings have been held, one in each of the countries of Denmark, Sweden, and Norway. The last one was especially encouraging. Successful tent meetings have also been held in each of the three countries. The school at Christiana has become a fixed thing, and is doing good work. There is now a demand for a school in northern Norway, and they are beseeching the Foreign Mission Board to send them a teacher. Sweden and Denmark are also calling for schools. The subject of schools in these countries is worthy of careful consideration. We have every reason to be encouraged over the work in Scandinavia.

Great Britain.

During the year several additions have been made to the workers in Great Britain, and the outlook for the work there was never more encouraging than now. The membership in London has considerably increased. The canvassing work is being made a success. The branch publishing house of the Pacific Press established in London a little more than a year ago, has been doing good work, and is destined to be a great strength to the work in Great Britain and her colonies. The tent meetings in Ireland during the summer were successful in leading some precious souls to the truth of God.

Australia.

The work in Australia has made rapid progress during the past year. Brother E. M. Morrison's effort to organize the canvassing work and instruct agents has been very successful. Elder S. N. Haskell on his tour around the world, arrived in Australia in August, in time to attend their annual Conference and the institute connected with it. His coming was very much appreciated. Their Conference showed a large increase in membership. Three brethren were ordained to the ministry, and several new ones received ministerial license from the Conference. The prospect for the work there is very promising indeed. They are now planning to enlarge the borders of their work by making Sydney a central point for the work in New South Wales.

New Zealand.

The annual Conference in New Zealand was held in the early part of the year. Here, too, the work has made very rapid advancement. A sad feature in connection with the work in New Zealand is the failing health of Elder A. G. Daniells. We sincerely hope that his health may be restored, and he be spared to the work. Elder M. C. Israel is now president of the New Zealand Conference. A large increase in their membership is reported. An item of interest worthy of mention is that three young men from New Zealand have come all this distance, and are now students in the Battle Creek College, and two others are at Healdsburg College, making five in all. These have come for the purpose of getting an education and being instructed in the truth, that they may return to their native country and labor for their own people. Such an interest should put to shame many who live almost in the shadow of our College. Is it not time to awaken to an appreciation of the blessings and privileges that God has placed in our reach?

Africa and Cape Colony.

During the past year the work has made some advancement in that large field. Elder I. J. Hankins has held a successful series of meetings at Rockeby, and a church of twenty members has been organized. Calls for labor are reported from many places where an interest has been awakened by the reading of our publications. Here, again, we will mention that five brethren have come all the way from South Africa to Battle Creek in order to secure the benefits of our College and Ministers' School. Some of these have been here for two years, and others have lately arrived. Their object is to get a preparation to go back and labor for their own people. Such interest is worthy of emulation.

The urgent calls from the West Coast have not been responded to as yet. For two years they have been pleading for help, but no help has been sent them. We hope that Elder C. L. Boyd on his return to this country from South Africa, can stop and make them at least a brief call. There are now more than thirty-two observing the Lord's Sabbath near the Gold Coast, Cape Palmas, Sierra Leone, and other places. A well-organized effort should be made to plant the truth in all the countries of this great continent, without delay.

For more extended and particular information from all the fields named, and many not named, we refer the reader to the report of the Foreign Mission Secretary in this Year Book. Do not be satisfied to glance it over hastily; it is worthy of careful study.

Our Home Field.

At our last General Conference, our home field, the United States, was divided for convenience and economy into six districts, each composed of several Conferences or mission fields. A general superintendent was placed over each as follows: Dist. No. 1, A. T. Robinson; No. 2, R. M. Kilgore; No. 3, O. A. Olsen; No. 4, E. W. Farnsworth; No. 5, J. N. Loughborough; No. 6, R. A. Underwood. The reader will be able to locate these Districts by referring to a little map in the first part of the Year Book. You will also find in another place a report from each of the general superintendents, giving a brief summary of the work in their respective Districts.

During the past season we have held fifty-two camp-meetings, four of which were in Europe. These have been scattered through nearly all the different States. The attendance has varied from a few hundreds to several thousands. It was my privilege to attend the camp-meetings in Pennsylvania, New York, New England, and the Province of Quebec in the East, and in Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Nebraska, and California in the West. All these meetings were good. I shall not attempt here to give any of the particulars of the work in the several General Conference Districts, as that will be given in the reports of the District Superintendents referred to above, but shall now make mention of some of the more general features of the work.

Educational.

During the year our educational work has made rapid progress. The attendance at our different schools is larger than at any time before. The Battle Creek College is full. The Healdsburg College has a larger attendance than last year. The South Lancaster Academy has a much larger attendance than in any previous year; their buildings are all crowded, and they are pleading for more room. The school at Milton, Or., has 150 pupils, and there are schools of less prominence in Minnesota, Kansas, Texas, and other places. Among the Scandinavians, several church schools are in progress with good prospects for success.

Early in the year work was begun on Union College, which is located at Lincoln, Neb. The main building was inclosed in November, 1890. It is a substantial structure 148 x 85. A ladies' dormitory 104 x 104 is also up and inclosed, and work is begun on the foundation for a third building, to be known as the home for the German and Scandinavian branches of the school.

Union College is to embrace three distinct and complete schools; viz., English, German, and Scandinavian, each one complete in itself. The Scandinavian school will teach exclusively the Swedish and Danish-Norwegian languages. Already $40,000 has been expended in the erection of these buildings, and by the first of September, 1891, all will be ready for the college to open, and commence its work.

In the Northwest the North Pacific and Upper Columbia Conferences have decided to unite their school interests, and establish an academy in a central location. The definite place is to be decided in January, 1891. There is an urgent demand for a school in District No. 2, which will no doubt be located during the year.

We would make special mention of the religious interest as one of the most encouraging features connected with our educational work. A class of thirty graduated from the Battle Creek College last year, and every one of these expressed a most earnest desire to connect with the work of the denomination. Several of them were offered good positions commanding much better salaries than they could get in connection with our denominational work, but all these inducements were set aside because of their interest in the cause of Christ, and to-day nearly every one of these is engaged in some branch directly connected with the present truth. The same can be said of the students from Healdsburg College and South Lancaster Academy, and also the smaller schools.

This being so, we cannot as a people overestimate the importance of our educational work at a time when there is such a demand for laborers from every quarter. It may also be of interest to make mention here of some that have in the past attended the Battle Creek College, and are now occupying responsible positions in the work. Such names occur to us as Elder G. C. Tenney, who now has the general superintendence of the work in Australia, being President of the Conference, also President of the Echo Publishing Co., and chief editor of the Bible Echo; Elder A. G. Daniells, whom we have mentioned in connection with the work in New Zealand; Elder I. J. Hankins of South Africa; Elder H. P. Holser, President of the Central European Conference and the publishing house at Basel, Switzerland; Elder L. R. Conradi, who stands at the head of the German work, and is in charge of the training school at Hamburg; Elder E. G. Olsen of Norway; Elder Emil J. Åhrén of Denmark; Elder D. A. Robinson; and Brother W. A. Spicer, now in London, England, and many others. There is not a foreign country where we have opened any important work but there are to be found representatives from the College, to say nothing of the workers in all our home Conferences. This is indeed a very encouraging showing for our educational institutions, and should inspire all our young people with the desire to secure the advantages afforded by the facilities and courses of instruction therein provided. With more schools and better facilities to attend, we shall expect to see hundreds of new workers coming into the field every year, ready to meet the ever-increasing calls for laborers from every part of the world.

An earnest effort should be made this year to raise the incumbrance of $40,000 that is hanging so heavily on the Battle Creek College. This is a great hindrance to its prosperity, and it should be put in the best condition possible to do its work.

Publishing Interest.

From the very beginning of the work, the utility of the press has been appreciated. Elder James White began, in 1849, to publish the little sheet called the Present Truth. Our ministers and laborers have always been very few in comparison to the demands for labor, and if it had not been for the aid of publications, but little, comparatively, could have been accomplished. Almost everywhere the publications have gone ahead and created an interest in the truth which has made a demand for a minister to follow; and in many instances when the minister could spend but a short time and give but a few discourses, the effort would have been lost had it not been for the reading-matter which he left with the people.

From the very small beginning already mentioned, in 1849, the publishing work has had a gradual and uninterrupted growth till the present time. During the past year we have circulated not less than $500,000 worth of books and other publications. The organization of the canvassing work has added much to the usefulness of the press, as by this means the books can be circulated to much better advantage. At present there are not less than 800 active canvassers in the field.

Our denominational publishing houses are located at Battle Creek, Mich.; Oakland, Cal.; Melbourne, Australia; Basel, Switzerland; Christiania, Norway; with branch houses in London; New York; Toronto, Canada; and Atlanta, Ga.; with State depositories in every home and foreign Conference.

The Review and Herald Office, our central and oldest publishing house, will have run the extent of its first charter (thirty years), in June next. But already the preliminary steps have been taken to re-incorporate and continue the work, so that when the present charter expires, another corporation will be ready to take up the work, and carry it on to its final completion.

Health Institutions.

The same increase of interest and prosperity that is seen in the various branches of work already mentioned, has also been manifest in a marked degree in our health institutions. The Medical and Surgical Sanitarium at Battle Creek has made large additions during the year to its already large capacity, and still it is full to overflowing. The St. Helena Health Retreat has been more than filled. Not only adjoining cottages were secured and used, but tents were pitched on the hillside, to give room for patients and helpers.

The Mt. Vernon Sanitarium has also added more room to accommodate its increasing patronage.

Funds.

This subject is of the greatest importance just now. Everywhere we see the way open for the truth to go, and if we had the necessary funds to support laborers when in the field, much more might be done than is being done. True, we need laborers, but we also need funds to support those who are already in the field; without some assurance of more funds, it is hardly consistent for us to ask for more laborers; but both are greatly needed, and God will certainly test the sincerity of our profession on this point.

The advance moves made the past year in the building and sending out of the missionary ship, the building of Union College, and the increase of General Conference laborers in the home field, have called for an outlay of not less than $40,000 in advance of previous years. This with the work in foreign fields has made heavy draughts on the funds of the General Conference. It is of the greatest importance that the friends of the cause everywhere should understand these things as they are. The General Conference Committee and the Foreign Mission Board are but the servants of the people,—your agents, brethren and sisters, to carry out your will and purposes. You are the stewards to whom the Lord has intrusted his goods. All is the Lord's. We are not our own, but are bought with a price. As servants and stewards, God has given each of us a work to do. And as your servants, we cannot go farther than your support will warrant us in going.

You have responded nobly in the past; and we have reason to believe that you will respond to the demands of this time, when the wants of the cause are plainly set before you, and that is what we are trying to do. We have asked the questions, Shall we do less than we are doing? Shall we retrench any part of the work? Shall we curtail our efforts to send the truth to those who are in darkness, but who are earnestly pleading for help? The response which we hear coming from our brethren is, No, no; but go ahead; we will stand by you and support the work. This is cheering, indeed, and gives evidence that we can rely on our brethren as in the past.

We are glad to report that at present the work is more carefully organized and systematized than at any time in the past; thus getting much more work done for the same amount of means expended. And we shall not stop here; but our friends may feel assured that we shall continue to systematize the work, and make every outlay of means count the most for the work in every department.

We give below a table showing the money raised during the year 1889-90; and another showing the appropriations made by the Foreign Mission Board for the year 1890-91. We request all to give this subject a very careful study.

Last year the funds raised fell short of the appropriation about $12,000. This has greatly crippled our efforts. This year we shall have to make this good, and in addition, contribute enough to meet the wants of the work that is now being planned for.

It is proper for us to realize that we have great light, and that God holds us responsible for it, not only that we walk in it ourselves, but that we let it shine by giving it to the world. Believing, as we do, that time is short, it stands us in hand to be greatly in earnest. A great triumph is in store for the people of God. May it be our happy privilege to share in its glory.

The following table needs no explanation. It presents the facts as they are, and shows how much should be done by each of the several States to raise the entire sum needed for the present year's work. By having this table before them, each Conference can know what is expected of it, and can work accordingly.

On motion, it was decided that the auditing be done in two parts, the accounts of the home laborers at the time of the summer council, and the accounts of the foreign laborers in the fall.

It was voted that all reports of labor, home and foreign, end June 30 of each year.

Using Tithes to Build Churches.

A letter was read from Sister ———, of ———, asking that the church at that place might be permitted to retain their tithes for one year, to assist in building a meeting-house. After due consideration, the following resolution was adopted:—

Resolved, That it is the sense of this Committee that we do not indorse the withholding of tithes for such purposes, under any circumstances.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

The reports of committees as adopted by the General Conference Committee, are given below.

Preservation of Correspondence.

The Committee on Preservation of General Conference Correspondence, presented the following resolutions, which were adopted:—

1. Resolved, That we recommend each member of the General Conference Committee, to keep, as far as possible, a copy of all important letters written, and transfer the same, with a file of all important letters received, to the Secretary of the General Conference, at the expiration of his term of office.

2. That the Secretaries of the Conference keep their records in permanent form. Also, that each Secretary keep copies of letters written, and a permanent file of his General Conference correspondence, which shall be delivered at the expiration of his office, to the acting Secretary of the General Conference Committee.

We recommend, That the old records of the General Conference be transferred to a new book, in writing; and that the General Conference correspondence of past years be gathered up, as far as possible, and put on file in the General Conference Office.

Report of the Committee Appointed to Recommend a Line of Work for the Central Bible School of Chicago.

We, your Committee to present plans for the Central Bible School, would submit the following report:—

1. We find that the Illinois Conference has completed a suitable building for a training-school for home and foreign missionaries, in harmony with the recommendation of the General Conference, supported by the "Testimonies;" and that the Illinois Conference officers wish to furnish the building free of charge for the above work, with the request that the General Conference furnish the necessary instructors for the school. We therefore recommend that the General Conference pay the salaries of G. B. Starr and wife, Miss M. L. Huntley, and such other persons as the Board of Managers, appointed by the General Conference, may, from time to time, employ for this general work.

2. We advise that a six months' course of instruction be held at Chicago, beginning Jan. 1, 1890, for the accommodation of representatives from the various States, and that we ask the General Conference Committee to make the announcement for this course in the Review. The price of board and room (to be paid by the individuals, or States from which these persons come) to be $50 for the term of six months. The Illinois Conference upon their part, in consideration of the value of the services of these persons the last three months of their stay, to pay the street-car fare spent in actual Bible work during the entire time.

District Canvassing Agent.

The committee appointed to consult with C. Eldridge, General Canvassing Agent, in reference to appointing canvassing agents for each of the General Conference Districts, recommend the following:—

For Dist. No. 1, E. E. Miles; No. 2, A. F. Harrison; No. 3, J. E. Froom, assisted by F. E. Belden; No. 4, F. L. Mead; No. 5, W. R. Smith; No. 6, S. N. Curtis. The report was accepted, and the appointments confirmed.

Report of the Committee on District Meetings and Ministerial Institutes.

1. We recommend, That those in charge of the several Districts, consult together with the brethren in those Districts, and make such arrangements for general meetings, or institutes, as may be thought best.

2. We recommend, That for the present season, local meetings in different sections of General Conference District No. 2 of the mission field be substituted for general camp-meetings.

3. That a General Council of the laborers in this field, together with a ministerial institute, be held in Georgia, Oct. 16-28, 1890.

Report of the Committee to Consider the Wants of the Southern Field.

Your Committee to consider the wants of the Southern Field [District No. 2], would recommend the following:—

1. That J. W. Scoles be recommended to remain in the South, and labor in the Cumberland Mission Field.

2. That Gilbert Wilson and wife go to District No. 2, and labor in the South Atlantic Field.

3. That we renew our appeal to the General Canvassing Agent for canvassers for this field.

Report of the Committee Appointed to Define the Duties of the Heads of General Conference Districts.

We would recommend:—

1. That the member of the General Conference Committee having charge of a General Conference District, be called a General Superintendent.

2. That it be the duty of each General Superintendent to attend the annual State Conferences held in his District.

3. That the General Superintendent have the oversight of all ministerial institutes and annual conventions held in his District; that he attend these, as far as possible, and provide for the attendance of competent teachers, leaders, and counselors, at all these meetings.

4. That it be the duty of the General Superintendent to become acquainted with the officers of the State Conferences, Tract Societies, and Sabbath-school and Health and Temperance Associations in his District, and ascertain the efficiency of their methods of labor; and to counsel, caution, and instruct them, as the state of their work may demand. Also to report to the Corresponding Secretary of the General Conference any irregularity or inefficiency that endangers the prosperity of the societies of which he has the oversight.

5. That it be the duty of the General Superintendent to have a special care for weak Conferences and mission fields in his District, and for such portions of the territory as are being neglected; and to bring to the attention of the General Conference Committee, the condition and wants of such fields.

Report of the Committee on Finances.

Your Committee on Finances would submit the following:—

In view of the pressing calls of local enterprises in the United States, it is not unreasonable to suppose that there will be a falling off in the Christmas offerings the present year; and,—

Whereas, The demands for the outlay of means to extend the third angel's message at home and abroad, are greater than ever before; therefore,—

We would urge that at all the camp-meetings and general meetings in the various Conferences, several counsel and instruction meetings be held with the ministers, directors, and church elders, to discuss the financial interests of the cause, and to awaken a more general interest in the payment of tithes and the support of our foreign missions, by first-day offerings.

Report of the Committee on Raising of Funds.

Your Committee find that there is urgent need for funds,—

1. For the distribution of literature on the subject of Religious Liberty.
2. For the employment of colporters in the Southern States, composing General Conference District No. 2.
3. For the building of the missionary ship.
4. For the education of home and foreign missionaries.

Therefore your Committee recommend:—

1. That the President and the Secretary of this Committee be authorized to make public calls for donations to such special funds as the prosperity of the work requires, and are deemed advisable by them and the Executive Board of either one of our denominational societies.

2. That for the present season, we suggest the following:—

That calls be made immediately for $5,000 to furnish literature on the subject of religious liberty, and $2,000 for the employment of colporters in District No. 2.

Report of the Committee on Duties of District Canvassing Agents.

Your Committee on the Duties of District Canvassing Agents, would submit the following recommendations for your consideration:—

The district agents should labor under the direction of the General Canvassing Agent, and report to him, monthly, the condition and progress of their work.

They should assume the same relation to the States in their respective Districts, that the General Canvassing Agent does to the entire field. They should visit all general and local camp-meetings, as far as possible, in their respective Districts, and render such help as would be for the best interests of the canvassing work, by counseling with the State Agents and giving instruction to canvassers.

They should keep a faithful account of their time, receipts, and expenses, and report the same, quarterly, to the Secretary of the General Conference.

Report of the Committee on Duties of District Sabbath-school Superintendents.

1. That each District Sabbath-school Superintendent be authorized to spend four weeks each year in each Conference in his District, at the expense of the General Conference.

2. That he be authorized to visit each Conference in his District, once a year, at the expense of the General Conference.

3. That this work be done in harmony with the plans of the General Superintendent of the District, so as to incur no unnecessary traveling expense.

Report of the Committee to Recommend a Plan to Secure the Education of Matrons, Cooks, Nurses, and Physicians.

Resolved, That we indorse the course taken by Dr. Kellogg, and other managers of the Sanitarium, to educate nurses for missionary work, and cooks and health and temperance workers for the different Conferences; and further,—

Resolved, That we recommend the managers of schools, missions, camp-meetings, etc., to employ, as far as possible, matrons, cooks, nurses, and other medical help from among those who have received a special training for this work at the Sanitarium, or our other medical institutions, and who hold diplomas or other recommendations from such institutions.

We would further recommend, That the Presidents and other officers of the different Conferences be instructed to select active and intelligent young men and women to come to the Sanitarium and take a course to prepare them for matrons, cooks, medical nurses, and physicians.

Report of the Committee on South America.

Whereas, We find in South America a large and promising field in which to sow the seeds of truth; and,—

Whereas, This field has never been entered by our missionaries; therefore,—

We recommend, That the General Conference Committee lay plans for entering that field at an early day, and that mission work in that country be made as nearly self-supporting as possible; to this end, we would recommend that young men and women be selected who have good trades or professions, and encouraged to prepare themselves for that field; also that business men of some capital, be selected and encouraged to go there and establish themselves in business, and form an acquaintance and standing with the people, and a nucleus or center from which missionary work can be done.

We would further recommend, That a man be selected by the Committee to visit South America, and study the field and mission work there, and bring back information that may assist in arranging plans for opening up the work in that country, and in directing the studies of those who are preparing for missionary work in South America.

SECOND SESSION, JULY 8-30, 1890.

At the session of the General Conference Committee, held July 8-30, 1890, there were present of the Committee, O. A. Olsen, R. A. Underwood, R. M. Kilgore, E. W. Farnsworth, W. C. White, A. T. Robinson, E. H. Gates, and Dan. T. Jones.

Besides the members, the following persons were in frequent consultation with the Committee: Mrs. E. G. White, L. C. Chadwick, C. Eldridge, A. R. Henry, Harmon Lindsay, J. Fargo, and others.

ADDRESS OF THE PRESIDENT.

The president addressed the Committee, setting before them the present condition and wants of the work in its different branches and in the different parts of the field. Following is a synopsis of the address:—

There was never a time when there were so many openings for labor, and so many calls for help, as at present. Many of our laborers are falling at their posts or falling in health, so that they have to give up the work. But few new ones are coming in to fill up the ranks and supply the ever increasing demands. It is a perplexing question to know why so many of our laborers are falling. Perhaps we should make these things more a subject of prayer, than we do. During our council, much time must be devoted each day to seeking God. We need clear minds and spiritual discernment, that we may make right decisions on the important questions that will come before us for consideration.

We have had good camp-meetings in the East; but everywhere our churches are languishing for spiritual food. Our ministry is not only few in numbers, but is lacking in power to move the people. We stand greatly in need of an outpouring of the Spirit of God upon our laborers.

Reports from the foreign fields are encouraging. The camp-meetings in Denmark and Norway were very good. Great spiritual blessings were received. The Conferences in these countries had money to settle with all their laborers. In Copenhagen there is a great interest. The office in Christiana closed the year with a profit of 1600 kroner.

In Central Europe and in New Zealand and Anstralia, the work is in a prosperous condition.

In the brief time allotted to our council, we will have many and important questions to consider. We shall need to study brevity, and yet give to every question proper consideration.

COMMITTEES APPOINTED DURING THE SESSION.

CHANGE OF LABORERS.

William C. Dalbey was recommended to go to District No. 2, and join J. W. Scoles in tent work in the Cumberland Mission Field.

L. H. Crisler was recommended to join G. T. Wilson in tent work in Georgia.

R. A. Underwood presented some reasons why J. M. Cole, of the North Pacific Conference, should be released from the recommendation of the last General Conference to go to Nebraska. It was decided that, in consideration of the changes that have taken place in the North Pacific Conference, and the relation of Brother Cole to the work there, and the need of laborers in that field, the carrying out of the recommendation of the General Conference, that he go to Nebraska, be deferred until after the next session of the General Conference.

J. W. Bagby, of North Carolina, was recommended to locate in Southern Illinois, and make that his field of labor.

D. T. Shireman and wife were recommended to go to North Carolina, and make that State their field of labor.

REPORTS OF GENERAL SUPERINTENDENTS.

The superintendents of Districts each gave a report of the work in his field; A. T. Robinson, for Dist. No. 1; R. M. Kilgore, for Dist. No. 2; O. A. Olsen, for Dist. No. 3; E. W. Farnsworth, for Dist. No. 4; E. H. Gates, for Dist. No. 5; R. A. Underwood, for Dist. No. 6; and W. C. White, for the foreign fields. These combined laid the condition and wants of the entire field before the Committee, and formed the basis upon which to work in forming plans, and in supplying laborers to different parts of the field.

A PLEA FOR THE EDUCATION OF LABORERS.

Sister White came before the Committee and spoke in reference to the development of laborers for different lines of work, the management of camp-meetings, etc. Following is a brief synopsis of her remarks:—

It will take considerable means to develop laborers, and some mistakes will be made; but this work should not be delayed for these considerations. If a few more of the older ones drop off, what will be done? Too rigid economy often discourages the laborers, and injures the work.

There ought to be men left to bind off the work after camp-meetings and other general meetings. There has been a sad neglect in this respect in the past. Something is wrong; we are either having too many of these meetings, or we are failing to develop the proper laborers to follow them up.

Our camp-meetings are a power. People are favorably impressed; and if advantage is taken of this, and the work followed up, many may be brought into the truth. We have too much preaching at our camp-meetings; and other matters that lead to things of greater importance, are neglected. Ministers should have more time to meditate and plan for the success of the meetings. The ministers are wearing themselves out, and the people become so tired that ~~they do not appreciate one third that is said. More time should be devoted to~~ earnestly seeking God; by this means, much would be done to break down the prejudice that exists in the minds of the people.

In the education of our young men, we should take pains to show them that it is not so much sermonizing that does the work; it is the Spirit of God; and if the people are not reached in this way, they are not reached at all. When young men are found that give promise of making good laborers, they should not be advised to work a year, and then go to college. They should be encouraged to go at once, and their cases should be presented to the churches, and means raised to assist them.

We not only preach too often, but we preach too long. Our ministers are many of them injuring themselves by their manner of speaking. Christ spoke in a slow, melodious voice, giving the people time to take in what he said.

Reform in Conducting Camp-meetings Recommended.

The value of our camp-meetings might be increased many fold if more time was devoted to teaching the Scriptures, and answering questions that arise in the minds of the people. The ministers should have time each day to get together and talk out the real sentiments of their hearts, and pray together.

The time that is taken in our camp-meetings for the drilling of canvassers, should be devoted to other work. The same is true of the drilling of missionary workers. The camp-meetings are for spiritual work and the spiritual upbuilding of our people, and are not for the detail work of drilling laborers.

It is the day of God's preparation,—the time to prepare a people for the coming of the Lord; and our camp-meetings should not be diverted from their real object, by devoting so much time to drilling workers. Many meetings have been just about spoiled in this way. We should not make an abrupt change, and rule out all of these at once; but the principle should be kept in view, and the change brought about gradually.

In meetings held to answer questions, all controversy should be avoided, and time devoted to answering questions and explaining points that the people do not understand in the discourses that have been given. Our camp-meetings are appointed in different places to get the truth before the people, and we should be careful to give them an opportunity to hear and understand it.

Church Trials.

We are carrying a message to the world, and we must not be called off from our real work by a church trial here and a church trial there. Our churches must be taught to settle their difficulties among themselves.

Support of Disabled Ministers.

There is another matter which I wish to bring before the Committee. It is in reference to our ministers who are sick and dying. What can be done for them and their families? They have labored hard, and have given of their scanty earnings for the advancement of the cause. Should not some provision be made for their support and the support of their families?

It has been shown me in the past that ministers would die because they do not have the support they need. When Brother ——— was sick, and had constant hemorrhage of the lungs, it was shown me that our ministers should guard against straining their lungs by loud speaking, or speaking too long. It has also been shown me that a sermon half an hour long would be frequently all the people could retain. Our ministers should be careful of their health, that their minds may be clear; and if they do fail, we should step in and hold them up and support them.

A fund should be raised for the support of invalid ministers, and I am sure that God will bless in raising it.

STATE CORPORATIONS AND BUILDING OF DEPOSITORIES.

The Chair raised the question whether anything should be said by this Committee in reference to State Conferences and Tract Societies incorporating and building depositories, etc. He suggested that perhaps when the organization of the publishing work is more fully completed, depositories will be established in different parts of the country, and the necessity for State depositories dispensed with.

W. C. White thought it would require about two fifths as much stock in one depository to supply five States, as it would to stock a depository in each State, and the economy in buildings would be still greater.

The following resolution was adopted:—

Resolved, That we will use our influence to discourage the incorporation of State Societies and Tract Societies and the building of State depositories, till the general plans for our publishing work are more fully developed.

MISSIONARY LICENSE GRANTED.

Missionary license was granted to D. A. Corkham and W. I. Walters, of Nova Scotia.

GENERAL CANVASSING AGENT.

C. Eldridge having tendered his resignation as General Canvassing Agent, and presented good and sufficient reasons therefor, showing that his other business cares were so numerous that he had not time to devote to that work, his resignation was accepted, to take effect Jan. 1, 1891; and it was voted that the President of the International Tract and Missionary Society act as General Canvassing Agent after that date.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

The reports are given below as they were adopted by the General Conference Committee.

Report of the Committee on the Relation of the Southern Sentinel to the General Cause.

We deem it advisable to call the attention of our brethren everywhere, to the following principles, which appear to be applicable to this and similar cases:—

1. Any enterprise started without the sanction of an organization cannot hold such organization responsible in any degree, for its success or failure.

2. No Conference or Tract Society has the right to use its funds, or the time of its employees, in the financial interests of any private enterprise.

3. Our denominational institutions owned and controlled by and for our people, the profits of which are held for the advancement of the work of the denomination, may properly receive aid from Conferences and Tract Societies, because it is the denomination as a whole that receives the financial benefits.

4. We believe it is the privilege and the duty of our brethren in Texas and elsewhere, to subscribe for the Southern Sentinel, and to labor for its circulation just so far as they believe it to be the best and most successful medium for the promulgation of the truth in their respective fields.

Report of the Committee on Camp-meetings, District Councils, and Ministers' Institutes.

We recommend, That a District Council or Ministerial Institute be held in each of the General Conference Districts the coming fall or winter.

The following suggestions are offered with reference to these meetings:—

That they be made seasons —

1. For earnestly seeking the Lord for spiritual blessings and refreshing.
2. For a careful study and interchange of thought on Bible subjects.
3. To consider the responsibility and sacredness of the work of the ministry.
4. To consider the wants of the field, and the demands upon us for trained laborers, and our duty to encourage more thorough preparation for effective work; and,—
5. That the arrangements for these meetings be left with those in charge of the several fields, in connection with the President of the General Conference; and we further recommend, that the President of the General Conference attend as many of these District meetings as possible, and assist the General Superintendent in providing whatever additional help may be needed.

Report of the Committee on Representation at the World's Fair.

The Committee appointed to suggest plans for representation at the World's Fair in 1893, reported, recommending that Dan. T. Jones, J. H. Kellogg, W. C. White, C. Eldridge, R. M. Kilgore, L. C. Chadwick, and A. Moon be a standing committee to make and execute plans for our representation at the World's Fair.

That these plans, so far as they shall have been matured, be presented for criticism at the next session of the General Conference.

Report of the Committee Appointed to Take Into Consideration the Setting Apart of a Season of Fasting and Prayer for the Raising Up of Laborers.

Your Committee appointed to make suggestions relative to a season of humiliation, fasting, and prayer, that the Lord may raise up laborers to enter the harvest-field, submit the following:—

Recognizing the fact that the providence of God has gone before us in opening up fields for labor which we are unable to fill, on account of the dearth of efficient laborers among us; and in harmony with the admonition of our Saviour, "Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he will send forth laborers into his harvest;" we deem it fitting to recommend:—

1. That October 3-5 be set apart as days of humiliation, fasting, and prayer, to be observed by our people in every part of the world, to implore the Lord of the harvest to raise up faithful men who will consecrate their talents to the promulgation of the third angel's message. And we would further recommend, that in the supplications of our people during this season, special mention be made of those of our ministers who have failed in health.

2. That several articles be prepared for the Review and the Home Missionary, by O. A. Olsen, one of which shall appear at an early date, calling the attention of our people to this season of fasting and prayer.

3. That one or more articles be prepared by the Foreign Mission Secretary, presenting the demands upon us for laborers in foreign fields.

4. That each member of the General Conference Committee in charge of a District, write an article to appear in the Review and Herald, calling the special attention of those in his District to this important occasion.

5. That the District Superintendents seek, through the Presidents of the Conferences, to obtain the co-operation of all the ministers and church officers in their respective Districts, in securing a general observance of this important season of humiliation and prayer.

Report of the Committee on the Circulation of "Vol. IV."

Your committee on the circulation of "Vol. IV." would recommend that the following address be sent to presidents of State Conferences and Tract Societies, and to State Canvassing Agents:—

DEAR FELLOW-LABORERS:—

We wish to call your attention to a few points in connection with our canvassing work. We have great reason for gratitude to God for the success that has been attained in the canvassing field, which has been largely due to your hearty co-operation with our publishing houses in their efforts to circulate our denominational literature.

A few years ago we had neither canvassers nor books suitable for circulation by subscription. "Thoughts on Daniel and the Revelation" was the first subscription book placed in the field. A goodly number made a success selling this book, notwithstanding the unorganized condition of the canvassing work. The great need of a variety of subscription books adapted to the different fields, has been met from time to time by such works as "Great Controversy, Vol. IV.," "Bible Readings," and other books, being placed in the field as subscription books.

A large number of successful canvassers were developed in the sale of "Great Controversy" in its various editions. At the time when "Bible Readings" was published, about sixty thousand copies of "Vol. IV." had been circulated. "Bible Readings" has been the means of developing a large corps of canvassers, who would probably not have made a success in handling any other book that we have had on the market. But as the efforts of nearly our entire canvassing force have been concentrated on the sale of this book the past two years, the circulation of "Vol. IV." and "Thoughts" has almost entirely ceased in this country. This is greatly to be regretted. Although constant efforts have been made to direct the attention of our canvassers toward other books, the results have not been satisfactory. The question presents itself, Have we done our duty in trying to secure the uniform circulation of our denominational literature? "Vol. IV." contains special light from Heaven, which the people need for this time. If God has given special messages of warning for the people of this generation, and in his providence this light has been prepared in this form for circulation, shall we, as "stewards of the manifold grace of God," be clear unless we do all within our power to see that these books are placed in the hands of the people?

Recognizing the fact, as we do, and as we believe you do, that this very important book contains special light from Heaven, for us as a people and for the world, relative to events that are now transpiring in these last days, we appeal to you as God-fearing men, standing in a position to exert an influence, to make this a matter of conscience; and that you urge upon those under you to do all in their power to place this book and "Thoughts" more prominently before the people. We have every reason to expect that the special blessing of God will rest upon the efforts put forth in this direction.

Report of the Committee on Ministers' School and Foreign Schools.

Your committee to consider the propriety of holding a ministers' school and school for the German and French during the winter of 1890-91, would recommend:—

1. That these schools begin Monday, Oct. 13, 1890.*
2. That the schools be conducted on the same general plan as last year, with such modifications as circumstances may demand.
3. That the following-named brethren act as a Committee of Management: O. A. Olsen, W. W. Prescott, D. T. Jones, W. C. White, and L. C. Chadwick.
4. That the employment of teachers and the modification of the course of study, if necessary, be referred to the Committee of Management; and we would suggest for the consideration of the Committee the following:—
 - (a) That practical pastoral and Bible work be made a part of the regular course of study.
 - (b) That W. W. Prescott act as principal of the Ministers' School, and devote as much time to its supervision and teaching as his other duties will permit.
 - (c) That U. Smith, A. T. Jones, and E. J. Waggoner be secured as teachers, if possible.
 - (d) That the teacher of the Greek and the Hebrew be a man thoroughly competent and enthusiastic in those lines; and that, if no one can be secured from among our own people, a teacher from some other institution be employed for at least six weeks.

Report of the Committee on Blanks.

Your Committee on Blanks beg leave to submit the following report:—

We deem it desirable that our present system of reporting be thoroughly remodeled; but in view of the fact that the present blanks are made to harmonize with the members' pass-books, we recommend, that all changes in blanks be deferred until the next annual session of the General Conference and the International Tract Society.

We further recommend, That a committee of five be appointed at this session of the General Conference Committee, to present, at the annual session of the Conference and the International Society, a plan for reporting.

The Chair subsequently named D. T. Jones, W. H. Edwards, L. C. Chadwick, F. E. Belden, and W. C. White as the committee provided for in the report.

Report of the Committee on Time and Place of Holding the next General Conference.

Your Committee to suggest time and place for the next General Conference and the necessary preparations for the same, would recommend:—

1. That the General Conference be held March 5–25, 1891.
2. That the General Conference Committee meet for counsel, February 18.
3. That the Presidents of Conferences and Tract Societies meet for general counsel, February 25; also that a meeting of the Committee on Consolidation of Publishing Interests, and the Foreign Mission Board, be held at the same time.
4. That a Canvassers' convention be held February 22 to March 4.

Report of the Committee on Program for Camp-meetings.

Your Committee appointed to recommend modifications in the general program of camp-meetings, would suggest the following:—

Whereas, The volume of work to be done at our camp-meetings is constantly increasing; and,—

*As arrangements could not be made to commence the school October 13, the commencement was deferred till October 31.

Whereas, As new lines of work are introduced and old ones extended, every department of the work is becoming more and more crowded, and much valuable instruction is lost for lack of time; and, —

Whereas, Much time may be saved by thorough organization, we suggest:—

1. That a program be prepared some time before the meeting, specifying the time and nature of each public service, and the time when each society is to hold its meetings, that all may know what is coming, and that those who are to take the lead in the meetings may be prepared.

2. That much of the detail work of the different societies, such as canvassers' drills, cooking schools, drills in book-keeping and reporting for the tract and missionary work, etc., which has usually been done at the camp-meetings, be done, in the future, either in a workers' meeting of one or two weeks preceding the camp-meeting, or at conventions separate from the camp-meetings, called especially for such purpose; and we would recommend that such drills and courses of instruction be so arranged that they may be continued in the individual churches.

3. We recommend, That O. A. Olsen enlarge upon his "Hints on the Organization of Workers' Meetings," and couple with it suggestions for the conducting of camp-meetings, and publish the matter in the Review, or in some other convenient form.

Report of the Committee on the Southern School.

The following recommendations were submitted by the Committee on Southern School:—

1. We are favorable to, and would encourage the opening of, a school in District No. 2, as soon as there is sufficient encouragement that the patronage will sustain it.

2. We recommend, That, when the school is started, it begin in a small way; that one teacher be employed; and that no considerable outlay of means be made, more than what the friends who are personally interested in the school are able to bear.

3. We recommend, That R. M. Kilgore, G. I. Butler, and W. W. Prescott be a committee to take this matter into consideration, to look for the most favorable location, and to lay and execute plans necessary to the success of the enterprise, when it shall be started.

Report of the Committee to Suggest Plans for Raising Funds to Assist Aged and Infirm Ministers.

Your Committee to suggest plans for raising a fund for the support of aged and infirm ministers among us, would recommend:—

1. That a fund be opened by the treasurer of the General Conference, and a call made through the Review and Herald, for donations to assist our faithful ministers who have failed in health while laboring in the cause of the third angel's message.

2. That O. A. Olsen, D. T. Jones, and C. Eldridge be a standing committee till the next General Conference, or until their successors are elected, to receive and disburse funds to such as are worthy of help.

3. That this Committee make a full report at each General Conference, and also to the General Conference Committee at its semi-annual sessions, of all money received for this purpose, and to whom disbursed.

Report of the Committee Appointed on Representation in Encyclopedias.

Whereas, The history and standing of our work are poorly represented in most of the leading encyclopedias, both religious and general; and, —

Whereas, We believe this comes largely from lack of effort on our part to place the proper information in the hands of the publishers of such works; we therefore, —

Recommend, That Dan. T. Jones, U. Smith, W. W. Prescott, A. T. Jones, and E. J. Waggouer be a standing committee to furnish information to publishers, and to secure correct representation of our people and work.

REPORTS OF DISTRICT SUPERINTENDENTS.

District No. 1, Elder Asa T. Robinson, Superintendent.

In this District there are nine organized Conferences, which are as follows : Atlantic, Canada, Maine, New England, New York, Pennsylvania, Vermont, Virginia, West Virginia, and a mission field, embracing New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, and Prince Edward Island.

This field embraces a population of about 24,000,000 ; 22,000,000 of whom are in the United States, being about one third of its entire population. Of eighteen cities in the United States, taken from a list of the largest cities in the world, ten are within the limits of this District, and range in population from 150,000 to 1,600,000.

Scattered among these 24,000,000 souls, and shining as beacon lights amid the dense moral darkness that surrounds them, are some 4,252 believers in that message which is to lighten the earth with the glorious rays of the setting sun of gospel truth. There were (June 30, 1890) forty ordained ministers, twenty-four licentiates, and a large corps of canvassers, who sold during the year, thousands of dollars' worth of books; thus bringing the light of truth into the homes of a large number of families.

There were held in the District, during the year, eight camp-meetings, six of which I attended, and seven general, or State meetings, at five of which I was present. There has been an increase in membership throughout the District, during the year, of 285 ; ordained ministers, three ; licentiates, two. The increase in the number of organized churches over last year is eleven, there being at present 169 churches in the District.

The Academy at South Lancaster has received an encouraging patronage during the year, and has been doing most satisfactory work. This institution hopes through efficient work done, to merit the increasing confidence and support of our people throughout the District.

There are encouraging features in some of the different lines of work in each of the Conferences in the District. Eighteen tent-meetings were held during the year. The canvassing work in most of the States has been largely increased over previous years, and has led to a large increase of the business of the various tract societies, and though in some of the States, at the time when this report closed, very little had been done in this branch of the work, these too since that time have been making the work a success.

The money raised in the District during the year, for the support of the home and foreign work, is as follows : Tithe, $33,509.74 ; first-day offerings, $1,974.49 ; Christmas donations, $2,514.65 ; fourth Sabbath donations, $1,668.23 ; besides other donations, such as tract and missionary membership fees, and Sabbath-school offerings.

District No. 2, Elder R. M. Kulgore, Superintendent.

District No. 2 embraces nine Southern States, as follows: Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Florida, Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina. There is but one organized Conference in the District, the Tennessee River Conference, which is composed of those portions of the States of Kentucky and Tennessee lying west of the Cumberland Mountains. The eastern part of these two States form the Cumberland Mission Field. All the other States in the District are also mission territory.

During the year, five ministers have been engaged in the work in these mission fields; five new churches have been added, making in all at present an aggregate of nineteen churches and 388 members, who have paid tithes to the amount of $2,921.16, making an increase above last year's tithe of $1,475.39. Adding to the above figures the statistics showing the standing of the Tennessee River Conference, we have a total in District No. 2 of seven ministers, one licentiate, twenty-six churches, 555 members. The tithes paid for the year amount to $4,500.49.

At the recent general council held at Atlanta, Ga., all the mission territory of the District was organized by forming the following departments, operative under the direction of the General Conference; viz., the Southern Tract Society, with twelve local societies and seventy members; the Southern Sabbath-school Association, with forty-one schools and 483 members; the Southern Health and Temperance Association, with twenty-nine members.

In the District, three tents have been operated the past season, one in Kentucky, one in East Tennessee, the other in Georgia, each with fair success. About 100 members have been added to our numbers. The enforcement of rigid Sunday laws against those who will obey the fourth commandment, have deterred many from obeying the truth. Some of our brethren have been arrested, convicted, and incarcerated in jail on account of their religious convictions in this respect. Brother R. M. King, of Tennessee, is just recently released from jail on a writ of habeas corpus, and his case is pending the decision of the United States Circuit Court. The appeal has been taken to test the constitutionality of State Sunday laws; the question to be decided is whether, in the light of the Fourteenth Amendment, the conscientious citizen of the United States shall have his privileges of worshiping and obeying God abridged; be deprived of his religious liberties, without due process of law; and denied equal protection of the laws in the exercise of these rights with others of his fellow-citizens. It is worthy of mention that there are leading papers and men throughout the South, who detest and deplore the spirit of intolerance manifested in the above instances, and holdly cry out against it. Notwithstanding these influences, the work of the third angel's message progresses, and the prospects for success were never more favorable than now.

There have been about thirty canvassers engaged during the past year, who have sold of our denominational books, to the value of $24,621.35. A car load of books has just been shipped to the Atlanta office for distribution in the Southern Field.

The council ratified the action of the General Conference Committee in regard to the establishing of a denominational school in District No. 2. The demand for such a school is imperative, and the cry is so great that it can only be hushed by a commencement being made during the present year. Definite propositions from some localities have been presented, bidding for the school. Other towns and villages are now working the matter up, inviting its location in their midst. Some good sites have been offered, and the interest manifested on the part of citizens in these localities would indicate that the time has come for immediate steps to be taken, and a commencement to be made in a small way to educate our youth and workers for the Southern Field, and that to delay is dangerous to the best interests of the message in District No. 2.

District No. 3, Elder O. A. Olsen, Superintendent.

This District is composed of four States; Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, and Ohio. Each State has a completely organized Conference, Tract and Missionary Society, Sabbath-school Association, and Health and Temperance Association. During the year, six camp-meetings have been held in the District; three in Michigan, and one in each of the other States. Michigan held its annual meetings of the Conference, Tract and Missionary Society, and Sabbath-school and Health and Temperance Associations, separate from the camp-meeting, October 21-28. The other States held their annual meetings in connection with their State camp-meetings.

Besides these meetings, ten other State or general meetings were held, at which nearly all the laborers were present, and where plans of work were discussed, and arrangements made to carry them into effect.

The past year has presented many encouragements. Every year we see less of prejudice manifested against the truth, and more of a general interest on the part of a large number, to read and investigate.

The dearth of laborers is everywhere apparent when we consider the amount of work that needs to be done. The camp-meetings and other general meetings have been largely attended, and with good results. Some of the tent meetings held in the District were very successful, while others were not so much so.

The general summary below gives the standing of each Conference, and also of the District. We can say for Michigan that we have obtained the fullest report from that State for this table that we have had for some time. We are glad to see some increase in the work there, but hope that the next yearly report may show a larger one.

The canvassing work has made rapid advancement in the District during the year. The institute held in Flint, Mich., last March, gave a new impetus to that branch of work in that State.

The Sabbath-school interest is also on the increase.

One object of interest for the coming year will be the raising of the debt that is hanging over Battle Creek College. This is the oldest educational institution of the denomination, and we cannot all fully appreciate what a disadvantage it is to the College to be laboring under such a large debt. Michigan at its late Conference, voted unanimously to take hold of the matter, and do its part towards lifting the debt; and we hope the rest of the District will share in this feeling, and do its part.

The outlook for the work the present year is encouraging. We shall hope to see greater advancement in every line than in any previous year. It will certainly be so, if we all work untiringly and with earnestness.

† For nine months ending June 30, 1890

District No. 4, Elder E. W. Farnsworth, Superintendent.

This District embraces the Conferences of Nebraska, Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota, and South Dakota. There are 7,894 Seventh-day Adventist church-members in these Conferences, according to their returns the present year; showing that 570 have been added in Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota, and South Dakota during the last twelve months.

There are forty-one ordained ministers and thirty-seven licentiates. They have five ministers less than last year, and two licentiates more. Much greater care has been exercised in recommending candidates for the ministry, than formerly, and several have been removed to other Conferences, which in part accounts for the loss.

Ten new men have been licensed, and three removed. Seventeen Bible workers are employed by these Conferences, and on an average about 154 canvassers have been at work. The retail value of the books sold by the canvassers is as follows: Iowa, $11,650; Wisconsin, $9,761.32; Nebraska, $7,072.30; Minnesota, $30,000; South Dakota, $4,470.18, making a total of $62,953.78. The whole amount of denominational literature sold in this District is $80,991.94. The total amount of business done by the tract societies amounts to $100,379.54. The aggregate net worth of the tract societies is $37,230.65.

There have been eighteen camp-meetings held the past summer, and eleven other general meetings not included in the camp-meetings. Nineteen tents have been in active operation in the District, and they have been pitched in twenty-eight different cities and villages.

The aggregate amount apportioned to these Conferences, for Union College, including $5,000 voluntarily assumed by Wisconsin, was $29,488.88. Of this amount there has been secured by good pledges, $27,034.41. The amount paid in and sent to the College the past year, is $12,435.22.

There are 725 subscribers to the Review and Herald, in Iowa; 529 in Wisconsin; 313 in Nebraska; 443 in Minnesota; 183 in South Dakota; total, 2,100. The Sentinel has 1,675 subscribers, and the Good Health has 481.

The different societies have kept up a healthy activity in most of the States. The Sabbath-school Associations have held several meetings and conventions, at which there has been a thorough discussion of the Sabbath-school work, and a great amount of good instruction given. The Sabbath-school work has greatly improved during the year. The health and temperance societies have done more the past year than ever before. Health and temperance meetings and cooking schools have been held in connection with all the larger camp-meetings, and many of the smaller ones. We think a general interest has been awakened in this important branch of the work.

The canvassing work has met with some serious obstacles in several of the States, which have somewhat hindered its rapid growth. Yet there has been a gradual increase in this line of work, and a large amount of literature has been circulated through this means. It has been a year of profitable experience. The workers are learning better how to work, a better class of workers is being developed, and thus the work is being settled on a more permanent basis. We look upon the canvassing work as one of the most potent and influential means for advancing the third angel's message.

The foregoing represents, so far as a few dry facts and figures can, a part of what has been done in the District during the past year. But there are great currents of influence that have been carrying forward the truth, which cannot be represented by figures, nor expressed by statements. They can be felt only by those whose hearts beat in sympathy with it. There is, generally speaking, a spirit of courage and faith in the hearts of the people, and a disposition to press forward, being thankful for the blessing of God in the past and anxious for his guiding hand in the future.

*District No. 5, Elder J. N. Loughborough, Superintendent.

Not having opportunity to labor in this District since my appointment as superintendent, most of the facts given below have been gathered from reports published in the Review, or statements furnished by the officers of the respective Conferences in the District.

District No. 5 contains five State Conferences; namely, Kansas, Missouri, Texas, Colorado, and Arkansas. The territory comprised in each State Conference is that of the State named, except Colorado and Arkansas, the former being composed of Colorado, Wyoming, and New Mexico, and the latter of Arkansas and about one-fourth part of the Indian Territory.

These Conferences were organized as follows: Kansas, 1875; Missouri, 1876; Texas, 1878; Colorado, 1883; Arkansas, 1888. Each of these Conferences has a well-organized Tract and Missionary Society, a State Sabbath-school Association, and a Health and Temperance Association.

The territory of the District has an area of 731,692 square miles, in which are 8,074,596 inhabitants, exclusive of the fourth part of Indian Territory, of which the exact population is not known. The number of organized Seventh-day Adventist churches in the District is 124, with a membership of 3,803. The report of membership given in the General Conference Year Book of 1890, shows a decrease in membership of 165. It appears, from present information, that in making up the report last year there was some mistake in the number of members given for one of the Conferences, which the present numbering corrects. While the comparison of figures would show a decrease, the facts are that there has been a marked increase in numbers in the District. The members paid into the treasury of the District, for the support of the cause, as tithes, the past year, the sum of $22,027.03, being an increase over the previous year of $552.80. In some parts of the District there is a complaint of scarcity of funds and a shortness of crops, while some of the officers in other parts express a doubt whether all are faithful to pay an honest tithe. We trust this difficulty will be removed, and that there shall not have to be a curtailing of labor in any part of the District, because any are unfaithful in rendering to the Lord his due. The tithe is not ours; "it is the Lord's." Let us all willingly render to the Lord that which is his own.

The number of tract and missionary members in the District is 1,552, and the business of the State societies for the year was $40,589.64. The value of subscription books sold by the societies was $20,322.03. The number of subscribers obtained for periodicals was 2,367. The net worth of the societies, above all indebtedness, is $14,090.05. In most parts of the District the canvassing work is reported to be in a prosperous condition, with prospects of an increase of work in the spring. Many of those who were canvassing the past summer are attending school during the winter. Canvassing institutes were held the last season in various parts of the District, which did much to make the canvassing work more effective.

The number of Sabbath-schools in the District is 211, and the number of scholars 4,853, being an increase of sixty schools and 609 scholars over the previous year. These scholars contributed for the support of foreign missions during the year, $1,314.34, being an increase of $445.15 over the preceding year.

The Christmas offerings made in the District the past year amounted to $1,665.41, being $958.51 less than the previous year. The first-day offerings to foreign missions amounted to $1,132.52, which exceeded the previous year by the sum of $281.13. In addition to the above, in one of the Conferences of the District (Colorado) there was donated to the General Conference, for the aid of foreign missions, the sum of $500.

*Appointed to fill vacancy caused by the transfer of Elder E. H. Gates to the missionary ship "Pittcairn."

The number of ministers in this District is twenty-five, and the number of licentiates is twenty-four, being two ministers and five licentiates less than last year. These seven laborers have not apostatized from the faith, but the difference in figures is occasioned by the removal of laborers to other fields. There were no new ordinations to the work of the ministry in this District during the year.

There was one camp-meeting held in each of the five Conferences. Beside this, each State had a spring meeting, and in some of the States a canvassers' institute in addition. At the camp-meetings much instruction was given on the subject of health and temperance, and considerable attention was given to the theme of healthful cookery. A number of tent meetings were also held with good results.

While there is reported throughout the District "confidence in the truth and in the means employed for its advancement," with a commendable zeal on the part of many to push on the work, there is a plea for a higher state of spirituality to be developed among the members, that the work in every part of the District may bear more and more the impress of the divine, and less and less of the human. May the Lord grant to all to realize the truth of what he has said respecting the forwarding of his work, that "it is not by might, nor by power, but by my spirit, saith the Lord."

In some parts of the District the health and temperance work has suffered from the ill health of those appointed to take charge of the work, or from the removal of such officers to other fields of labor after their appointment. In Colorado the president, Dr. H. Stearns, died during the year. On the whole, the health and temperance work is reported as on the advance.

The cause of education is a subject which has received much attention in this District during the year. The Conferences composing this District are five of the nine that entered into a compact to build Union College, at Lincoln, Neb. The State Conferences in the District have accepted by vote the sums apportioned to them of the $14,500.40 assigned to the District as their part of what the nine Conferences were expected to pay for the enterprise. Of this sum, this District has paid (up to Dec. 1, 1890) $3,384.40, and promises to pay the balance as soon as possible in the coming summer. Not only are they contributing of their means for the erection of the buildings, but they are planning to send their sons and daughters to receive the benefits of the instruction at Lincoln College. In two of the State Conferences in this District there are schools under the control of Seventh-day Adventists, and there is a call in some places for church schools to be established, where those may receive instruction who are not able to go to the Battle Creek and Lincoln colleges or who are not, as yet, far enough advanced to enter those schools.

District No 6, Elder R. A. Underwood, Superintendent.

The General Conference District in which I have labored the past year, has three organized Conferences and one mission field, embracing the following States and Territories: the California Conference, extending over the States of California and Nevada, and the Territories of Utah and Arizona; the North Pacific Conference, embracing that part of Oregon, Washington, and British Columbia lying west of the Cascade Mountains; the Upper Columbia Conference, embracing the State of Idaho and all of Oregon and Washington lying east of the Cascades, leaving Montana a mission field to be supplied with laborers by the General Conference.

Elder J. N. Loughborough, in company with Elder D. T. Bourdeau, began labor in California in the year 1868. At that time six or eight Sabbath-keepers were all that could be found in the whole territory now embraced in General Conference District No. 6. By the blessing of God, there are now more than 3,300 church-members in the District, beside two or three hundred Sabbath-keepers who are not members of any church.

The following table shows the number of church-members, and the amount of tithes paid by each Conference in the District; also the amount of donations to foreign missions in first-day, Christmas, and Sabbath-school offerings:—

CONFERENCE.	Members.	Tithe.	First-day Offerings.	Christmas Offerings.	S. S. Offerings.
California	2,171	$28,426.28	$1,372.74	$2,549.63	$.....
North Pacific	700	11,718.08	364.19	822.19	801.72
Upper Columbia	443	4,599.48	153.68	545.88	273.89
*Montana	50	952.05			13.50
Total	3,364	$45,695.89	$1,890.61	$3,917.20	$1,089.11

In addition to the above, individuals have made donations to foreign missions to the amount of several hundred dollars. Also, the North Pacific Conference, at its last session, donated from its tithe fund $2,500 to the General Conference to assist in foreign mission work. Likewise, the California Conference donated of its tithe $2,000 at its annual meeting, for the same purpose.

Important Institutions

located in this District have been compelled to use considerable sums of money, during the past year, in enlarging their facilities, to extend and carry forward the work in the several branches of the cause. The Pacific Press, the second largest publishing house owned by our people, has established branch offices in New York City, and London, England. This also has called for a large outlay of funds. The Pacific Press is doing much more at the present time to extend the light of the third angel's message than ever before.

The Health Retreat at Crystal Springs, St. Helena, Cal., has been crowded beyond its capacity to accommodate those desiring its benefits. One hundred or more patients have been turned away, because there was not room in the institution to care for them. During the year a chapel and gymnasium have been erected adjoining the institution, which have added greatly to its conveniences and facilities. The erection of a new building, costing about $50,000, is contemplated. It is very much needed, and will be built as soon as funds can be provided for that purpose. A considerable amount of health and temperance literature has been circulated in the District during the year. Several hygienic cooking institutes or schools have been conducted in the District, by Mrs. N. C. McClure, much to the profit of those in attendance.

The Educational Work.

The Healdsburg College is having a larger patronage than usual the present year, and the grade of students shows an improvement over former years. Some four or five thousand dollars has been expended in improvements on the Healdsburg College during the past summer.

The Academy at Milton, Or., is in a prosperous condition, with an attendance of 150 students. The North Pacific and Upper Columbia Conferences have decided to unite their interests in establishing one good denominational school, to be located so as best to serve the educational interests in Washington, Oregon, Idaho, and Montana. The location of this Northwestern Academy will be determined at an early date in 1891.

The total business done by the tract societies in the District amounts to $24,536.-56, divided between the societies in the three Conferences, as follows: California,

* Members in Montana are not fully organized.

$18,532.92; North Pacific, $7,494.21; Upper Columbia, $3,509.43. These reports all closed with June 30, 1890. The large increase in book sales during the last six months, if continued during the present year, will show 75 or 100 per cent increase in the amount of business done in next year's report over the present.

The California Conference has opened up the work in Utah and Arizona during the past year. In Utah a large number of books has been sold, and quite a number have embraced the truth by reading these books. A good work has also been started in Arizona. The work is moving forward in Montana, under the management of Elder J. W. Watt, but of that State I am unable to speak fully, not having visited the field since Elder Watt and Brother Williams entered it.

We have in this District twenty-seven ministers, nineteen licentiates, twenty-two Bible workers, and from thirty to fifty canvassers. Some seventeen large tents have been used in conducting series of gospel meetings, during the summer season. Some success has attended nearly all these tent efforts. There have been eight camp-meetings held in the District during 1890, and several other important general gatherings. These meetings were usually well attended, and were seasons of spiritual blessing to many. At the Milton (Upper Columbia Conference) camp-meeting, fifty-five persons were baptized. The most of these were hopefully converted at the meeting. Similar manifestations of God's saving grace were seen at most of the other camp-meetings. Only two ministers were ordained in the three Conferences during the year.

Something has been done, for which we feel grateful to God, but we are sensible that much more needs to be accomplished, and, by the grace of Christ, we hope to see each branch of the work greatly increased in the year to come.

REPORT OF W. W. PRESCOTT, EDUCATIONAL SECRETARY,

For the year 1890.

The past year has been one of progress in the educational work. A growing appreciation of this department has been manifested in the increased interest, and in broader plans for the future. At the time of the last report, plans had already been made looking to the establishment of another college at some central point between the Mississippi River and the Rocky Mountains. The committee appointed to locate this institution, after some weeks of careful deliberation, selected Lincoln, Neb., and designated the institution as Union College. A donation of real estate, from which upward of $75,000 may be realized, in addition to a campus of about twenty-two acres, was turned over to the Board of Managers by those interested in the location of the institution at this place. The work of erecting the buildings was commenced last spring, and at present two large structures are well along toward completion, and plans are being laid to begin the third as soon as the building season opens. This institution will be open for the reception of students in September, 1891, and it is expected that three departments will be carried on, in which the English, German, and Scandinavian languages will be used. The prospect is good for a large attendance at the opening. The Educational Secretary, as a member of the Locating Committee, and also of the Board of Managers, has given considerable time to this work.

In March, 1890, the Educational Secretary attended a council held at South Lancaster, Mass., in the interests of the Academy at that place. Suggestions were made at that time which have since been developed, and partially carried out; looking toward the payment of the debt of that institution, by disposing of such portion of its property as was not yielding an income to the Academy.

During March and April the Secretary made a trip to the Pacific Coast, including visits at the Conference school at Minneapolis, Minn., and Academies at Milton and East Portland, Or., Healdsburg (Cal.) College, the Church School at Oakland, and the camp-meeting at Fresno, Cal. The school at Minneapolis was just nearing its close after a prosperous year's work. The academies at Milton and East Portland were both closed for the year, before the arrival of the Secretary, but at each of these places public addresses were given upon the subject of education, and plans laid looking toward the further development of the work in that section. The advisability of uniting the educational interests in the Northwest in the support of one school, centrally located, was suggested at this time. This plan has since been acted upon, and the indications are very favorable that buildings will be erected for such an institution during the coming year.

No special plans were developed for the educational work in California, but some public addresses were given, and an acquaintance was made with the interests of the work, which will be favorable for suggestions in the future.

The first session of the English Bible School for Ministers, was held at Battle Creek, Mich., in the winter of 1889-90, the second being now in progress, the Educational Secretary acting as principal. The attendance at the first session was something less than fifty, and at the present session over one hundred are already enrolled. The results of this new line of educational work have been very gratifying, and it is hoped that plans will be made for rendering it a permanent feature.

The present condition of our educational institutions is quite encouraging. The attendance at the South Lancaster Academy is larger than for several years, and the need of greater facilities for carrying on the work there is already a pressing one. The Conference schools in Minnesota and Kansas are continued the present year under different managements, with a large attendance, doing preparatory work for Union College. The Academy at East Portland, Or., has been discontinued, and the property sold, as a part of the general plan to unite the educational interests in that section in one institution. The Academy at Milton, Or., has an increased number of students, some of whom are from the North Pacific Conference. The primary department in connection with Healdsburg College has been discontinued, which may decrease the enrollment somewhat, but the grade of work done is correspondingly higher. The work at Battle Creek College is much the same as last year. It was expected that the attendance would be somewhat unfavorably affected by the immediate prospect of opening Union College in the West, but the enrollment continues substantially the same as heretofore. The last graduating class numbered thirty, ten of whom were graduated from the Scientific Course. This is the largest class in the history of the institution. A very large portion of the number are the present year either directly connected with denominational work, or are engaged in special study as further preparation for the work.

The interest in the educational work in Texas seems to be increasing. A school of three grades (high, grammar, and primary) is maintained the present year, with an attendance of nearly 125 students. The prosperity of the work is such that the advisability of erecting some permanent buildings is already under consideration.

During the present year, several have entered higher institutions of learning, and are pursuing more extended courses of study, with a purpose of fitting themselves for more efficient work in teaching. This is regarded by the Secretary as a very encouraging feature in the educational work.

At a recent council at Atlanta, Ga., at which the general interests of the work for the Southern field were considered, an urgent request was made for a school to be opened in that section as soon as circumstances would permit — during the present year, if possible.

The value of these denominational schools has never been more clearly demonstrated than during the past year. In these days of growing disregard for sacred things, it is of the utmost importance that there should be facilities for the training of the youth, in which a well-rounded education may be obtained, and in which mental culture is not gained at the expense of religious life. It is hoped that the object for which these schools have been established will not be forgotten, and that the character of the results attained in them, may be such as to increase the confidence in their methods of education.

REPORT OF ELDER W. C. WHITE, FOREIGN MISSION SECRETARY.

During the past year, there has been a steady advancement in all the foreign Conferences and missions of the denomination. The latest statistical reports show that there are fifty-four who have been sent out from America, and 167 native laborers at work in these mission fields, under the general direction of the Board of Foreign Missions. About fifty of these laborers are supported wholly by funds raised in America. The 125 colporters receive but little assistance from the Board, being almost wholly sustained by the commission on books sold. The remaining forty-six are almost wholly supported by the contributions of the churches in the countries where they labor.

During the year a little schooner named "Pitcairn" has been built for missionary work among the islands of the Pacific. The "Pitcairn" was launched July 28, and sailed out through the Golden Gate on the afternoon of October 20, with orders to proceed direct to Pitcairn Island, whose inhabitants have so long waited for teachers she will bring to them.

The "Pitcairn" is 100 feet in length, 27 feet in breadth, 10 feet in depth, with a capacity of 120 tons. There are state-rooms for eighteen passengers, and accommodations in the fore-castle for twelve persons. On her first voyage, the "Pitcairn" sails with a crew of seven, and carries six missionaries. These, with the captain's wife and child, make fifteen souls on board. All letters intended for the missionaries or crew of the "Pitcairn," should be addressed to them, care of Pacific Press, Oakland, Cal., and they will be forwarded from there as opportunity offers.

GREAT BRITAIN.

The work in this field has made some progress during the past year. In this brief report, which treats of the work for the year ending June 30, 1890, we will not attempt to give a detailed account of the work performed, but will summarize, as briefly as possible, what has been accomplished in the various branches.

The Publishing Work.—Eleven months ago, August 1, 1889, the Pacific Press Publishing Company of Oakland, Cal., acting in harmony with the wishes of the General Conference, took upon itself the responsibility of the publishing work in this country. It established a branch office in the city of London, purchasing from the British Mission its stock of publications, type, machinery, etc., to the amount of $5,844, and taking the leased premises at 48 Paternoster Row, E. C., and 451 Holloway Road, N.

In December, 1889, C. H. Jones, president of the Company, visited London, when a steam power press was purchased, and placed in the office at Holloway Road. In May last, W. D. Salisbury, a practical printer from the house in California, became connected with the work here, taking charge of the printing department, the general supervision of the London branch being under the management of John I. Gibson. Our paper, the Present Truth, is now printed at this office, and we have facilities for printing tracts, pamphlets, and our smaller books. The book sales for the year just closed amount to $9,556.89 at wholesale rates, and the receipts on Present Truth and Good Health were respectively $1,471.32 and $929.21, making the total sales for the eleven months ending June 30, $11,957.42.

The Canvassing Work.—The efforts of Brother Wm. Arnold in the summer of 1888, having demonstrated that religious books could be sold in this country as well as elsewhere upon the subscription plan, led to the sending of a number of canvassers to this field. Six arrived in Liverpool October 14, and another young man arrived about ten days later. These, with the exception of one who returned to America in April, are still laboring here. About the middle of May, ten others came to engage in this work. Two of these, on account of their health, returned to America in July.

It is proper to add that these workers labored for a time under the embarrassment of being in a country with whose manners and customs they were unacquainted; and it is encouraging to note that notwithstanding this and other adverse circumstances, a fair degree of success is attending their work. During April, May, and June, Brother Wm. Arnold was very successful in London. A few young men of promise, residents of this country, are taking hold of the work, and will in time, we trust, become efficient laborers. The efforts of those individuals who have been successful, demonstrate that men and women of tact, energy, perseverance, and faith, can succeed in circulating our literature in this country. Beside the canvassers already mentioned, we have others who are doing excellent work in selling the Present Truth.

These canvassers have been located at Hull, Grimsby, Birmingham, Bath, Southampton, and London. The total amount of their sales for the eight months ending June 30, was $2,284.27.

The Ship Work.—This has been carried on chiefly at London and Liverpool. Tens of thousands of pages of literature upon the questions of health and temperance and practical godliness have been freely given to men willing to read. Much of this literature has been taken by captains and ship officers to be distributed by them at ports in India, Africa, China, Japan, and in fact, in all parts of the world. Beside this free distribution of tracts and periodicals, larger works have been sold to the amount of $1,412.30. There are many other ports where similar work could be done if men who are fitted for this work, would devote themselves to it.

The Bible Work.—The greater part of this work has been done in the city of London. At the beginning of the year, we had four lady workers of experience who were employing all their time in this way. At different intervals during the year, three others who had received a few months' instruction at our Bible Training Home, have engaged directly in the work. Late in December another efficient worker came from America, and in the spring of the present year still another, who began work early in May. Eight persons are engaged in this line of work at the present time.

A brief glance at the work performed shows 11,208 families visited, 2,002 Bible readings given in families, 11,603 pages of religious and temperance tracts distributed free, and 7,532 periodicals disposed of in the same manner, making an aggregate of literature given away equal to a half million pages. Publications were sold by these workers to the amount of $277.37.

The London City Mission.—This was opened in September, 1887, under the supervision of Elders S. N. Haskell and Wm. Ings. A suitable house, on Anson Road, Tufnell Park, was leased for a term of four years. Here the work has been carried on until the present time. As the result of the Bible work already mentioned, and other influences, a church has been raised up, which now has a membership of seventy, twenty-five of whom have been added during the past year; and there are about twenty others who have begun to obey the truth, the most of whom will presently unite with the church. Public meetings and Sabbath-school are held weekly in the Athenaeum, Camden Road, N. During the past year this church has given, on Christmas and first-day offerings, tithe, hall rent, and for the Missionary Ship, the sum of $1,483.49. It is obliged to pay a hall rental of $253.24 per year. A suitable building of which the church can have full control is much needed.

The Field In General.—Two of our young men have been holding a tent meeting during the summer in Ireland. Other brethren have labored among the small churches, and assisted in looking after the interests of the work in England. There are openings which we are unable to fill. Imploringly we look to the General Conference with the hope that it will furnish us with at least two able, experienced men to come and take up the work in this field. Publications are being scattered, the seed is being sown, and shall not the reapers be found to gather in the harvest?

In conclusion, we can say, Although the work in this field as yet is small, it is progressing. This is true financially. The Bible plan of voluntarily giving a tithe of one's income is being quite generally accepted. For the year closing June, 1888, receipts from this source amounted to $700; for the year ending 1889, $1,226.28; and for the year just closed, June 30, 1890, it amounted to $2,014.88.

CENTRAL EUROPE.

Since the decay of Persian culture and greatness, the continent of Europe has been the home of the ruling empires of earth, has reached the highest degree of perfection in civilization and art, science and culture, and has produced the largest number of great minds. Here the gospel has met its greatest triumphs and martyrdoms; here the leading links of the great prophetic chains have met their fulfillment; and to-day Europe stands first in universities and men of learning.

But the Christianity of the State churches of to-day has become formal, and the land is eaten through with infidelity; still, there are thousands of noble minds in all classes that sense the situation, but feel powerless to resist the increasing tide which must soon culminate in the long expected crisis. Europe to-day needs another reformation in religion, and the third angel's message, if heeded, would accomplish the needed reform. Men's hearts are literally failing them for fear; they feel sure that a crisis is imminent, and expect that the troublesome social questions can only be solved by a revolution; but what the results will be, no one ventures to predict. But when studied in the light of prophecy, the uncertainty of the future vanishes, and the clear lines of probabilities appear.

If we have a special message for the people, now is the time to proclaim it, but how few are our laborers! Estimated by its Christian population, the Central European is the largest Seventh-day Adventist Conference in the world, and the proportion of laborers the lowest. How much it needs more men and means to do its work!

The Sunday movement is coming to the front with rapid strides. The agitation thus far makes it plain that stricter Sunday laws are sure to come; so far, no special opposition to this movement has been manifested, and even the emperor of Germany and Bundesrath of Switzerland lend their influence in favor of such laws. To those knowing the sequel of this movement, it is almost startling to see this question so suddenly sprung, and so far advanced in so short a period. Our laborers, though few, have been active in pointing out the weakness of this movement. The following summaries will give an idea of what has been done in this field.

Russia.—The history of our work in this great empire, is brief, but interesting. The work was begun by publications sent from America by Germans who had migrated from Southern Russia. As early as 1882 the seed thus sown began to bear fruit, and some in the Crimea began to observe the Sabbath. These began to send publications to other parts of Russia, which, with those sent from America, carried the message to the Caucasus and to some Mennonite settlements north of the Crimea, and later on, to the West, along the borders of Poland.

In May, 1886, Conrad Laubhan, who received the message in Kansas, returned to his home on the Volga, near the borders of Asia, and began to labor, first for his friends and neighbors, and afterward for others, as he had opportunity.

In July, 1886, Elder L. R. Conradi visited Russia, and began his labors in the Crimea. After organizing one church, his labors were cut short by his arrest and imprisonment. After his release, he visited the brethren on the Volga, but dared not hold public meetings. Then Brother Laubhan was left alone with the work in this great field. Though hindered by feeble health, his labors have added many to the faith, and he has organized several churches.

After a stay of four months at the Hamburg Mission, Jacob Klein, who had come from America for the purpose, went to Russia and joined Brother Laubhan; not being able to obtain his passport till four months after his arrival, he was confined to his native village, and was unable to visit the companies along the Volga, as was first designed. He labored, however, where he was located, and soon raised a great interest. This aroused opposition, which, headed by the Lutheran pastor, nearly resulted in his banishment from the colony. He was saved from this by the town clerk, who was a relative. As he could not baptize in this place, he went to another colony, Norka, where we have a company, and immersed six. From this point, he set out to visit companies farther south on the Volga, but was soon arrested, and imprisoned seventeen days. He was released on bail, and has since labored some. At the same time, Brother Laubhan was threatened, and it was feared that both might be taken from the field. But hitherto the Lord has helped, and our trust for the future is in him. During the year Elder Laubhan visited the Caucasus and the Crimea. At Alexanderfeld a church organized last year with seventeen members now has thirty-five. As a result of four weeks' labor in the Crimea, thirty-five members were added to the first church organized in Russia. According to last reports before Elder Conradi's recent visit, there were two churches in the Crimea, and on the Volga ten Sabbath-schools and two churches, with fifty-seven members. The little company of eight Russians, in the Caucasus, has grown to fifty, and when they heard we were to issue some Russian publications, their joy was great, and they at once collected money to help along the work. There are a few other Russian Sabbath-keepers in other parts of the empire.

During his recent trip to Russia, which occupied the greater part of October and November, Elder Conradi visited the companies of Sabbath-keepers on the Volga and in the Crimea, and besides visiting the churches in the Caucasus and the company of Russian brethren, held a general meeting at Ergenhiem, where 120 were in attendance, including delegates from the churches on the Volga and in other parts.

At the close of his visit, Elder Conradi reported nine organized churches, with 425 members, also seventy-five Sabbath-keepers not united with the churches.

Germany. — Three lines of work have been carried forward in Germany during the past year; preaching, the sale of our books, and city mission work in Hamburg. Elder J. T. Boettcher has labored at Barmen, a city of 125,000 inhabitants, situated in the most densely populated and most strongly evangelical portion of Germany. During the first three months, he was assisted by Elder Erzenberger, but since, has labored alone. A moderate degree of interest was manifested, and a number embraced the truth. Our scattered brethren about Barmen and Elberfeld were strengthened and united, and immediately after the camp-meeting, Elders Conradi and Boettcher organized a church of fifteen members, eight of whom were new converts.

But the burden of our work in Germany has been the selling of our religious books. It is very evident that in Central Europe our work must be accomplished very largely by the circulation of reading-matter. The principal reason for this is the fact that our ministers are so few.

When at Wittenberg, the home of Luther, viewing a collection of all his printed works, I was surprised at the large number of small tracts. It was chiefly by the use of these that the principles of the great Reformer were made known. It was not the ninety-five theses nailed to the church door that aroused the world, but rather the many tracts containing the theses which were spread to the nations within four weeks from the time of their first publication. By this means, Luther spoke to the world, and by the same means, our message of warning must go to the hosts of Germany.

The canvassing work has a double advantage; it not only enables us to spread a knowledge of the truth much more extensively than we otherwise could, but it furnishes work to many who are thrown out of employment on receiving the truth. From twelve to fifteen colporters have been at work in Germany. The majority of them spent a portion of their time at Hamburg, canvassing the city while attending the school. Besides Hamburg, a number of large cities have been entered. Kiel and vicinity, the chief war harbor of Germany, and the seat of one of its principal universities, was canvassed with good success, by two of the workers. Another labored in Magdeburg, where Luther spent a portion of his youth, and in Halle, where a noted university is located. Here books were placed in the hands of eighty-five students. Two have labored in Frankfurt on the Main, the ancient imperial city, and one of the most influential in Germany to-day. While placing our publications here, Bible readings were held, and five signed the covenant, two of whom will attend the Hamburg school next term. Others have labored in Württemberg, Schleswig-holstein, and Rhenish Prussia. This work has resulted in placing 1,000 volumes of "Life of Christ," over 3,000 of "From Eden to Eden," 675 of "Great Controversy," Vol. IV., 10,140 pamphlets, many copies of the Herold der Wahrheit, and over 50,000 tracts in the hands of the people.

Hamburg Mission.—This mission was opened in May, 1889, by Elder Conradi, assisted by Brethren Boettcher and Klein, and Sister Hattie Ohm. Soon some of the German canvassers united with them. June 17, the school opened, with ten in attendance. Forenoons were devoted to instruction, and afternoons to canvassing, Bible readings, and ship mission work. Like most seaports, the city was found to be a hard place to work. The Baptists, whose publishing house and headquarters are here, never had the courage to canvass the city, always sending their workers to easier fields; but with the blessing of the Lord and hard work, our colporters had some success, and there has been steady progress to the present time.

No consecutive course of public lectures has been given by us in Hamburg, but from the first, meetings were held Sabbaths and Sundays in the mission rooms. Four months after the opening, Brother Klein proceeded to Russia, and Brother Boettcher to Barmen, thus leaving only one experienced worker at Hamburg, and as much of Elder Conradi's time has been taken up with literary work, instruction, and correspondence, he could devote very little attention to the Bible work or to preaching.

Nov. 9, 1889, the Hamburg church was organized with twenty-five members, fifteen of whom were new converts. Five of these have already entered the work with success. In February, 1890, the second school was opened, with twelve in attendance. Two besides Brother Conradi were engaged in teaching. Russia, Holland, Germany, and Switzerland were represented in the school. Again forenoons were devoted to study and instruction, and afternoons to canvassing and Bible work. April 7, this school closed. At this time, twelve more were baptized, and united with the church, making the membership thirty-six. From time to time, others have been added, bringing the membership of the Hamburg church up to forty-four.

The Hamburg City Mission has also accomplished something in sowing seeds of truth to the world. Hamburg is truly a polyglot city, as well as a great commercial port. Each year from forty to fifty thousand Germans, Russians, Hungarians, Bohemians, Poles, and Scandinavians pass through Hamburg on their way to various portions of the globe. Something has been done to supply these with reading-matter, but it is only a beginning of what we wish to do. Our Hamburg Book Depository, which supplies Germany, Holland, and Russia, sold $5,000 worth of books during the year.

Switzerland.—The chief ministerial work in this field has been performed by Elders Erzenberger, Vuilleumier, and Comte. Their time was mostly occupied in laboring with the churches and interested ones. The result has been to add a goodly number to the churches. Six colporters have labored here. Warnings in the papers and the influence of ministers have made it hard to sell our publications in French Switzerland. An effort has been made in both French and German districts with our smallest tracts, which has proved more successful than the sale of books. One agent sold as high as 1,200 eight-page tracts in a week. Our message is becoming pretty thoroughly known in Switzerland, and many acknowledge that it is truth. Many more additions to our numbers could be made were it not so difficult for the people to keep the Sabbath, and find employment.

The camp-meeting held near Basel was an important factor in our work. Very diligently we labored to secure permission to hold this meeting in Basel itself; but the best efforts failed. The authorities, though Protestant, are but little better than Catholics in tolerating sects. After failing in two Protestant villages, permission was obtained in a Catholic village. This naturally awakened much interest both among us and outsiders as to what the results would be. The outcome was a quiet and successful meeting for our own people, and an excellent impression on both the Catholic and Protestant communities surrounding. The latter regretted very much that they had lost the meeting by the refusal of their officials. But the best of all results was to fully settle the question among our people of the propriety of holding such meetings.

Our mission opened last year at Geneva has continued its work with some success. Perhaps no other city has endured such long-continued and bitter struggles for religious and civil liberty. But the noble spirit of the ancient Genevans has long been drowned by the increasing flood of worldliness. The heroic sons of Bonivard and Calvin are no more. But few reverence the Bible for which their ancestors fought and died. Still, by patient labor, a number of honest souls has been found. In April, seven were baptized, and since then others have been added. These have been instructed, and are about ready for church organization. A good feature of our work here is that several who have embraced the truth labor heart and soul to advance it.

Italy.—During the greater part of the year, we have kept one colporter, Brother J. Geymet, at work in Italy. He has labored in Turin, and in the Waldensian Valleys. We have one little church of nine members in these valleys.

France.—One minister, and two colporters have labored a portion of the year in France. Many tracts and pamphlets were sold by the colporters in the eastern provinces. Of late, evangelical societies have met with much encouragement in France, and there is reason to believe that the time is at hand for the preaching of the third angel's message in this great republic.

Algeria.—Elder J. D. Comte spent several months in Algeria. He labored with the church at Relizane, and held meetings in Thisy and other places. Having formerly been a colporter, he tried canvassing for a time, to test the character of the field. In this he discovered that 85 per cent of the people are unable to read, and therefore but little can be done with books. Like other colonies, Algeria has some from all nations, Germans, French, Italians, Spaniards, and Arabs, predominating.

Holland.— During the summer and autumn, Brother J. D. Grul, who has spent six months with Elder Conradi in Hamburg, has been laboring as a colporteur in Holland. There is a company of nine Sabbath-keepers at Groningen.

Austria.— In May, Brother Conradi made a journey through Bohemia, Austria, and Hungary to Transylvania, to visit Sabbath-keepers of whom we had no definite knowledge. A remnant only remains of a once numerous body who received light on the Sabbath question at the time of the Reformation. Long continued persecutions had worn them out. Valuable historical information was obtained from their literature, which is quite extensive. At the same time, some Baptists were visited, and since, two have begun the observance of the Sabbath, one of whom desires to prepare for the work.

Turkey.— The "sick man of the East" has occupied our attention more or less as a subject of prophecy, but his territory has never appeared an inviting field for our labors. Still a small beginning has been made. Brother Theodore Anthony, a Greek of Asia Minor, whose mother-tongue is Turkish, migrated to America, where he found present truth. Having a strong desire to carry it to his countrymen, he returned to Turkey nearly three years ago, stopping at Constantinople on his way. There, he first went to the Quaker church, where he improved every opportunity to speak of his faith; but he was soon told to cease, or he would be accused to the government. The next Sunday, he went to another Protestant church, where he was arrested by the Turkish police. The Quakers caused his arrest by reporting him to the government as a teacher of sedition, a very convenient way of refuting Bible arguments dangerous to their creed.

When brought into court, he was asked what he taught. He replied that he told the people that Christ would soon come a second time. The Turks themselves believe that when Mohammed comes, Christ will accompany him to judge the world. This doubtless led the court to deal more leniently with him. He was kept in prison seventeen days, and found it necessary to use all his money in bribes to secure his liberty.

As Brother Anthony thus suddenly lost all the money saved in America to enable him to teach the gospel to his townsmen, he was obliged to labor at his trade, shoemaking, to obtain a living. At this, he earns $2 per week, barely enough to furnish board and rent. Sabbaths and Sundays he devotes to advocating the truths he loves, and has succeeded in interesting several. Three have already begun to observe the Sabbath. One of these, a young man just graduated from an Eastern college, came to Basel to study the truths for these last days more fully, first to translate some of our publications into the Turkish and Armenian languages, and then to return to labor among his countrymen and fellow-students. His home is in Cilicia, but a short distance from ancient Tarsus, the home of St. Paul.

Basel Publishing House.— Thirty hands are employed in our mission printing office. Beside the regular journals, the following new works have been issued during the year: "Great Controversy," Vol. IV., French and German; "Sabbath Readings," French and German; a fine illustrated German Advent Keepsake, and twenty-four four-page tracts in Russian. The Sabbath History, German, upon which much labor and research has been bestowed, is now complete. Also considerable time has been devoted to the preparation of matter for the German Hymn Book and translation of "Patriarchs and Prophets" into the German. At present, steps are being taken to issue publications in the Spanish, Bohemian, Polish, Turkish, and Armenian languages. Sales from the office for the year have been as follows:—

At present, there are in the various fields seven ministers, two licentiates, six Bible workers, twenty colporters, and thirty-one engaged as editors, translators, printers, and clerks. As nearly as can be determined, there are now about 783 Sabbath-keepers in this Conference. These have given to the support of the work during the year $4,400.80.

SCANDINAVIA.

Denmark.—Since our mission opened in 1877, the work in this country has progressed steadily. During the past year we have had several colporters in the field, and they have met with fair success. Our publications are the means of bringing the precious light to many. The work of our colporters has largely been confined to Odense, a city of about 20,000. Lately six canvassers have entered Aarhus, and made a good beginning. This, next to Copenhagen, is the largest city in Denmark. The book sales for the year ending June 30, 1890, amounted to $1,273.11.

Our Bible workers have done good work, and the interest to hear has in some places been great. One sister has awakened the interest of hundreds, and quite a number have joined the church through her efforts.

A church was organized in Ejstrup Parish, Jutland, the 10th of May, and admitted to the Conference in June. This was the result of Bible readings held by one of our lady workers. Nearly all the churches have had some additions, and many calls are made for our ministers to come and preach. A regular camp-meeting was held May 29 to June 2, 1890, at Skovbakken, near Aalborg, a city of about 20,000. About one hundred brethren and sisters were present, and they received much of the blessing of the Lord. In the evenings and on Sunday the tent was filled with friends from the city, who seemed much interested. Thirteen persons were baptized during the meeting. Many had made a great sacrifice to attend the meeting, but they felt well paid for their sacrifice.

During the summer a tent meeting was held at Aalborg, and during the winter of 1890, lectures were given twice a week, in a large hall, by Elder Hansen. The attendance and interest were excellent.

We have in Denmark three ordained ministers, one licentiate, four Bible workers, seven colporters, eleven churches, with 333 members, and 127 that keep the Sabbath not belonging to the church. The tithe and donations amounted to $1,282.81.

Norway. — The work in this country is very encouraging, and has in a large measure been attended by the blessing of God. The people are more religiously inclined than in Denmark. Elder J. G. Matteson was very successful in arousing an interest when he commenced his labors in Christiania. His discourses on the prophecies and the second coming of Christ attracted general attention, and at times more than a thousand attended his meetings. June 10, 1879, the first church was organized with thirty-eight members. Soon after, other laborers joined him, and the truth was preached in other places, and churches were organized at Moss, Drammen, and Laurvig. The truth has been preached for several years in Nordland (the northern part of Norway), and there are now about one hundred Sabbath-keepers in this north land. At Melbo a church was organized with about forty members. Elder E. G. Olsen visited that part of the country this summer, and held a general meeting with large attendance and good interest. It was found necessary to build a house for worship, but although they thought one could be built for about $500, it is very difficult to raise even that amount.

The experience of Brother Henriksen, who for the last three years has been canvassing in Trondhjem, is remarkable. He began with the health journal, and then followed up his work with "Thoughts on Daniel and the Revelation" and other publications. He has sold hundreds of books and pamphlets, and is now holding public Bible readings. He has also conducted a canvassers' institute in the same place. Norway is a good canvassing field, and our books have been sold in a number of the largest cities. The sales for the year ending June 30, were $4,270.69.

Our camp-meeting held at Moss, in June, was a success, and brought rich blessings to this Conference. Since that time a tent-meeting has been held at Arendal, with splendid interest. Twenty persons have accepted the faith.

Our brethren in this country realize the necessity of educating the young, and we opened a school last fall with about fifty pupils. About half of them were children, and the others were young persons who desired to become workers in some branch of the cause. The school was a success, and brought many blessings and much encouragement to us all. Eight persons have entered the canvassing field, and one is teaching a small school in Denmark. The most of the others are attending school again.

The publishing house has done more work this year than in any previous year, and it was found necessary to buy a new press, which after due consideration, was purchased in July for $1,323.76. The work in the office is increasing, and it appears that we can get all the custom work that we are able to do. At the present time thirty persons are employed in the several branches of the publishing business. Many of these workers take a lively interest in the work of the tract society, and union prevails among them.

We have now in this Conference three ordained ministers, two licentiates, twenty-three colporters, four churches, with 245 members, and 109 Sabbath-keepers not belonging to the church. The tithe and donations during last year amounted to $1,271.34.

Sweden.—The Swedes are by nature hospitable, cordial, and confiding. In general they are a healthy and happy people. Education is widely diffused, and the commercial classes are enterprising and prosperous. Sweden is naturally one of the most promising missionary fields on the continent of Europe.

In 1593 the Lutheran faith was made the state religion, and so it is at the present time. But the cold and formal state church does not satisfy the progressive Swedes, who are naturally of a devout and religious turn of mind. Other denominations have consequently met with but little difficulty in winning proselytes. Great numbers of the more zealous and evangelical Lutherans are gathered in what are known as "mission-houses," which constitute a sort of organized body of dissenters within the national church. The Baptists are strong, particularly in Stockholm and farther north. They number over 30,000 zealous communicants, while the Methodist denomination has some over 13,000 members, and the Roman Catholic, less than 1,000.

It is scarcely more than ten years since the truths of the third angel's message began to be preached in Sweden. Before this time the Härold and a few Swedish tracts sent there by friends in America, were the only means for awakening an interest in the third angel's message; and some eagerly gathered around these silent messengers searching the Scriptures for more light. The first Seventh-day Adventist church was organized at Grythytted in August, 1880, and from this time on the work progressed so rapidly that two years later a Conference was organized. Now Sweden has, according to the statistics of the Conference year, ending June 30, 1890, fifteen churches, 398 members, and 110 scattered Sabbath-keepers. The tithes and donations last year amounted to $361.64. Besides this, donations were received from friends in America, to the amount of $608.03. At present two ordained ministers, four licentiates, three Bible workers, and twenty-three canvassers are actively engaged in the work. During the past year preachers have been laboring most of the time in Norrköping, Carlskrona, Gefle, Stockholm, and Örebro. The interest has been good, and the work is onward. Since the annual convention of the Conference at Örebro, June 19-26, a tent-meeting has been conducted at Carlstad. The interest was so great, that the tent at times was not large enough to accommodate all who came to hear. Some have decided to obey. Brother L. Johnson writes: "There is, perhaps, no country where the people are so ready to listen to the last message of mercy as in Sweden, and there are also many young persons that would gladly engage in the work, but for lack of means the work has been largely confined to canvassing. Calls for the living preacher are coming from all parts of the country."

The canvassing work is in a prosperous condition. During the past year the book sales amounted to $5,422. During April and May a canvassing school was held at Stockholm. It was attended by about twenty young persons, nearly all of whom are now engaged in canvassing. Over half of the canvassers in Sweden are ladies. The principal works now circulated are "Thoughts," "Prophecies of Jesus," "Life of Christ," and "Bible Readings," also the Härold, the health journal, and a Sabbath-school paper.

The tract society embraces all Scandinavia, and had at the annual meeting in June, 379 members, who circulated tracts and papers to the amount of $319.30. The Sabbath-school Association also embraces the three countries, and has a membership of 837. The donations during the year amounted to $229.75. The Sabbath-schools have proved to be a great blessing to our people in Sweden.

SOUTH AFRICA.

Although our laborers in South Africa have been few in number, and during a greater part of the year widely separated in their labors, yet we find that a large degree of prosperity has attended the work.

The Diamond Fields. — Elder C. L. Boyd has labored during a greater part of the year in the vicinity of Kimberley, and was assisted during August and September, 1889, by Brother Fletcher Tarr. Thousands from England, America, and other parts of the world come to the Diamond Fields, and pass through this district to the Gold Fields of Johannesburg in the Transvaal, seeking a fortune. The majority of these are young men, who cast aside the restraints of early religious training, while in this new country, and who are deplorably in need of evangelistic effort.

Located at Beaconsfield, near Kimberley, Elder Boyd has been able to co-operate with our colporters, who have sold hundreds of our larger religious books to these adventurers. He also labored much from house to house, in Beaconsfield, where we have a church of forty-five members. During the year a commodious chapel has been erected by this church, which was dedicated during the general meeting.

A general meeting was held in Kimberley, May 9-19, 1890, attended by delegates from Cape Town and Eastern Province, and by all our people living near Kimberley. The occasion was one of great solemnity, and all present, both lay members and laborers, went forth from the meeting with renewed consecration and courage.

In June and July, Elder Boyd made an extended tour in the Transvaal, in company with Brother Peter Wessels. In this trip they visited several places, where two of our colporters had been selling large quantities of religious books, and held meetings as opportunity offered. They also visited several large missionary stations where the Kaffers were being educated and trained in the first principles of Christianity and civilization.

Cape Town. — During August and September of 1889, Elder Ira J. Hankins labored in the suburbs of Cape Town, with good results. His meetings were well attended, and eighteen joined the church.

August 9, A. Druillard and wife arrived from America, and soon took charge of the Book Depository, and the ship work in Cape Town. During the year Brother Druillard has sold over $750 worth of books on board the ships visiting this port, and has supplied both sailing vessels and passenger ships with religious tracts and papers, to be distributed among passengers and sailors.

The work of Sister Druillard in the Book Depository has been twofold. First, to supply the colporters with publications, and secondly, to send out periodicals to addresses furnished by the colporters, and to correspond with all thus supplied. There seems to be an especial demand for this line of work in South Africa. In parts of the country the farms are so far apart that the people, for months at a time, will scarcely see any one but those of their own family, much less a minister. It is difficult for the colporter to reach them all, and these isolated ones appreciate the kindness shown in sending them reading-matter, and in many instances are greatly benefited by it.

The Eastern Province. — In October, 1889, Elder Hankins and Brother F. Tarr began work near Grahamstown. At Rokeby Park they found a people willing to hear, anxious for light, and with courage to walk in the light. Thirty joined the church. Meetings were also held in Cathcart and Clumber.

Elder S. N. Haskell visited the mission in August, 1889, and spent five months laboring with the churches and visiting various points in South Africa, to become familiar with the field and the different lines of missionary work required. Immediately after his arrival, a convention was held for the colporters, who had become much discouraged in their work. Five decided to begin work again, and have been generally successful in their work.

After this, Elder Haskell visited the Diamond Fields, the Eastern Province, and Natal, and sailed from Port Durban, Jan. 12, 1890, for Calcutta, India. About the first of September he was joined by Percy T. Magan, who accompanied him as secretary to India, China, Japan, and Australia.

REPORT OF BUILDING COMMITTEE FOR MISSIONARY SHIP.

To the General Conference Committee of the Seventh-day Adventists.

DEAR BRETHREN: Your committee appointed Nov. 9, 1889, to superintend the building of a ship suitable for missionary work among the islands of the Pacific Ocean, would respectfully submit the following report:—

Immediately after we were notified of our appointment, your committee commenced active operations. We were informed that only $12,000 had been set apart for building the vessel, and any one at all acquainted with ship-building knows that this amount will not build a very large craft. Therefore the first thing to be determined was the size of the vessel. After careful consideration, and consultation with leading brethren, it was thought best to build a sailing vessel of about one hundred tons' burden, government measurement, and that the matter of putting in steam or auxiliary power be left for after-consideration.

Ship-builders on both the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts were then visited, plans and specifications submitted, and estimates obtained. After comparing these estimates, and taking everything into consideration, it was decided to have the boat built on the Pacific Coast.

Considerable difficulty was experienced in obtaining a suitable model. Your committee was anxious to get a boat that would combine stability, speed, dryness, room for passengers, provisions, etc., and also one to which auxiliary power could be added, if desired. Several models were submitted and rejected, but one was finally presented which seemed to meet the requirements.

On April 22, 1890, a contract was signed by Capt. Matthew Turner, of San Francisco, for building the ship, so far as the hull, spars, and iron work were concerned.

Capt. Turner's ship-yard is located in the Strait of Carquinez, about thirty miles north of Oakland, Cal. Brother Tay was at the yards nearly every day. He saw every stick of timber that was put into the ship, and reports that Capt. Turner has done a thorough, substantial job, and has not slighted the work in any particular. Indeed, it appears that he has manifested a special interest in this enterprise, and has taken more than ordinary care to have everything just right. No money has been spent on useless ornamentation or fancy work, but great care has been taken to have everything substantial, compact, and convenient.

LAUNCH.

On Monday night, July 28, 1890, at ten o'clock, the vessel was launched. This time was chosen in order to take advantage of the high tide. Some fifteen or twenty of our brethren and sisters went up from Oakland to witness this event. It was a beautiful moonlight night, and everything seemed favorable. The workmen had raised the query whether this was to be a "dry" or "wet" launch; in other words, they wished to know if the usual custom of treating the crowd on wine and beer was to be carried out. Of course, we, being a temperate people, could not sanction anything of this kind, but instead of this, and in order that they might not be too greatly disappointed, we provided a nice eral thousand dollars' worth of books, which were taken on board. Liberal donations of grain, fruit, bedding, etc., were also received from different parts of the country.

CREW.

In addition to superintending the building of the ship, the committee was requested to select the crew to man it. Many applications were received, and after careful and prayerful consideration, the following-named persons were appointed to the positions designated: Captain, J. M. Marsh; Mate, J. Christian-son; Carpenter, J. I. Tay; Sailors, G. A. Anderson, Peter Hansen, C. Kahlstrom; Cook, Chas. Turner; Cabin Boy, Nicholas Garthofner.

The above-named persons are well qualified to take the positions assigned them. They are all Seventh-day Adventists, and among them the following languages are spoken: English, French, German, Scandinavian, and Spanish. When we take into consideration the fact that most of these islands are under the control of England, France, Germany, and Spain, we consider that we have been very fortunate in securing persons who can speak these languages, and who are also firm in the truth. Surely we can see the hand of the Lord in this.

DEDICATION.

The ship was dedicated at Oakland, Cal., Thursday, Sept. 25, 1890, at 2:30 P. M. Some twelve or fifteen hundred people assembled on deck and at the wharf where the vessel was anchored, to witness the exercises. The day was all that could have been desired, and everything passed off very pleasantly.

Our work as a committee is now done, and we deliver the vessel into your hands. In doing so we desire to express our gratitude to the General Conference Committee and to the Foreign Mission Board for their words of counsel and encouragement; to the Sabbath-school scholars throughout the world for their liberal donations, which made it possible for the committee to go on and complete the work; to all others who have made donations to the enterprise; and to our brethren and sisters generally for the interest they have taken in the work, and for their hearty co-operation; but especially do we wish to render praise and thanksgiving to God for the care that he has had over the work, and for raising up faithful men to take charge of the vessel.

And now in asking to be discharged, we pray that the blessing of God may be and abide with the ship, and bring her safely to her desired haven.

Yours respectfully,

C. H. JONES, }

REPORT OF C. ELDRIDGE, GENERAL CANVASSING AGENT.

The past year has fully demonstrated the fact that the canvassing work is steadily onward, and that it is making itself felt throughout the length and breadth of the land, in proportion as it increases in volume. The most important move that has been made in the interest of the canvassing work during the past year, was the calling of the canvassers' institute, which convened at Battle Creek, January 30, continuing to February 7. This convocation of District and State Agents was the first of its kind ever held in any country; it marks a new era in the canvassing work, and gives a new impetus to the promulgation of the truths of the third angel's message through the circulation of the printed page. The benefits which have been and are to be derived to the work from this concourse and council of District and State Agents, it would be difficult to compute. It can only be partially realized from the work which has been accomplished the past year in the field, the results of which will become more and more apparent year by year. The proceedings of this convention can be found in the Home Missionary Extra for February, 1890, and which all those interested in the canvassing work have no doubt read, or can read, with profit and pleasure.

The work that has been done by the District Agents attests the wisdom of their appointment. Their faithful and conscientious labors have borne much fruit, and are appreciated by canvassers and people. Great care has been taken to instruct the canvassers as to the best and most approved methods of approaching people and soliciting subscriptions, as well as concerning various other points so vital to success. To this end, canvassers' institutes have been held in the various States, with the most gratifying results. A large percentage of the canvassers entering the field during the past year have been able to support themselves well, and many have done better financially than they could have done elsewhere. Many students, during vacation, have by this means secured sufficient funds to defray their college expenses another year. The abundant and encouraging success of individual canvassers the past year has been largely attained by reason of the attention and encouragement that has been accorded them by their State and District Agents. The canvassers have received a fitting up and preparation for the work from these institutes that they could not have secured in any other way. As the success of the canvassing work depends upon the success of the individual canvasser, every effort put forth to educate him as to the best methods of work, tends to make him more efficient, and is, therefore, a progressive step in the right direction.

So important has the canvassing work come to be regarded, that a department of six pages of solid matter has been accorded it in the Home Missionary, in which to give plans for work, reports from the field, and a tabulated monthly report of orders taken and books sold by the various States, which has been a source of profit and encouragement to our canvassers in the field. So interesting and instructive has the Canvassers' Department become, that to drop it out would call forth a murmur of dissatisfaction from all parts of the great field. It has proved itself a necessity, and must be classed among the demonstrated successes of the year.

Arrangements have been made between the different States and the publishing houses to put our periodicals into the hands of the canvassers free, thus welding another link of sympathy and unity between them, while affording the canvasser an opportunity to keep pace with the message in all its various branches, and without drawing upon his earnings to accomplish that end. The canvassers receiving the benefits derived from this arrangement fully appreciate the favor, and freely acknowledge that it is another advance step to be placed to the credit of the year 1890. Fuller and more complete reports have been received from our workers than ever before. This is very gratifying to the readers of the Home Missionary, as well as to the canvassers, who see a full report of work done each month in their States; while on the other hand, the blank space of dotted lines set opposite those States which have for some reason failed to report, is a constant reminder of unfulfilled obligations, a monument of neglected duty. Some of these States have sent in reports, but in nearly every case they have arrived too late for insertion in the month to which they should have been accredited.

A glance at the tabulated report in the Home Missionary will give the work in each State as reported. As no such report had been compiled for the year 1889, it is impossible to submit a comparative statement as to States, but most of them have shown considerable increase in their book sales, and some that have done but little in the past have come to the front in a most remarkable manner. Michigan, which heretofore has not occupied a very prominent position in the canvassing field, has, during the past year, taken a position in the very front rank, and for two months has led the van, as will be seen by the report. Owing to the fact that her report did not get in on time, she has been assigned second place. This advance is owing to the increasing interest manifested by the Conference Committee in this line of work, who, in harmony with the State Agent, have planned and carried to a successful issue the largest canvassing institute ever held. All have been working in sympathy and unity of purpose. The State Agent visited the churches, recruiting workers for the institute drill, the Conference generously agreeing to pay their board while in attendance. The institute was held early in the spring, which enabled the canvassers to go directly from the institute to the field, and the profits accruing to the Tract Society from their work the first month more than made good the expense incurred in fitting up these workers for greater efficiency. While it is an easy matter to compute the financial gain, eternity alone will reveal the good attained, and the sheaves that will be gathered into the heavenly garner as a result.

Much progress has also been made in Canada. The General Agent appointed for the Maritime Provinces has done good and efficient work, contributing much toward establishing the work there on a firm and systematic basis.

Canvassers working in Manitoba have been granted a good measure of success. Many books have been placed in the hands of the people of British Columbia. Thus, from the Atlantic to the Pacific may be heard the steady tramp of the canvasser in the British possessions. The work in the South is encouraging. The establishment of a branch office of the Review and Herald in Atlanta, Ga., has contributed much to the success and standing of the work in that field. A recent order from there called for a car load of books to supply the Southern canvassers. Although it had been predicted that the time would come when books would be sent out by the car load, this order came rather sooner than was expected. This, however, may be looked upon as the beginning of such orders. The Pacific Coast is also keeping well abreast of the times, and taking advance steps in the canvassing line; they report progress. The Scandinavian work is also making great strides, a wide-awake General Agent has been appointed to organize it, and look after the work among that thrifty people, and is bringing about a condition of things which is only attainable by system and perseverance. The German work is also progressive, and another year will no doubt disclose the results of this year's efforts. While the French work has not met with that degree of success that was hoped for and expected, those who were engaged in it have worked according to their best judgment, and if on account of varied hinderances which have seemed to conspire against them, they have failed to succeed, they have nevertheless gained some valuable experience, which will doubtless serve them well in future efforts, and lead to success. The French field in America is a hard one, and requires wisdom, patience, and perseverance to overcome the difficulties in the way. They can and must be overcome, however, for in this work there is no such word as "fail."

The canvassers sent to England are doing fairly well, and a more confident feeling exists among them than at first. They are beginning to adapt themselves to the situation, and are rewarded with success. Thus it is demonstrated that the plan of sending out pioneer canvassers is both feasible and practicable. The work in Central Europe and Scandinavia is onward, and has more than held its own in a general way; while in some localities it has made great advancement, notably so in Germany and Russia, where the work is increasing. South Africa has made much improvement in organizing its faithful canvassers, who have been laboring at a great disadvantage, owing to the peculiarities incident to the field; but in spite of which they are doing a noble work in the dissemination of truth.

The work in Australia and New Zealand is well organized, and the reports in the Home Missionary would indicate progressive work there. The work as a whole shows a steady advancement. There has been a large increase in book sales and the number of canvassers employed, while the increasing success of the individual canvasser assures the permanency of this branch of the work.

INTERNATIONAL TRACT SOCIETY.

ANNUAL REPORT.

L. C. Chadwick, President.

THE International Tract and Missionary Society is an organization well known to most of those who will read this book, hence I shall only refer in this article to its work for the past year, and that briefly.

Statistical Report.

On pages 106 and 107 will be found a statistical report of the literature that has been sent from the offices of the Society for the year ending June 30, 1890. A careful study of this report will convey to the minds of all who are at all familiar with that class of work the fact that a large amount of labor has been necessary to accomplish what the report shows has been done.

Change of Workers.

There have been many changes in the working forces of the Society during the year. The failing health of Mrs. F. H. Sisley and the death of Sister M. L. Huntley, made it necessary to secure other workers to fill their places, and now there is only one among our force of office help who was engaged in this work at the beginning of the year, July 1, 1889, and it has also been necessary to supply much additional help.

Increase of the Work.

At the beginning of the year, two or three persons were doing the office work of the International Tract Society, while now seven put in their entire time, and two others about half their time. At the beginning of the year, the Society occupied one small room, while now they have one large and one small room for use at the main office and a pleasant room in the Mission building in Chicago, for the Chicago office.

Division of the Work.

After the last annual meeting of the Society, the Executive Board voted to open a branch office in Chicago, which was done about Dec. 1, 1889. A careful division of the territory, both home and foreign, was made, and a thorough organization of the office work effected. The work at the main office was divided into departments, and each department placed in charge of an assistant secretary, who has special charge of it, all under the general supervision of the President.

Library.

[A valuable library of books has been placed in the main office, and a smaller one at the Chicago office. The various publishing houses liberally donated samples of their publications, and other works have been purchased, treating principally upon missionary work, lives of missionaries, etc. A regular course of study has been adopted and continued for several months by all those connected with our offices, which has enabled them to become much more familiar with the fields in which their correspondence is being conducted, and thus better able to do their work intelligently and efficiently.]

The Home Missionary.

By a vote of the Society at its last annual session, the Executive Board was authorized to enlarge the Home Missionary to sixteen pages; but in preparing the matter for the January number, 1890, this space was found to be too small, and that number was increased to twenty pages; and commencing with the February number, the paper has been issued as a twenty-four-page monthly, at twenty-five cents per year, with Extras issued at different times to meet special demands. It will be continued during 1891 the same size and at the same price.

It may be well to state briefly in this connection the object of this paper. It has a field of usefulness distinctly its own. It provides an article each month for the fourth, or missionary Sabbath, meetings, and short editorials and contributed articles for general reading upon the different lines and methods of missionary work. It contains four departments, which are edited by four different persons, each department furnishing matter for study at the weekly missionary meeting, each month, which is devoted to the consideration of that particular subject. If these departments are not simply read, but carefully studied each month, they will be worth to each individual many times the price of the paper. Six pages in each issue are devoted to the interests of the canvassing work; and I may safely say that at least a portion of the success of the canvassing work the past year has been due to the instruction given and the encouraging influence that has gone out through the Home Missionary, to all parts of the world where the third angel's message is known.

The subscription list for 1890 reached about 6,200, and it does not seem unreasonable to suppose that during the year 1891 this paper will go to every Sabbath-keeping family in the world, and a subscription list of 10,000 be reached. The paper was published in Danish, Swedish, and German during 1890; but other plans have been made for providing the most important matter for these languages, and the foreign editions are now discontinued. The editors will try to continue the course already adopted of filling the entire space of the paper with interesting matter, and hope to profit by the past year's experience and improve the next volume.

New Scandinavian Papers.

Beginning with November, 1890, the International Tract Society commenced the publication of two new missionary papers at its Chicago office, one in the Danish-Norwegian and one in the Swedish language. Evangeliets Sendebud (Gospel Messenger) is the name of the Danish, and the Swedish is called Sions Vaktare (Zion's Watchman). These papers are intended for pioneer missionary work, and are each in the hands of a competent editorial committee. They are twenty-four-page monthlies, at seventy-five cents per year. It is hoped that the favorable reception with which the first numbers have been received, is but an indication that they will have an extended circulation. Our Scandinavian Secretary, Miss Tena Jensen, has been located at our Chicago office, and has charge of the lists and business of these new papers.

Other New Publications.

Steps have been taken to carry out instructions given at the last annual meeting, and new tracts are in process of preparation, both in foreign languages and on practical subjects in the English language. It is to be hoped that another year will see much more accomplished in this direction.

Our General Work.

Our general work consists in sending publications to those fields where there are no State or other tract societies organized, and conducting a missionary correspondence with those who become interested in the truth of God. As yet we have been able to do but comparatively little in a very small portion of the field, for three reasons, (1) lack of publications in many languages; (2) lack of means to prepare publications; (3) lack of help to do the work. We could easily secure and train the necessary help, and secure the preparation of the publications, if we only had the means. We sincerely hope that with all the other avenues for the use of means, our friends will remember the great field in which we are trying to work, and turn a liberal share of their generosity in our direction.

Source of Income.

The International Tract Society depends entirely on the liberality of its friends for its income, except its receipts from membership fees. Its business brings it no income, as its work is all gratuitous. Thousands of dollars' worth of publications are sent out free every year, going to almost every part of the world. Our sales are very limited indeed, and the profits so small that they are insufficient to pay the expense of keeping the necessary accounts of our office. Donations of money and publications are always thankfully received.

Ship Missionary Work.

In addition to our general work, we are supplying large quantities of publications to some of the most important harbors of the world, where they are placed on board the out-bound vessels and in the hands of in-coming passengers by our faithful ship missionaries. Among the most important of these ship missions I will mention those of New York City; Philadelphia, Pa.; Baltimore Md.; and San Francisco, Cal., in the United States; Liverpool, England; Hamburg, Germany; and Hong Kong, China. The judgment alone will reveal all the results of this work. We have seen enough, however, to encourage us to continue it as extensively as our means will permit us to do.

The Future.

In entering upon the year 1891, we can see a wide field of usefulness open before the International Tract Society. Its annual session will be held in March, at which time a more detailed report will be presented, and important plans laid for future work. It seems very appropriate that the International Tract Society should become the publisher of at least all the small publications that may be issued in different languages, and have them issued by the various publishing houses of the denomination in different parts of the world to meet the necessities of the work. This and many other important questions will be carefully considered.

Training Workers.

It also seems very appropriate that the offices of the International Tract Society should be so arranged as to provide a place for instructing and training young persons for secretaries in the various State and Foreign Societies. Something has been done in this line during the past year, and much good may be accomplished by a continuance of this plan on an enlarged basis.

Proceedings of the Executive Board.

Several meetings of the Executive Board have been held during the year, and the following are a few extracts from the minutes of their proceedings, which may be of general interest.

I wish to commend this brief report of the year's work of the International Tract Society to the careful study of the reader, hoping that it may tend to increase an interest in our work and a better understanding of our mission.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE EXECUTIVE BOARD.

Several meetings were held from Nov. 7-13, 1889, at which all members were present but Elder Haskell. From the record of these we quote the following: —

1. It was voted, That L. C. Chadwick, W. C. White, L. R. Conradi, D. A. Robinson, and Wm. Saunders, constitute a Publishing Committee.

2. Voted, That L. C. Chadwick, T. A. Kilgore, and C. Eldridge constitute a committee on supplying ships with publications during the year, and that the expenditure for this purpose shall not exceed $2,000.

3. Voted, That L. C. Chadwick, D. T. Jones, and Mrs. F. H. Sisley constitute a committee for the free distribution of reading-matter to schools and libraries in America. It was suggested, but not voted, that the amount of such free distribution should not exceed $100 per quarter.

4. Voted, That D. T. Jones, D. A. Robinson, and W. C. White be a committee to suggest plans relative to encouraging the organization of foreign missionary societies, and creating suitable foreign missionary libraries.

5. Voted, That the work of supplying publications to those who are interested to receive them, as the result of foreign correspondence, be pushed forward as rapidly as the secretaries deem it advisable, the amount of the same not to exceed $500 per quarter.

At a special meeting of the Board, held at Blockville, N. Y., Dec. 2, 1889, there were present Chadwick, Olsen, White, D. A. Robinson, and A. T. Robinson.

6. It was voted, That we request Brethren D. A. Robinson and Wm. Saunders to look up facilities for the translation and type-setting of tracts in the Polish, Finnish, Armenian, Spanish, Portuguese, and Chinese languages, and report in detail soon.

7. Voted, That the translation and type-setting of tracts in the Russian and Bohemian languages be referred to the Central European Publication Committee.

8. Voted, That D. A. Robinson, W. A. Spicer, and F. Hope be a committee to prepare manuscripts for those to be translated in London.

At a meeting held January 7, it was voted to furnish $500 worth of publications to be used in the present campaign in the District of Columbia by the persons sent there by the National Religious Liberty Association.

Several meetings were held in July, 1890, in connection with the meetings of the General Conference Committee. All members of the General Conference Committee were invited to participate in the deliberations of the Board. At one of these meetings the President presented a report showing —

First, The financial standing of the Society in comparison with that of last year. A trial balance sheet and report showing the financial standing of the Society July 1, 1890. This report shows the present worth of the Society to be $3,468.68, with a net loss for the year of $4,715.73. This loss represents the value of gratuitous work done by the Society over and above the donations it has received. The trial balance shows bills receivable, $1,288.46, and bills payable, $2,233.59.

Second, Report of donations given during the year, $1,216.39.

Third, Report of work done by the International Tract Society at its main office since January 1.

Fourth, Report of work done by the International Tract Society at the Chicago office.

Fifth, Report of time each individual has spent in the main office since January 12.

The report was adopted.

The following Committee was appointed on preparing literature for the blind: D. T. Jones, W. C. White, L. C. Chadwick.

The Committee on Finance, L. C. Chadwick, W. C. White, A. T. Robinson, E. W. Farnsworth, and R. A. Underwood, gave the following report:—

Whereas, A fund is being raised for the circulation of Religious Liberty literature for the South and West; and,—

Whereas, The International Tract Society has been chosen to do the work of distributing this literature, and has already expended over $2,000 in this work; therefore,—

1. Resolved, That we request the General Conference Committee to place what has been received on the $5,000 fund called for in the Review, in the hand of the Society, and instruct their Treasurer to turn over to the Society monthly whatever may be received on this fund in the future.

2. Resolved, That we recommend such lines of work as have already been entered upon at both the Battle Creek and Chicago offices, to be carried forward in a judicious and economical manner until the next annual session of the Society, and that only such aggressive work be entered upon as seems to be actually necessary.

Moved and seconded that the report be adopted. Carried.

INTERNATIONAL SABBATH-SCHOOL ASSOCIATION.

REPORT FOR 1889-90.

THE last annual session of this Association was held in connection with the General Conference at Battle Creek, Mich., Oct. 19 to Nov. 1, 1889. Of the thirty-two State Associations, all were represented either by delegates or by letter. A full report of the business transacted, resolutions adopted, etc., appeared in the last Year Book. The following is a brief report of the workings of the Association for 1889-90:—

SESSIONS OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

Several important sessions of the Executive Committee have been held since the last annual meeting, and broader plans laid for carrying forward the work. We will briefly notice some of these.

Divisions of Territory.

In view of the fact that the work is rapidly increasing, and in order to give closer attention to all parts of the field, the territory covered by the Association in this country has been divided into six districts, as follows:—

District No. 1, Embracing the Conferences of Maine, Vermont, New England, New York, Atlantic, Pennsylvania, the two Virginias, the Provinces of Quebec, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, and Prince Edward Island.

District No. 2, The States of Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi, Louisiana, Florida, Alabama, Georgia, and the Carolinas.

District No. 3, The States of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, and the Province of Ontario.

District No. 4, The States of Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska, the Dakotas, with Manitoba, and the British possessions lying north of these States.

District No. 5, The Conferences of Missouri, Kansas, Colorado, Texas, Arkansas, and the Indian Territory.

District No. 6, The Conferences of Upper Columbia, North Pacific, California, the State of Montana, and that part of the British possessions lying north of this division.

This division of territory is the same as that adopted by the General Conference.

District Superintendents.

District superintendents were appointed to take a general oversight of the work in these districts, as follows:—

DISTRICT NO. 1, ATLANTIC. — Superintendent, A. E. Place; Assistant, O. O. Farnsworth.

DISTRICT NO. 2, SOUTHERN. — Superintendent, R. M. Kilgore.

DISTRICT NO. 3, LAKE. — Superintendent, A. O. Tait; Assistant, J. H. Durland.

DISTRICT NO. 4, NORTHWEST. — Superintendent, J. M. Willoughby.

DISTRICT No. 5, SOUTHWEST. — Superintendent, E. H. Gates; Assistant, L. J. Rousseau.

DISTRICT No. 6, PACIFIC COAST. — Superintendent, Roderick S. Owen; Assistant, W. W. Sharp.

In response to an appeal to the General Conference to assist in this work, the following communication, dated at Battle Creek, Jan. 16, 1890, was received: —

~~"At the late meeting of the General Conference Committee the following~~ action was taken in reference to District Sabbath-school superintendents for the six General Conference Districts into which the territory embraced in the United States and Canada is divided: —

"1. We Recommend, That each District Sabbath-school superintendent be authorized to spend four weeks each year in each Conference in his District, at the expense of the General Conference.

"2. That he be authorized to visit each Conference in his District, once a year, at the expense of the General Conference.

"3. That this work be done in harmony with the plans of the one having charge of the General Conference work in the District, so as to incur no unnecessary traveling expenses."

Reports of a most encouraging nature have been received from nearly all of the Districts, but we are sorry to learn that on account of sickness or important duties, some of the superintendents have not been able to give that attention to the work which they desired. Nevertheless the wisdom of the movement has already been demonstrated, and we trust that during the coming year much more will be accomplished.

The "Sabbath-school Worker."

In harmony with the vote of the Committee, on the first of January, 1890, this journal, which has been published as a quarterly, was changed to a sixteen-page monthly, and is still continued in this form. Price, fifty cents per year. The Executive Committee acts as publisher, and Mrs. C. H. Jones and Mrs. Jessie F. Waggoner were appointed editors. At a later meeting, Elder J. H. Durland was requested to take an active part in conducting this journal.

Manuals for Children's and Youths' Meetings.

Early in the season the International Association issued two little pamphlets, one containing lessons and suggestions for those conducting young people's meetings at camp-meetings, and the other containing lessons and suggestions for those conducting children's meetings. Both have been used at most of our camp-meetings this year with profit.

"Our Little Friend."

In response to the call of the Executive Committee, the Pacific Press Publishing Company has commenced the publication of a paper especially adapted to the little ones. This paper is a four-page weekly, and besides other interesting reading-matter, it contains Sabbath-school lessons on the Life of Christ for the primary division. The first number was issued in July. It supplies a long-felt want, and we are glad to know that it meets with a hearty reception.

Contributions to Missions.

The plan of donating a portion of the weekly class contributions to some missionary enterprise, has been taken hold of with much interest, and the result is very encouraging.

The International Association recommended, (1) That the class contributions for the last six months of 1889 be donated to the Hamburg City Mission; (2)

That the first six months of 1890 go towards the Missionary Ship; (3) That the last six months of 1890 go toward opening up the work in South America; (4) That the first six months of 1891 go toward the running expenses of the Missionary Ship.

It is gratifying to know that our Missionary Ship "Pitcairn," which recently started on its mission to the islands of the sea, was built with money contributed by our Sabbath-school scholars. The donations to missions for year ending June 30, 1890, amount to $15,801.69. This exceeds the amount donated the previous year by $4,820.95.

Sabbath-school Lessons.

The course for the senior division was marked out as follows: The first six months of 1890 to complete the study of the book of Hebrews, the last six months of 1890 the study of Old Testament history, the first quarter of 1891 the study of the book of James, the second quarter of 1891 the book of Philipians. Lessons on the Gospel of Luke are to be written to cover one year, to follow the lessons on Philipians.

Beginning with January, 1891, lessons will be prepared for the intermediate division on the same subject as the senior division, but adapted especially to the young.

New Association.

During the year one new association has been organized and received into the International Association. It was organized in Truro, Nova Scotia, January 26, and is known as the "Sabbath-school Association of the Maritime Provinces." H. W. Cottrell was elected President, and Mrs. D. A. Corkham, Secretary.

British Sabbath-school Association.

During the year, this Association has been re-organized, and is now doing very efficient work. The last reports show that several new schools have been organized, and that the membership and interest are increasing. Frank Hope was appointed President and District Superintendent, and Mrs. L. S. Hope, Secretary.

"Young People's Library."

This is the title of a monthly publication issued by the Pacific Press Publishing Company. It was started at the request of the International Association, and will, we believe, be found very useful in educating and training the young, and cultivating in them a taste for good wholesome reading. Each number will contain 160 pages, and the subjects will cover quite a wide range, including history, biography, travel, etc. The first number was issued in July, and is entitled, "Jottings from the Pacific—Fiji and Samoa."

Report of Recording Secretary.

The following table gives the name of each Association, the number of schools reported during the quarter ending June 30, 1890, with membership and number of classes, together with total contributions received, and amount donated to missions during the year ending June 30, 1890:—

Annual Meeting Postponed.

In view of the fact that the General Conference is not to hold another session until March, 1891, it has been thought best to postpone the annual meeting of this Association until that time.

INTERNATIONAL HEALTH AND TEMPERANCE ASSOCIATION.

THE health and temperance work has made some advancement during the year 1890 ; and though the advancement has not been very marked, it is encouraging, in that it shows an increasing interest in this branch of the work.

A number of persons of both sexes, have received a course of instruction at the Sanitarium, and have gone out to work exclusively in the interests of health and temperance. Several of these have been quite successful in creating an interest in this line of work, both among our own people and those not of our faith. The fact is being demonstrated that there are great possibilities for good in health and temperance work, and a large number of efficient persons are deciding to take up this work, and to prepare themselves thoroughly for it.

The New England and Atlantic Associations have united with their respective tract societies, thinking that they could best forward the interest of the health and temperance work in this way. They have not been visited by a health and temperance worker for some years, which perhaps explains this union.

An effort has been made to secure the appointment, in all the churches, of leaders for the monthly health and temperance missionary meetings. Where such leaders have been appointed, the plan is working well, and the meetings prove both interesting and instructive.

As educated workers enter the field and labor to instruct the people on this important subject, we see greater interest awakened, and more practical results, than have been seen in past years, when this work was dependent entirely on those who have had their time fully taken up with other things.

A State organization has been completed in West Virginia, and a trained worker has been laboring there during the past year. At the camp-meeting in that State this year, several lectures were given on health and temperance subjects, and those who patronized the boarding tent were served with hygienic meals.

An Association was also organized in the Tennessee River Conference. They had no special help in this line, and still reported a good interest in this branch of the work.

The Association in Arkansas was reorganized this year. A course of instruction was given by Elder Wakeham at their State camp-meeting, which was very much appreciated.

The remaining State Associations held their annual meetings in connection with the camp-meetings in their respective States, and an increasing interest in the health and temperance work is reported from nearly every State.

REPORT OF ELDER W. H. WAKEHAM, FIELD SECRETARY.

At the eleventh annual session of the International Health and Temperance Association, the following resolution was adopted : —

Whereas, It is needful, in order to secure greater efficiency in the furtherance of the cause of health and temperance, that some one person be designated to devote his special attention to this branch of the work ; therefore, —

Resolved, That we invite the General Conference Committee to co-operate with the Health and Temperance Association in appointing a Field Secretary, whose duty it shall be, by personal labor in the different States, and by correspondence with the State and Foreign Mission Health and Temperance Societies, to secure these ends.

In harmony with this request, at a subsequent joint meeting of the General Conference Committee and the International Health and Temperance Association, Elder W. H. Wakeham was appointed to fill the office of Field Secretary, as provided in Article III., Section I, of the Constitution.

Accordingly, during the summer of 1890, Elder Wakeham, in the interests of the health and temperance work, attended the annual camp-meetings in the following State Conferences: Iowa, Wisconsin, Dakota, Missouri, Arkansas, Texas, Colorado, and Nebraska, and also did some local work in Iowa, besides attending a fall camp-meeting in that State. At all these meetings a fair share of the time was devoted to health and temperance work, and a commendable zeal was manifested on the part of many, to make this branch of God's work a success. An increasing interest is everywhere seen in the health work, and we believe that all have a deeper appreciation of its importance. One of the most encouraging features is the almost universal desire for a better knowledge of health and temperance principles, and how to apply them in a practical way.

Health and Temperance Missionary Training School.

In the fall of 1889, the managers of the Sanitarium arranged for a brief course of training, designed to fit young men and women of ability and experience, to enter the field as lecturers, teachers, canvassers, etc. This school opened December 1, under the immediate supervision of Dr. J. H. Kellogg and Elder W. H. Wakeham. A course of instruction was given covering the principles of health and temperance reform in all its branches. The success which has attended the efforts put forth in the field by those who attended this school, has demonstrated the practical character of the work done there.

The Cooking School.

Realizing the necessity of properly regulating the diet in order to make health reform practical, considerable attention has been given in the training school, to healthful cookery. A number prepared themselves to teach in this line, and during the year about thirty cooking schools have been conducted, in which over fifteen hundred persons have received instruction in healthful cookery. The favor with which this instruction has been received, and the urgent calls for instructors from many quarters, is a source of gratification, as being indicative of a growing appreciation of this branch of the work.

TWENTY-FOURTH ANNUAL SESSION,

HELD AT BATTLE CREEK, MICH., DEC. 4, 1890.

PURSUANT to appointment, twenty-five stockholders, representing 364 shares, were present, and as this was not a majority of stock, the President declared the meeting without a quorum, whereupon the meeting adjourned sine die.

The financial report hereto appended will show that the past year has been a prosperous one for the institution, and more extensive improvements have been made than in any previous year. Among them is an addition on the north end of the main building, 47 by 60 feet, six stories above the basement. The entire first floor furnishes room for a magnificent suite of parlors. Boilers for heating and machinery are removed from the basement of the building to a commodious boiler house, some 400 feet distant, and two new boilers have been added. A greenhouse has been built, and a fifth story added to the old main building, together with many valuable and necessary betterments and improvements.

At the graduating exercises of the Medical Missionary class, Nov. 1, 1890, twenty-eight persons received diplomas. The junior and senior classes of this department are well filled. The Health and Temperance class is also well patronized. The charity work at the Hospital for the past year has been large and very satisfactory.

PACIFIC PRESS PUBLISHING COMPANY PROCEEDINGS.

ACCORDING to appointment, the fifteenth annual meeting of the stockholders of the Pacific Press Publishing Company was held at the office of the company, corner 12th and Castro streets, Oakland, Cal., Monday, April 28, 1890, at 9:30 A. M.

The President of the Association called the meeting to order, and after the opening services he appointed committees as follows: On Nominations, W. M. Healey, E. H. Gates, and N. C. McClure; on Resolutions, E. J. Waggoner, R. A. Underwood, and M. C. Wilcox.

The stockholders then present adjourned to meet at the church, corner of 12th and Brush streets, at 9:55 A. M. At the appointed hour the meeting was opened by devotional exercises, and the published call for the meeting was read.

On calling the roll there was found to be 1,304 shares represented by stockholders present in person, and 1,250 shares represented by proxy, making 2,554 shares represented, which was a majority of the entire stock of the company.

A few well-chosen remarks were made by the President, after which the minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

The business next in order, according to the By-Laws, was to ascertain whether the resolutions passed at the last meeting had been carried out.

Wm. Saunders, manager of the London branch, was called upon to speak in regard to the establishing of the branch office in that great city. He stated that this resolution had been carried out, and to him in a very satisfactory manner. The work there was now well in hand, and the office open for any business that might be intrusted to it.

The President then took up other resolutions, and told what had been done towards carrying them out.

An interesting letter from A. T. Jones, now stationed at New York, was read by M. C. Wilcox. He spoke more particularly in regard to the American Sentinel, and the advantage that had been gained by moving this paper to New York City, as had been recommended by the stockholders at the last annual meeting.

The financial reports of the main office, New York branch, and London branch, were then read, of which the following is a summary:—

E. J. Waggoner was called upon to read a letter from T. A. Kilgore, manager of the New York office, which gave many encouraging details of the work in that branch of the company's business.

The President mentioned the names of the persons who have been sent to New York from Oakland, and spoke highly of the workers there.

The Nominating Committee brought in a report recommending the following persons as a Board of Directors for the coming year : C. H. Jones, R. A. Underwood, M. J. Church, Wm. Saunders, S. C. Stickney, J. N. Loughborough, and E. A. Chapman.

Ballots were then cast, and these persons declared elected.

The Committee on Resolutions presented the following report : —

Whereas, The prosperity which has attended the work of the Pacific Press Publishing Association during the past year, and which has been especially manifested in the branch offices of New York and London, both of which have been rapidly outgrowing the dependent stage of young offices, the reports from the New York office for the last three months showing that it is now on a paying basis ; therefore, —

1. Resolved, That we recognize in this prosperity an additional reason for gratitude to God, whose favoring hand has been over this work from its beginning.

2. Resolved, That we regard the greatly increased circulation of the American Sentinel since its removal to New York, as an evidence that the move was in the direct order of Providence, and that we are more than ever assured of the wisdom of establishing a branch office in New York, which made such a move possible ; and further, —

3. Resolved, That we regard the money spent in establishing and carrying on the work in New York thus far, as a wise investment, and in no sense a loss to the institution.

Whereas, The success and extension of the canvassing work in Great Britain, and the increasing demand for publications in the British Colonies, call for an increase of publications, especially subscription books ; and, —

Whereas, Increase of publications calls for increase of capital stock, as the capital involved in any edition of a book or books cannot be immediately returned to the office of publication; therefore, —

4. Resolved, That we recommend that a fund of at least $10,000 be raised as soon as possible for a working capital in the London office.

Whereas, The Sentinel Library has been heartily approved by our missionary workers generally; and, —

Whereas, There is an increased demand for literature of this character, and especially for publications presenting the teachings of Christ on religious liberty, and the underlying principles of church and state; therefore, —

5. Resolved, That we recommend the continued publication of this library under efficient editorial management, which shall procure, select, and prepare such matter as shall meet the increasing demand.

Whereas, The Bible Student's Library has been favorably received by our tract societies and our brethren generally; and, —

Whereas, The future publications of this library will be largely new matter, and will call for special care in its selection and preparation; therefore, —

6. Resolved, That we approve of the publication of this library under competent editorial management.

Whereas, One of the objects of our publishing house is the education of competent and faithful workers; and, —

Whereas, It is frequently the case that those who enter the office as apprentices have not had the opportunity to obtain sufficient education in the common branches of study; and, —

Whereas, The Pacific Press Publishing Association, in order to meet this need, has inaugurated a number of evening classes in connection with the office, now under the management of the Oakland Seventh-day Adventist School Board; therefore, —

7. Resolved, That we recommend that the Pacific Press Publishing Association require its apprentices hereafter to take and carry on one or more of the studies taught in these classes, as far and as long as the managers may deem advisable, and that the Pacific Press so revise its system of apprenticeship as to enable apprentices to do this.

Whereas, There is a pressing demand for a paper which shall contain the lessons for the primary division of the Sabbath-school, and be devoted to the providing of religious and generally instructive reading especially adapted to young children; and, —

Whereas, The Executive Committee of the International Sabbath-school Association has requested the Pacific Press to publish such a paper; therefore, —

8. Resolved, That we ask the Board of Directors to take immediate steps for the publication of a children's weekly paper, beginning in July, provided such action meets the approval of the General Conference Committee.

9. Resolved, That in accord with the request that has come from the officers of the International Sabbath-school Association, and many other sources, we recommend that the Pacific Press begin in July the publication of a Youths' Library, to be devoted to history, biography, narrative, and missions, one number to be issued each month.

Whereas, The success which has attended those who have entered the British field as canvassers is a cause of gratitude; and, —

Whereas, It is evident that a great work is opening up before us in circulating the truth by this means, and the greatness of the field demands that more trained canvassers should immediately enter this extensive field; therefore, —

10. Resolved, That in harmony with the request of the Mission Board of Great Britain, made recently to the General Conference Committee, we request the General Canvassing Agent of the denomination to select proper persons to enter this field at the earliest date possible.

Whereas, There has for a long time been a demand for a paper to be used for general circulation by the missionary societies, which could be furnished at a cheaper rate than either the Review and Herald or the Signs of the Times; and,—

Whereas, The publishers of the Signs of the Times, which has always been a pioneer missionary journal, in their endeavor to meet this demand as far as possible, have furnished the paper to societies at a rate so low that its publication has involved continued loss; and,—

Whereas, Although great sacrifices have been made, it has been impossible to furnish the paper at a sufficiently low rate to enable the societies to handle it and meet their expenses, and they have therefore turned their attention almost exclusively to the American Sentinel as the paper for missionary circulation; and,—

Whereas, There is still, as there ever has been, a necessity for a paper which shall serve as a pioneer journal, containing live, general religious matter, setting forth Bible doctrines in a clear and pointed manner, thus doing a work which the Sentinel cannot and was not designed to do; therefore,—

11. Resolved, That we re-affirm our belief that the Signs of the Times was started in the order of divine Providence, and that it should by all means be continued; and that it may be put to the use for which it was designed, we recommend that, as soon as practicable, it be changed to an eight-page weekly, so that it can be furnished to single subscribers at one dollar, and in large clubs to societies at seventy-five cents a year, provided such change shall meet the approval of the officers of the General Conference.

Whereas, At the last session of the General Conference a series of resolutions was adopted (Year Book, pp. 54, 55) recommending the consolidation of the publishing interests of the denomination, the object of the movement being the unifying of the work, and the avoidance of all sectional feelings and personal interests, and a committee was elected to devise and execute plans to this end; therefore,—

12. Resolved, That we are glad that the subject is being seriously considered by our leading brethren, and that we will heartily co-operate in any movement that gives reasonable promise of inspiring greater confidence in the publishing work on the part of our people at large, by establishing that work on a better basis, and securing a more perfect union between the various branches thereof.

A report of legal advisers, employed by the Committee on Consolidation, presenting what was thought to be a possible scheme on which the offices could unite, was read by R. A. Underwood. Remarks were made by R. A. Underwood, C. H. Jones, and E. J. Waggoner.

The resolutions were all unanimously adopted.

On motion, S. C. Stickney, S. N. Curtiss, and L. A. Phippeny were appointed by the Chair as a committee to prepare a telegraphic cipher for the use of the Association and its correspondents.

ECHO PUBLISHING COMPANY, LIMITED.

THE second annual session of the shareholders of this company was convened in Federal Hall, North Fitzroy, Melbourne, Australia, Oct. 4, 1890.

The President, G. C. Tenney, called the meeting to order, and announced its object.

On request of the Chair, thirty shareholders reported by a show of hands. There were also present a number of friends of the cause from the various colonies.

The directors' report for the nine months last passed was read, after which the President submitted a condensed report of the half-yearly balance sheet, explaining the various items of which it was composed. The Company was shown to be financially sound, and making steady progress.

Elder S. N. Haskell, in referring to the working of the office, expressed himself as having the utmost confidence in all our institutions. They were so interwoven that to bankrupt one, meant to bankrupt the cause in general. He spoke very confidently of the office as a place of deposit.

On motion, the Chair appointed the following committees : On Nominations, M. C. Israel, J. H. Woods, A. Ballingall ; on Resolutions, A. G. Daniels, H. Scott, and W. Bell.

The second meeting was held October 15, at 2 : 30, P. M.

The Committee on Nominations presented the following names as directors for the coming year : G. C. Tenney, W. Bell, H. Muckersy, W. J. Prismall, A. Carter, N. D. Faulkhead, B. B. Belden. Mr. Carter desired to be relieved from his place on the Board, and to substitute for his name that of H. Scott.

The Chair stated that in harmony with Section 38 of the Articles of Association, the stockholders present would be entitled to one vote for each share of stock they held. Those holding proxies would be entitled to vote on the same basis.

While the votes were being counted, the Committee on Resolutions submitted the following : —

1. Resolved, That we hereby express our confidence in the management on this Company.

Whereas, The canvassing work has proved the most rapid and inexpensive way of getting the truth before the people ; and, —

Whereas, We have no fund provided to purchase stock to carry forward this important work ; therefore, —

2. Resolved, That a fund of £3,000 be raised by donations and loans to purchase stock ; and further, —

3. Resolved, That this fund be known as the Reserve Book Fund, and that it shall be kept in reserve for the subscription-book work.

Whereas, The tracts which we receive from America are not in all respects best adapted for use in the colonies ; and, —

Whereas, It would be advantageous in many respects to have our publications bear the imprint and address of the Australian publishing office ; therefore, —

4. Resolved, That this Company take steps as soon as possible to revise our principal tracts and pamphlets, that they may be more suitable for our colonial work.

Whereas, We have already reached a time when reading-matter on the subject of church and state should be placed in the hands of the people of these colonies; and, —

Whereas, We have no publications written from the standpoint of the colonies; therefore, —

5. Resolved, That this Company issue a book as soon as practicable, setting forth the true relation of the church to the state from the standpoint of English and colonial law.

Each resolution was freely and earnestly discussed. Many interesting and important thoughts relative to the future work of the company were presented.

The second resolution was warmly supported. It was thought that the time had arrived when the cause in the colonies should bear the burden of the subscription-book work, and leave the General Conference free to enter the new fields which are opening up. A special meeting was held in the evening to further discuss the resolution.

The report of the Committee was unanimously adopted.

The result of the ballot for Directors was then announced, which showed that the following-named persons were elected: G. C. Tenney, H. Muckersy, N. D. Faulkhead, W. J. Prismall, W. Bell, H. Scott, B. B. Belden.

THE SCANDINAVIAN PUBLISHING AND PRINTING ASSOCIATION.

THIS Association held its 18th annual session during the camp-meeting at Moss, Norway, June 16, 1890. There were present thirty-two stockholders, representing 586 shares.

The President stated that the Association had made great progress in all directions during the past year, and expressed his deep gratitude to God for the same; more books had been sold and more work had been accomplished than during any previous year, and a deeper religious feeling was manifested than ever before.

K. Sandberg, of Stockholm, called the attention of the meeting to the necessity of making some arrangement, so that we need not expend so much money in postage on our publications. He also spoke in reference to the canvassing work, and expressed the opinion that it would be best to do something to encourage the colporters, especially those who were just starting out in the work, and had got into straitened circumstances and become discouraged.

Brother J. M. Erickson, of Stockholm, raised the query, whether it would not be advantageous to open a branch publishing house in Stockholm, where our periodicals could be printed, and thus a saving could be made of a large amount yearly, that is now paid out for postage. Brother Sandberg made some remarks favoring the establishing of such an office.

The following resolutions were adopted :—

1. Resolved, That we express our deepest gratitude to God for his gracious guidance during the past year, and for the success with which he has crowned our efforts, and for the large amount of work received, and the confidence bestowed upon us from outside parties.

Whereas, Our Swedish brethren have expressed a wish to have a branch house established in Stockholm, where they could print our Swedish publications and thus avoid paying the excessive postage demanded on all foreign publications; be it therefore,—

2. Resolved, That this question be referred to the General Conference Committee, to be taken under consideration by them, and that our managing board act according to recommendations received.

3. Resolved, That we express our gratitude to God for the success with which the labor of our canvassers has been crowned in Scandinavia during the past year, as well as for the industry and interest shown by them in their work, and we pray that the Lord may bless in still greater measure in the coming year.

4. Resolved, That we call upon all our brethren and sisters to take stock in our publishing house in so far as it is possible for them to do so, and thereby help to bring the Association out of debt, and to extend its usefulness.

5. Resolved, That we hereby express our confidence in the managers of our printing house and our sincere gratitude for their efforts to advance its interests during the past year.

6. Resolved, That the Association grant 500 kroner to aid the canvassers in Sweden who have got into debt, the amount to be expended under the direction of the Conference Committee.

7. Resolved, That the last resolution be referred to the Board of Trustees, and that they take such action in regard to this as may seem to be for the best.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE. — L. Johnson, E. G. Olsen, R. Petersen, H. J. Hansen, P. Christensen, N. Clausen, J. Lorentz.

OFFICERS. — Pres., L. Johnson; Sec., N. Clausen.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

POSTAL GUIDE.

ALL mailable matter for transmission by the United States mails within the United States, is divided into four classes, under the following regulations:—

FIRST-CLASS MATTER.

This class includes letters, postal cards, and anything sealed or otherwise closed against inspection, or anything containing writing not allowed as an accompaniment to printed third-class matter.

SECOND-CLASS MATTER.

This class includes all newspapers, periodicals, or matter exclusively in print and regularly issued at stated intervals as frequently as four times a year, from a known office of publication or news agency, to actual subscribers or news agents, and transient newspapers and publications of this character mailed by persons other than publishers. Such publications must bear date of issue, and be numbered consecutively, be formed of printed paper sheets without board, cloth, leather, or other substantial binding; must be published for dissemination of information of public character, or devoted to literature, art, or a special industry, and have a legitimate list of subscribers.

THIRD-CLASS MATTER.

Mail matter of the third class includes printed books, pamphlets, engravings, circulars in print or by the hectograph, electric pen, or similar process, and other matter wholly in print, proof-sheets, corrected proof-sheets, and manuscript copy accompanying the same.

Manuscript, unaccompanied by proof-sheets, must pay letter rates.

Printed matter is defined by statute to be a reproduction upon paper by any process except that of handwriting of any words, letter, character, figures, or images, or any combination thereof, not having the character of actual personal correspondence.

A circular is defined as a printed letter which, according to internal evidence, is being sent in identical terms to several persons, and does not lose its characteristics as such by writing therein the date and name of address or of sender, or the correction of mere typographical errors. Section 864, paragraph 2, P. L. & R., edition 1887, is amended so as to read: "Matter prepared by the type-writer is inadmissible as third-class matter, and must be regarded as personal correspondence. Circulars and other matter printed in imitation of type-writing may, however, be admitted as third-class matter, when they are not in the nature of personal correspondence."

The limit of weight is four pounds, except single books in separate packages, on which the weight is not limited.

The name and address of the sender, preceded by the word "from," may be written upon the package, and a simple manuscript dedication may appear in a book or upon the article inclosed.

FOURTH-CLASS MATTER.

Fourth-class matter is all mailable matter not included in the three preceding classes, which is so prepared for mailing as to be easily withdrawn from the wrapper and examined. It embraces merchandise and samples of every description, and coin or specie.

Articles of this class that are liable to injure or deface the mails, such as glass, sugar, needles, nails, pens, etc., must be first wrapped in a bag, box, or open envelope, and then secured in another outside tube or box, made of metal or hard wood, without sharp corners or edges, and having a sliding clasp or screw lid, thus securing the articles in a double package. The public should bear in mind that the first object of the department is to transport the mails safely, and every other interest is made subordinate.

Such articles as poisons, explosives, or inflammable articles, live animals, insects, or substances exhaling a bad odor, will not be forwarded in any case.

The regulations respecting the mailing of liquids are as follows: Liquids, not ardent, vinous, spirituous, or malt, and not liable to explosion, spontaneous combustion, or ignition by shock or jar, and not inflammable (such as kerosene, naphtha, or turpentine), may be admitted to the mails for transportation within the United States. When contained in glass bottles or vials, such bottles or vials must be strong enough to stand the shock of handling in the mails, and must be inclosed in a wooden or papier-mache block or tube not less than three sixteenths of an inch thick in the thinnest part, strong enough to support the weight of mails piled in bags, and to resist rough handling; and there must be provided, between the bottle and its wooden case, a cushion of cork-crums, cotton, felt, asbestos, or some other absorbent, sufficient to protect the glass from shock in handling, the block or tube to be closed by a tightly-fitting screw lid of wood or metal, with a rubber or other pad so adjusted as to make the block or tube water-tight, and to prevent the leakage of the contents, in case of breaking of the glass. When inclosed in a tin cylinder, metal case, or tube, such cylinder, case, or tube should have a screw lid with a rubber or cork cushion inside in order to make the same water-tight, and should be securely fastened in a wooden or papier-mache block (open only at one end), and not less in thickness and strength than above prescribed. It would be well always to consult the postmaster in reference to the proposed mailing of liquids. The limit of admissible liquids and oils is four ounces, liquid measure.

LIMITATION OF WEIGHT OF PACKAGES.

No package weighing more than four pounds shall be received for forwarding by mail, except single books weighing in excess of that amount, books and documents published by order of Congress, official matter from departments of Government, or from the Smithsonian Institute.

Second-class matter mailed in packages at the pound rate is not subject to the four pounds limitation.

DOMESTIC RATES OF POSTAGE.

ON FIRST-CLASS MATTER.

Rates of letter postage to any part of the United States, two cents per ounce or fraction thereof.

Rates on local or drop letters at free-delivery offices, two cents per ounce or fraction thereof. At offices where there is no free delivery by carriers, one cent per ounce or fraction thereof.

Rates on postal cards, one cent. Nothing must be added or attached to a postal card, except that a printed address slip may be pasted on the address side. The addition of anything else subjects the card to letter postage. A card containing any offensive dun, or any scurrilous or indecent communication, will not be forwarded. Nothing but the address must be placed on the face, or stamped side.

Rates on specially delivered letters, ten cents on each letter in addition to the regular postage. This entitles the letter to immediate delivery by special messenger. Special delivery stamps are sold at post-offices, and must be affixed to such letters. An ordinary ten-cent stamp affixed to a letter will not entitle it to special delivery.

Prepayment by stamps invariably required. Postage on all letters should be fully prepaid, but if prepaid one full rate and no more, they will be forwarded, and the amount of deficient postage collected on delivery; if wholly unpaid, or prepaid with less than one full rate, and deposited at a post-office, the addressee will be notified to remit postage, and if he fails to do so, the letter will be sent to the Dead Letter Office. Such letters will, however, be returned to the sender if he is located at the place of mailing, and if his address is printed or written upon it.

Letter rates are charged on all productions by the typewriter or manifold process.

Letters (but no other class of mail matter) will be returned to the sender free, if a request to that effect is printed or written on the envelope. There is no limit of weight for first-class matter.

Prepaid letters will be re-forwarded from one post-office to another, upon the written request of the person addressed, without additional charge for postage. The direction on forwarded letters may be changed as many times as may be necessary to reach the person addressed.

ON SECOND-CLASS MATTER.

Rates of postage to publishers and news agents, one cent a pound or fractional part thereof, prepaid by special stamps. Publications designed primarily for advertising or free circulation, or not having a legitimate list of subscribers, are excluded from the pound rate, and pay third-class rates.

Publications sent to actual subscribers in the county where published, are free, unless mailed for local delivery at a letter-carrier office.

Rates of postage on transient newspapers, magazines, or periodicals, when sent by others than publishers or news agents, one cent for each four ounces or fraction thereof. It should be observed that the rate is one cent for each four ounces, not one cent for each paper. These rates do not apply for transient publications mailed for local delivery by carriers at a free-delivery office.

Sample copies (which must be exactly like regular edition) may be sent by publishers from the office of publication, at the pound rate, to persons not subscribers, for the purpose of inducing them to subscribe, or advertise, or become agents thereof. They are not entitled to free circulation in the county where issued, and must be mailed separately from editions that are. They must not be inclosed in the same package with copies intended for subscribers. They cannot be mailed by news agents at the pound rate.

News agents and newsboys are persons engaged in the business of selling second-class publications. A mere local or traveling agent for a publication is not a news agent. The news agent must file with the postmaster at his office of mailing, a statement showing the names of the periodicals which he mails, the post-office to which they are directed, the number of subscribers to each on his list, with dates to which their regular subscriptions extend.

Supplements and extra editions may, without extra postage, be folded within the regular issues of second-class publications; but they must in every case be issued with the publication, and contain matter omitted from the regular issue for want of space, time, or greater convenience. If mailed separately, they must be prepaid as third-class matter.

A mark, without words, may be used to call attention to a word or passage; or a typographical error may be corrected. The words marked copy may then be written on the publication.

ON THIRD-CLASS MATTER.

The rate on matter of this class is one cent for each two ounces or fraction thereof.

Third-class matter must admit of easy inspection, otherwise it will be charged letter rates on delivery. It must be fully prepaid, or it will not be forwarded. Its wrapper must bear no writing or printing except the name and address of the sender, and a return request.

ON FOURTH-CLASS MATTER.

Rate of postage, one cent for each ounce or fraction thereof (except seeds, roots, bulbs, cuttings, scions, and plants, the rate on which is one cent for each two ounces or fraction thereof). This matter must be fully prepaid, or it will not be forwarded.

The name and address of the sender, preceded by the word from, also the names and number (quantity) of the articles inclosed, may be written on the wrapper of fourth-class matter without additional postage. A request to the delivering postmaster may also be written, asking him to return the package if not delivered.

REGISTRATION.

All kinds of postal matter, except second-class matter, can be registered at the rate of ten cents for each package in addition to the regular rates of postage, to be fully prepaid by stamps. Each package must bear the name and address of the sender, and a receipt will be returned from the person to whom addressed.

The Post-Office Department or its revenue is not by law liable for the loss of any registered mail matter.

MONEY-ORDERS.

Domestic money-orders are issued by money-order post-offices for any amount up to $100, at the following rates:—

For sums not exceeding $5, five cents; for $5 to $10, eight cents; for $10 to $15, ten cents; for $15 to $30, fifteen cents; for $30 to $40, twenty cents; for $40 to $50, twenty-five cents; for $50 to $60, thirty cents; for $60 to $70, thirty-five cents; for $70 to $80, forty cents; for $80 to $100, forty-five cents.

When more than $100 is required, additional orders must be obtained, but not more than three orders will be issued in one day to the same payee, payable at the same office.

POSTAL NOTES.

These will be issued for sums less than $5, for a fee of three cents, and are payable to any person presenting them, either at the office designated on the note, or at the office of issue within three months of date of issue.

No duplicate can be secured in case of loss, as the note is made payable to bearer.

LETTER-SHEET ENVELOPES.

The Post-Office Department now issues a combined letter sheet and envelope of the denomination of two cents. The prices are as follows: one, three cents; two, five cents; five, twelve cents; ten, twenty-three cents; one hundred, $2.30; one thousand, $23.

STAMPED ENVELOPES.

Embossed, stamped envelopes and newspaper wrappers of several denominations, sizes, and colors are kept on sale at post-offices, singly or in quantities, at a small advance on the postage rate.

FREE DELIVERY.

The free delivery of mail matter at the residences of the people desiring it, is required by law in every city of 50,000 or more population, and may be established at every place containing not less than 20,000 inhabitants.

Postmasters are required to send free to the Librarian of Congress any book, map, chart, dramatic or musical composition, engraving, cut, print, or photograph, or negative thereof, or of a painting, drawing, chromo, statue, which the author, inventor, designer, or proprietor, or assignee deposits for mailing to such address.

All communications to Government officers, and to or from Members of Congress, are required to be prepaid by stamps.

GENERAL SUGGESTIONS TO THE PUBLIC.

(From the United States Official Postal Guide.)

Mail all letters, etc., as early as practicable, especially when sent in large numbers, as is frequently the case with newspapers and circulars. The trouble of the post-office is much diminished if letters, when mailed in large numbers, are tied in bundles, with the addresses all in one direction.

Make the address legible and complete, giving the name of the post-office, county, and State. The name of the street and number of the house should also be given on letters addressed to cities where letter-carriers are employed; while the letter will eventually reach its destination without a number, the omission is often a cause of hesitation and delay. In the case of letters for places in foreign countries, and especially in Canada, in which country there are many post-offices having the same name as post-offices in the United States and in England, the name of the country as well as the post-office should be given in full. Letters addressed, for instance, merely to "London," without adding "England," are frequently sent to London, Canada, and vice versa, thereby causing delay, and often serious loss. Letters addressed to Burlington, N. B. (Nova Scotia), often go to Burlington, New York, on account of the resemblance between S and Y when carelessly written. It would be better to write out names of States in full.

Avoid, as much as possible, using envelopes made of thin paper, especially where more than one sheet of paper, or any other article than paper, is inclosed. Being often handled, and even in the mail-bags subject to pressure, such envelopes not unfrequently split open, giving cause of complaint against officials who are entirely innocent in the matter.

Never send money or any other article of value through the mail, except by means of a money-order, or in a registered letter. Any person who sends money or jewelry in an unregistered letter not only runs the risk of losing his property, but exposes to temptation every one through whose hands his letter passes, and may be the means of ultimately bringing some clerk or letter-carrier to ruin.

See that every letter contains the full name and post-office address of the writer, with county and State, in order to secure the return of the letter, if the person to whom it is directed cannot be found. A much larger portion of the undelivered letters could be returned if the names and addresses of the senders were always fully and plainly written or printed inside or on the envelopes. Persons who have large correspondence find it most convenient to use "special request envelopes;" but those who mail only an occasional letter, can avoid much trouble by writing a request to "return if not delivered," etc., on the envelope.

When dropping a letter, newspaper, etc., into a street mailing box or the receptacle at a post-office, always see that the packet falls into the box, and does not stick in its passage; observe, also, particularly, whether the postage stamps remain securely in their places.

Postage stamps should be placed on the upper right-hand corner of the address side of all mail matter.

Postmasters are not obliged to accept in payment for postage stamps or stamped envelopes, wrappers, etc., any currency which may be so mutilated as to be uncurrent, or the genuineness of which cannot be clearly ascertained. They are not obliged to receive more than twenty-five cents in copper or nickel coins. They are not obliged to affix stamps to letters, nor are they obliged to make change, except as a matter of courtesy. They must not give credit for postage.

Letters cannot be carried out of the mail except in postage-stamped envelopes. Even if a person is not acting as a common carrier, there is no objection to his carrying a sealed letter, whether in a stamped envelope or not; but to continue the practice, or receive money for so doing, would subject the party to a penalty of one hundred and fifty dollars. Newspapers, magazines, and periodicals may be carried out of the mail for sale or distribution to subscribers, but if they are put into a post-office for delivery, the postage must be paid thereon.

It is forbidden by the regulations of the Post-Office Department for postmasters to give to any person information concerning the mail matter of another, or to disclose the name of a box-holder at a post-office.

Mail matter deposited in any receptacle erected by the Post-Office Department, such as street mailing-boxes for the reception of mail matter to be collected by letter-carriers, or boxes in railroad depots for the reception of matter to be collected by employees of the railway mail service, cannot be reclaimed by any one under any circumstances. If letters intended for city delivery are deposited in boxes in railroad depots, it is at the risk of the person doing so. Such mail cannot be reclaimed, except through the Dead Letter Office.

Letters addressed to persons temporarily sojourning in a city where the Free Delivery System is in operation, should be marked "Transient" or "General Delivery," if not addressed to a street and number, or some other designated place of delivery.

All matter concerning lotteries, gift concerts, or schemes devised to defraud the public, or for the purpose of obtaining money under false pretenses, is denied transmission in the United States mails.

A subscriber to a newspaper or periodical who changes his residence or post-office, should at once notify the publisher, and have the publication sent to his new address.

Population capable of bearing arms is estimated as follows : Germany, 11,700,000; France, 9,550,000; Russia (in Europe), 21,960,000; Austria, 9,800,000; Italy, 7,500,000; Great Britain, 11,000,000.

In all continental countries military service is compulsory on all able-bodied men; however, the length of service, as well as the age at which this is entered upon, vary in the different countries. In Germany, every male is liable for military service at the age of seventeen, and continues so till forty-five; at the end of five years, they, as graduated soldiers, are transferred to the first reserve, and later again to the second. All soldiers under the age of thirty-two constitute the great active war-army, while the older ones form the reserves from which to draw in emergency. In France, by a law which went into effect in 1873, every Frenchman at the age of twenty, who is capable of bearing arms, is made liable to twenty years' military service as follows: four in the standing army, five in the reserve of the standing army, five in the territorial and six in the reserve of the same. In Great Britain the term of service is twelve years.

THE SOLAR SYSTEM.

THE solar system consists of the sun, the primary planets, such as move directly around the sun, the secondary planets, moving around the primary planets, and an unknown number of comets. The earth has one secondary planet or satellite, Jupiter four, Saturn eight, Uranus six, and Neptune one. The orbits of the planets are elliptical. When they are in that part of their orbits nearest the sun, they are said to be in perihelion, and when most remote to be in aphelion. They are retained in their orbits by the opposing action of the centrifugal and centripetal forces. The following table gives the names and relative sizes of the larger planets:—

Besides these larger planets, that have long been known to the world, several smaller planets, also called asteroids, have been discovered, from time to time, within the last hundred years, until at the present time 236 are known. Their dimensions are much less than those of the other planets, the largest being about 230 miles in diameter, while many are less than fifty miles. They occupy a belt more than 300,000,000 miles in width, between the orbits of Mars and Jupiter.

The circumference of the sun is 2,764,600 miles, the diameter 882,000 miles, and its density, as compared with the earth (being 100) is 25. The diameter of the moon is 2,160 miles, its mean distance from the earth 237,519 miles, its magnitude 1-49th that of the earth, the period of its revolution 27 days, 43 minutes, 5 seconds.

The diameter of the earth at the equator is 7,925 miles; diameter at the poles, 7,899 miles; mean diameter, 7,916 miles. Circumference at the equator, 24,899 miles. The surface of the earth is 196,900,000 square miles, of which 142,400,000 are covered with water, 54,500,000, with land.

From the above it will be seen that while in 1880 only thirty-five cities had a population of 50,000 and over, there are now fifty-eight such cities in the United States; that the number of cities containing a population of 100,000 and upward, has increased from eighteen to twenty-eight; that while in 1880 only one city passed the million mark, there are in 1890 three cities of that magnitude in the United States. In 1880 the cities of 50,000 inhabitants and over, contained 14.47 per cent of the total population; in 1890 the cities of 50,000 and over contained 18.67 per cent of the population.

The Sanitarium Hospital.

THIS fine building, shown at the left in the engraving, is devoted to surgical cases. A large number of the most critical cases are treated here each year, with a degree of success which is unrivaled. The Hospital contains five endowed beds, in which worthy poor persons requiring surgical operations of a grave character, are received without charge for board or treatment. Provision is also made for receiving a considerable number of patients—thirty or forty—to whom no charge will be made for operations or medical services, a moderate price being asked for board and nursing, as is customary in all hospitals,—even in State institutions.

Those who wish to avail themselves of the advantages of this benevolent institution, should correspond with the surgeon in charge before coming, as the date and terms of admission must be arranged in advance.

THE SANITARIUM TRAINING SCHOOL FOR MEDICAL MISSIONARIES AND MISSIONARY NURSES.

FOR a number of years, the managers and faculty of the Sanitarium have conducted a Training School for Nurses, in which scores of young men and women have been trained for a most useful and honorable profession. The course of study and the requirements for admission, have recently been modified in such a way, that all who enter the school are expected to prepare themselves for medical missionary work at home and abroad. Those who take this course of training, insure to themselves an ample pecuniary support, and an opportunity for the greatest usefulness.

The Medical Missionary School, also carried on in connection with the Sanitarium, is under the immediate direction of the American Health and Temperance Association. The purpose of this school is to prepare young men and women for different lines of medical missionary work, exclusive of the work of the missionary nurse.

Young men and women who are properly prepared to undertake advanced courses of study, are encouraged and assisted to pursue a medical course, to prepare them for work in connection with health institutions in this country, to labor in the lecture field, or to take charge of medical missionary stations in the large cities of this country, or in foreign lands. Young men and women of good natural ability, good address, good education, and possessing good health, are wanted for these lines of work.

Those who are interested in the matter, should address either of the undersigned.
